

Lion Win Streak Ended by Colgate

By HERM WEISKOPF

Two rights don't make up for a wrong and Penn State's baseball team found this to be the sad truth Saturday at Beaver Field. The Lions paved the way for Colgate's 7-5 win with four unearned runs, although the Lions tried to make up for their miscues with brilliant fielding in the late innings.

The loss ended Penn State's six-game winning skein and left the Lions with a 9-4 slate with three games still on tap. Tomorrow Coach Joe Bedenk will send his diamond squad against Quaker City.

Garland Gingerich went to the mound for the Blue and White and was staked to a 4-0 lead in the first—a lead which lasted only until leftfielder Rex Bradley let Bob Berry's low liner slither away for a four base error. This blow ended Gingerich's scoreless inning streak at 2 2/3 frames. The loss was his first after three wins.

Penn State outhit the Red Raiders, nine to six, but committed five errors to two for Colgate. Despite these miscues the Lions managed to hang on to a 5-5 tie going into the ninth.

Charlie Russo led off the Lions' half of the first with a single. He moved to second on a sacrifice and advanced to third with a beautiful slide that took third sacker Berry out of the play which started when Ron Weidenhammer hit a long fly to center. George Ettenger followed with a single to left and Pat Kennedy with a triple to center, putting the Lions in front, 2-0. Successive walks to Hubie Kline and Skip Gerdes and a ground single to left by Bradley rounded out the scoring.

In the third the Lions scored on Kennedy's booming home run to deep center. It was the big first sacker's initial circuit clout.

Colgate knotted the score with two runs in the fourth and two more in the fifth on just three hits. Three errors by the Lions in these two frames aided the Red Raiders' cause.

Sensational catches by Bradley and Gerdes in the ninth prevented Colgate from scoring more than twice. Len Kraus started that fateful inning with a single to right which Pete Cherish let skip past him, permitting Kraus to move up to second. Bradley then came up with a fine running catch in short left.

Ted Carangelo's single put Kraus on third. Hal Horan smashed what looked like a home run, but Gerdes speared the ball with a last-second diving, rolling catch. Gerdes flipped the ball to Bradley, but the relay was not in time to keep the runners from moving up. A single by Frank Nardulli ended the scoring.

JESSE ARNELLE receives the award for the "Penn State Athlete of the Year" from Harold "Ike" Gilbert, assistant athletic director. The trophy was presented during the WDFM "Sportlight" program last night. Arnelle received 33 of 66 ballots in winning the honor.

Jesse Arnelle Selected As 'Outstanding Athlete'

Jesse Arnelle, Helms Foundation All-American basketball center and honorable mention end in football, has been named "Penn State Athlete of the Year" for 1953-54.

The All-University president was presented with a trophy last night by Harold "Ike" Gilbert, assistant director of athletics. The award, donated by Mur's Jewelry Store, was presented to Arnelle during the "Sportlight" program over radio station WDFM.

The New Rochelle, N.Y., junior topped the contest balloting with 33 points out of a possible 66. Close behind with 28 was gymnast Jan Cronstedt, holder of four NCAA and two NAAU titles. Trackman and football player Rosey Grier was third with 24 points.

Arnelle's major achievements have come on the hardwoods where he has broken every existing Penn State scoring record, leading the Lions this year to third place in the National Collegiate championships. He scored 507 points last season.

The 6' 5", 215-pound athlete also performed creditably on the gridiron where he snagged ten passes and scored two touchdowns last fall.

Participating in the voting were the Daily Collegian, the Alumni Football Newsletter, and radio stations WMAJ and WDFM.

Chicago White Sox Sign Cavarretta

CHICAGO, May 24 (AP)—Phil Cavarretta, happy as a kid with a new bat, today signed with the Chicago White Sox and 30 minutes later was working out on the field with the characteristic hustle that endeared him to Chicago fans for 20 years.

It was a whirlwind signing, typical of the Frank Lane assembly line technique of making deals. It followed some 18 hours after the Sox general manager had given the Boston Red Sox a reported $100,000 and Grady Hatton for third baseman George Kell.

Cavarretta, fired as Cub manager last March and replaced by another city favorite, Stan Hack, signed with the Comiskeyes for the 1954 season as a utility first baseman, outfielder and pinch hitter. He will be 38 July 19.

Lion Golfers Easily Topple Lehigh, 8-1

By ROY WILLIAMS

Penn State's golf team won its sixth match in seven starts, and its third in a row Saturday afternoon, swamping Lehigh University, 8-1. Only one Nittany linksman lost as Penn State extended its home victory streak during two seasons to seven.

A shakeup in the lineup and a medalist performance by junior letterman Warren Gittlen helped the Lions drop a tough Engineer team on a near-perfect condition Penn State course.

Lineup Changed
Before the Lehigh contest, Coach Bob Rutherford changed the order of his lineup, and inserted Jim Mayes in his six-man lineup. Mayes, a classy sophomore, had not played for the Lions before.

Gordon Stroup moved into the lead-off position, replacing Captain Rod Eaken who had dropped his two previous matches. Stroup edged Dick Sperry, one up. Stroup's senior classmate, Joe Webb, added another point to the Lions' score defeating Dick Austin, three-and-two.

Eaken, who was dropped to third slot for the Lions, broke his two-match losing streak to win his fifth match in seven starts over Bob Buhner, one up. Gittlen pushed the Lions' lead to four points with a three-and-two victory over Gerry Wells.

Boyanowski Stopped
Lehigh broke in for its first point when Fred Clark stopped Jim Boyanowski's victory streak, one up. Boyanowski, one of the four sophomores who have been bolstering Penn State's attack this season, had four straight victories.

Jim Mayes—the second sophomore fielded by Rutherford against Lehigh—won his first collegiate match with a seven-and-six swamping of Everett Schaefer.

A wide range of strokes were recorded by both teams, although they played under sunny skies on a solid course. Gittlen won medalist honors, although he had one ball out-of-bounds, hitting a sizzling 69. Mayes shot a one under par 70.

In the foursome playoffs, the Lions took the three possible points. Webb and Stroup edged Lehigh's twosome of Sperry and Austin, two-and-one. Eaken and Gittlen handled Buhner and Wells, four-and-two. The Lions' sophomore duo, Boyanowski and Mayes easily defeated Babb and Schaefer, four-and-three.

IM Track Send-Off Set Tonight

Intramural track will get a grand send-off at 6:45 tonight when more than 200 fraternity and independent men vie for honors on the Beaver Field cinders. The track and field program will run over a three-day period.

Trial heats in the 100-yard dash, 440-yard dash, and the 880-yard relay are on tonight's agenda. Finals in the shot put, high jump, and broad jump will take place tomorrow. Finals in all running events will conclude the program Thursday. Starting time each day is 6:45 p.m.

Last year Kappa Alpha Psi garnered the fraternity crown with 21 1/2 points. The defending champs will again field a strong team. Alpha Zeta will be running in the dark horse position. Alpha Zeta placed third in the past two years. Sigma Nu, runnerup in 1953, will also be a strong contender.

Outstanding competitors expected to enter the three-day program are: John Milsom, Alpha Zeta, 100-yard dash champ of '53 with 10.4; Dick Jones, Sigma Nu, running broad jump tittle; and Don Brown, independent 100 yard dash and broad jump champ.

The fraternity team championship is determined on the basis of five points for first place, four for second, three for third, two for fourth and one for fifth. Medals will be presented to the first three independent places. A trophy is awarded to the winning fraternity.

season Wednesday, as Rutherford—ending his fifth season as golf coach—takes his squad to meet Pittsburgh on the hilly Shannopin Country Club course.

Cornell Stickmen Defeat Lions, 20-13

By EARL KOHNFELDER

Penn State's lacrossemen, gunning for their second straight upset, held Cornell at bay in a close first half before folding in the second to lose, 20-13 Saturday at Beaver Field. It was the Lions' seventh defeat of the season and closed out their nine-game schedule.

Dick Shriver led Cornell to victory, scoring in every period as he collected seven goals. Bob Hamel contributed three goals to the Lions' first quarter spurt that put them in the lead, 5-1, with just eight minutes gone. Hamel's five goals for the day gave him 21 for the season, tying the old scoring record just recently broken by Al Fulton.

The Big Red grabbed a quick lead with just 1:10 gone of the first quarter when Dave Bradford countered on a two-on-one rush against Lion goalie Don Bell. Dick Klein tied it up for the Lions just 25 seconds later when he swept in from the left to beat the Cornell goalie from 20 feet out.

Then at the four-minute mark Bob Hamel executed one of the finest unassisted efforts of the season. Hamel took the ball nearly the length of the field and dumped in the tie-breaking goal after having seemingly over-run his shooting angle. Hamel, Ronnie Youtz, and Hamel scored in that order to shoot the Lions to their short-lived 5-1 advantage.

By 3:25 of the second period, the Big Red had evened it up at 5-5. Shriver tallied three first-quarter goals within five minutes and Tom Hopper, leading scorer over the (Continued on page seven)

Four Lion Netmen To Play Last Match

By ROGER BEIDLER

Four Nittany netmen will be playing their last tennis match for Penn State tomorrow, when the Lions face a tough Lehigh aggregation in the final match of the year.

Dick Robinson, Lew Landon, Bruz Ray and Bill Wallis will square off for their final collegiate competition when the Lions attempt to notch their eighth victory of the season. The match, which rounds out the Nittany court schedule, will be played on the University courts.

All four seniors, along with the five other members of the court squad, have winning singles records over the first ten matches. Ed Seiling, sophomore performer playing in the number five spot for the Lions, owns the best slate. His eight wins against one defeat lead the group percentage-wise, and Bill Ziegler is the only other netter to hold eight victories. Seiling also has an eight match winning streak going. He is undefeated since his loss in the opening match with Navy.

Ziegler, number two man on the team, possesses an eight and one-half match winning record. His last loss was in the Colgate match. Lew Landon, co-captain of the Nittany aggregation, has recorded seven wins to two setbacks. Playing in the second position, he was undefeated after the Navy match until his loss in the Colgate encounter.

Three netmen, Dick Robinson, Bruz Ray, and Dean Mullen, have garnered six victories. Robinson and Ray have the same six and three records, while Mullen has absorbed one more loss. Robinson, who draws the opponent's top performers each time, played in the lead off spot last year also.

Doug Zuker, Bill Wallis, and Chuck Christiansen are undefeated in singles competition which they have been in. Zuker has two victories to his credit, while Wallis and Christiansen each have one and zero marks.
