

Trackmen Will Face Spartans; Nine to Meet Temple Today

Thinclads Undefeated In 2 Meets

By DICK McDOWELL

Undefeated in two outings, the Penn State track team makes its bid for number three at Beaver Field this afternoon against powerful Michigan State. The meet is scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. with the field events. Running events will start at 2 p.m.

The meet will mark the last home appearance for the Lions. They wind up their dual-meet schedule Friday against Manhattan.

Today's battle promises to be just as close, or closer than the two previous Beaver Field encounters—Navy and Pitt. The Spartans are rated with the best in the mid-west and will field an extremely strong running team. Good times are anticipated in all running events, particularly since two days of sunshine have hardened the track.

Here's the way the Lions line up in each event:

Lorch in Pole Vault

POLE VAULT—Dan Lorch, unbeaten in two previous meets, will be the Nittany number one entry. Lorch's best vault this spring was an even 13 feet. He reached that height in both meets.

SHOT PUT—Penn State record holder Rosey Grier and ever-threatening Chuck Blockson pack a powerful one-two wallop in this event.

JAVELIN—Grier again, along with sophomore newcomer Dan Hutchins, is Grier's main event two weeks in a row.

Two-Man Team

DISCUS—Grier and Blockson team up again in the discus. This event, however, is Blockson's top event. He set the new Penn State mark last week with a toss of 157' 10 1/4."

BROAD JUMP—Ron Johnson has been Chick Werner's main entry in this event. However, he hasn't been able to get past second place Dave Bronstein and Art Pollard, who tried it for the first time last week, will also be entered.

HIGH JUMP—Russ Snyder got a surprise first place tie last week with a 6'2" leap and will be Werner's top man tomorrow.

Pollard Proven Dash Man

100-YARD DASH—Pollard, a proven speedster, is in the Lions' number one slot in the century. He chopped .1 second off his previous best last week, bringing his time down to :9.7.

220-YARD DASH—Pollard will be Werner's choice entry in this one too. However, Bruce Austin and Skip Slocum will bear watching. The trio finished one-two-three last week.

440-YARD RUN—Ollie Sax, who set a new Penn State record two weeks ago, slipped back into second place last week. He'll be the top contender for honors in the quarter mile.

880-YARD RUN—Roy Brunjes, clocked at 1:54.6 against Navy two weeks ago, slipped last week but is a strong contender. Don Austin will also run.

120 AND 220-YARD HURDLES—Game Bill Youkers gave Pitt's Wally Monahan a tough battle last week. He'll be the Lions' lone entry in the hurdling events.

Moorhead Improving

MILE—Doug Moorhead is a two-time winner in the mile and has been improving steadily.

TWO MILE—Red Hollen and Ted Garrett will be the biggest threats for the Nittanians. Hollen has won the event two weeks in succession and Garrett could slip in.

MILE RELAY—Sax, Pollard, Bruce Austin and Dave Leathem pack tremendous potentiality in the relay. The quartet set a new Penn State record against Navy with a 3:17 clocking.

Williams Will Test Arm Today

BALTIMORE, May 14 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox, foundering in the American League's second division during a siege of weak hitting, may have their big gun back in action tomorrow.

Ted Williams is expected to be in the lineup for the first time since breaking a collarbone in spring training. If the weather is warm enough Manager Lou Boudreau plans to start Williams in leftfield and bat him in the cleanup spot.

Ted, who has a lifetime average of .348, says he's ready to go if the weather warms. Temperatures of 65-70 were forecast.

Still Feels Pain

Williams said he still feels a slight tinge of pain in his left shoulder, but that after 20 minutes or so of swinging a bat, the shoulder "gets lubricated" and the pain subsides.

And the big slugger looked healthy enough as he belted three batting practice pitches into the rightfield stands of Baltimore's Memorial Stadium, which Williams says is a "hitter's nightmare."

May Bench Maxwell

If Williams plays leftfield tomorrow, it means benching Charlie Maxwell, who banged three hits in five trips last night as the Red Sox belted Baltimore 9-1. It was a 11-hit attack by the Sox, one of their most powerful displays to date, and against another American League club which has had puny hitting.

Just before that game, Williams had viewed Memorial Stadium here for his first time and opined: "It's the worst park in the league for hitters. There'll be nothing but 2 to 1 scores."

He agreed with other sluggers that it will take a terrific belt or pinpoint pull hitting to get a home run.

Bedenkmen Will Seek 7th Victory

By HERM WEISKOPF

Nittany baseball Coach Joe Bedenk will send Keith Vesling to the mound today against Temple as the Lions go after their fourth straight win. Game time is 2:30 p.m. at Beaver Field.

The Lions, seeking their seventh win, have racked up consecutive victories over Bucknell and Rutgers last week at Beaver Field and again over Bucknell on Tuesday, this time at Lewisburg.

Vesling will be aiming for his third win in a row and his fourth of the campaign. The fastballing righthander has hurled 40 2/3 innings and is currently sporting an 0.49 earned run average.

Gerdes May Play

Bedenk said he planned to use the same lineup which has sparked the recent Nittany wins, but added he might use Merl Gerdes in the outfield.

Baseball teams from Temple and Penn State clashed for the first time in 1929. In the 17 games the two squads have played so far the Lions hold a 12-5 edge. Last season Penn State defeated the Owls 4-2 in the final game of the regular campaign.

Temple is currently one of the hottest outfits in the east. Ernie Casale's Owls had a five-game winning streak halted Wednesday by LaSalle 8-6. The Owls have a 6-7 mark, but have excellent pitching.

Lost One Hitter

Bill Schilling, Larry Grivna, Mike Fields, and John Lario are all good hurlers. Schilling has had rough luck so far this season. His toughest setback was a one-hitter to Gettysburg, 1-0. Grivna had a no-hitter going for 7 1/2 innings but lost it when he was slow in getting to first to take a throw from first baseman Dick Connolly who had fielded a dribbler down the line.

Two Nittany batters will put their hitting streaks on the line. First sacker Pat Kennedy has hit safely in the past five contests and the team's leading hitter, catcher George Ettenger, has picked up at least one hit in each of the eight games in which he

Stickmen to Face Swarthmore Zone

By EARL KOHNFELDER

Two All-Americans and a six-man zone defense could combine to cause coach Nick Thiel and his Nittany lacrosse men no end of trouble today when Swarthmore's stickmen invade Beaver Field for the 4 p.m. encounter.

This marks the first time the Lions have come up against such a defensive pattern this season, and will be at a distinct disadvantage. Thiel will have to re-adjust his whole offensive pattern of play in order to combat the rarely-used zone thrown up by Swarthmore coach Avery Blake. The Swarthmore mentor has met with great success during the past five years because of his tactics.

The idea of a zone is nothing new. When playing one man short, it is common practice to employ a five-man zone, but Blake is one of the very few coaches who uses a zone when at full strength.

The visitors will bring a record of five wins and four losses into today's battle. Swarthmore opened its season with two resounding defeats—14-4 to Washington College and 20-0 to Army. Swarthmore then came on to grab three victories in a row. A 22-7 walloping of Lafayette was followed by 13-6 and 16-6 decisions over Drexel and Delaware. Swarthmore's next loss was to Johns Hopkins, 16-9.

Then came two more wins to up their record to five and three. Lehigh fell by a 15-7 score before Loyola was crushed, 25-5. Finally, they lost a 9-8 game to Penn last Saturday.
