

Church Groups Plan 2 Senior Banquets

Two senior banquets are planned by student church groups tonight.

The Lutheran Student Association, 412 W. College avenue, will hold a senior banquet at 6:30 tonight at the center. The Rev. Edwerth Korte will be the speaker.

A senior banquet will be held by the Westminster Foundation of the Presbyterian Church, at 6:30 tonight at the student center.

Theta Delta Chi Will Affiliate SPS Tomorrow

Sigma Phi Sigma will become the 30th charge of Theta Delta Chi tomorrow when active members and alumni are initiated into the fraternity. Formal initiation ceremonies will be held at 3:15 p.m. tomorrow at the Hillel Foundation, followed by a banquet at the Allencrest Tearoom.

First degree initiation will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday at the chapter house, and ceremonies will continue until the initiation banquet at 7 p.m. The initiation team will be composed of members of Theta Delta Chi from Lehigh University.

Thomas E. Waters, past national president, will be master of ceremonies at the banquet. Howard Adams, national president, will welcome the new chapter.

Sigma Phi Sigma is the Beta Chapter of the former national organization. It was installed in 1919.

Theta Delta Chi, the ninth social fraternity to be established in the United States, has 29 chapters. It was the first fraternity to fly a fraternity flag, to have pledge buttons and a president's flag, and to publish a magazine. It was among the first fraternities to establish an educational foundation.

Mrs. Eisenhower To Be Reception Hostess

Mrs. Milton S. Eisenhower will be hostess at the annual reception for members of the Faculty Newcomers' Club from 3 to 5 p.m. Tuesday at the president's home. The reception is in honor of the newly elected officers of the club. Sponsors, advisers, and founders of the club have been invited as guests.

Wilderness—

Although we certainly wouldn't want a football field named after us, perhaps Civil War generals would. Next time our valiant football heroes are battering through the opponents' line, they might pause and remember that the general might be watching them from that place to which all good Civil War generals who have helped Penn State go.

Vogue Offers Paris Trip, $1000 Prize

The winner makes the choice

Two all-expense paid weeks in Paris or $1000 in cash is the choice given to the first prize winner of Vogue's 20th Prix de Paris contest for senior college women.

The contest, which involves working with the contents of Vogue, fashion magazine for women, is for women planning careers in writing, fashion, decorating, merchandising, or advertising.

$500 Second Prize

The second prize is $500 in cash, and the ten honorable mention winners will receive $25. The 12 prize winners will receive top consideration for jobs on Vogue, Glamour, House and Garden, Vogue Pattern Book, and Vogue Knitting Book. The winners will be given personal interviews in New York.

The next 50 top-ranking contestants will be recommended to stores, advertising agencies, and other magazines. Winners will receive top consideration for jobs on the Conde Nast publications, of which Vogue is one.

Contest Is Annual

The Prix de Paris is an annual contest open to seniors working for Bachelor degrees in colleges and universities throughout the United States.

In the "Prix" contestants complete two four-question quizzes, using Vogue as a textbook. The first quiz questions and the material upon which they are based will appear in the August 1 issue of Vogue, the second in the December issue.

If the two questions are satisfactorily answered, contestants are eligible to write a 1500-word thesis on one of several topics which will appear in the February 1, 1955 issue.

Vogue has sent a brochure containing information about the contest to junior college women. Women who will graduate in 1955 and did not receive a brochure may write to Vogue, 420 Lexington avenue, New York 17, N.Y.

Census Officials See Double In 1950 Population Enumeration

By DAVE BRONSTEIN

Many of this year's graduating seniors were involved in 1950 in one of the United States government's most glaring census errors. And it's all because the students were counted twice as citizens.

In 1950, the year of the official enumeration of the country's population, State College went down in the record books as having a population of 17,227 people. This was an unbelievable 176.7 per cent increase over the 1940 census figure of 6226.

The borough was growing, but not that fast. Even today, State College has only about 12,000 home residents.

It was discovered that at the time of the census, officials had included the University students in the statistics. There were really about 9500 true residents of the borough.

Because of the 1950 census State College is also listed as having the lowest median dollar income throughout the commonwealth. The median income is $824. Also according to the statistics, the median age is 23.6 years.

However, the borough came out on top in one respect in the inaccurate count. Due to the increased population, more money is supplied the borough by the Commonwealth through the gasoline tax. This money provides for better road construction.

Judson Fellowship To Hear Adams

Clifford R. Adams, professor of psychology, will speak at the meeting of the Judson Fellowship of the University Baptist Church at 8 tonight in the Fire-side room of the church.

Adams is in charge of marriage counseling for the College of Education. He has been a guidance counselor, teaching fellow, director of personnel, personnel consultant for the Pennsylvania Civil Service Commission, and director of the marriage clinic for the Women's Home Companion.

He has written many articles for popular magazines, including "Making Marriage Work" in the Ladies Home Journal. He collaborated in writing several books, including "How to Pick a Mate" and "Preparing for Marriage."

Thru the Looking Glass

with Gabbi

"Tween bluebooks and lab reports, we knocked off these few minutes to cry on someone's shoulder—just figured out a quick way to die young, forget to file a conflict. There are the few weeks a guy without a head on his shoulders can make a mint selling maps to strangers in paradox. Anyone spare a dollar for a bluebook and a cup of coffee? But when pressure gets too great, get out of it, mosey down to ETHEL'S.

Not setting the world on fire... but you will make an ash out of yourself if you don't get with this great Evans lighter reduction. Petite, in snake skin or leather, they are neat and light (almost) every time. No more lighting cigarettes with $5 bills. Formerly 6.00, now a mere 2.95!

Make your comfy cozy and add gaiety to a den by tossing multi-colored pillows hither and thither on the coach. Square shape (no pear shape), triangular and square, they serve mucho purposes. For playing bean-bag, foot rests, oversized pin cushions, and sometimes for napping. ETHEL'S have a large selection in red, chartreuse, black, shrimp. Only 1.95—a soft touch!

Party, party, party, party... No, record's not stuck, but we are on the Melody Party napskins ETHEL'S has to offer. Bars, G-clefs, flats and sharps equal such old time tunes as Frankie and Johnny, Man on the Flying Trapeze and skatey-eighteen others. Great ice-breakers and mop-ups at that. Serve the liquid on gay metal trays hand-painted with floral designs, some with kittens (I taut I taw a putty tat). Thru the gin and juice of course... A final word to the gourmet (guys who live to eat, not eat to live) A Guide to Distinctive Dining—recipes from famous restaurants. Not too mouth-watering! Makes for messy kitchens (amateurs), but fun drinking cherry flavored bicarbs later. Keep cool kids, don't let these last weeks get you—bite 'em back. Man bites dog is always news! See ya at ETHEL'S...
