

Holy Land Visit

Champlin Describes Holy Land Situation

By PHYLLIS PROPERT

Carroll D. Champlin, professor emeritus, said this week that during his visit to the Holy Land this year he was aware of considerable tension and suspicion between the Arabs and Jewish people.

"It is the belief of the missionaries and of the businessmen that we talked to in Jerusalem and Jordan that the Arab-Jewish situation is threatening and full of danger, but that war can be averted by western impartiality to the two peoples," Champlin said.

Champlin and his wife, residents of State College, spent Holy Week in Jerusalem this year. It was the educator's twelfth international tour and his eighth European trip. The couple were members of the Christian Herald Bible Land tour which lasted 60 days.

262 On Tour

The tour was composed of missionaries, retired teachers, and laymen of churches. Only 13 clergymen went on the tour. During the trip, the 262 members visited the Island of Madeira, Algeria, Tunisia, Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, Israel, Cyprus, Turkey, Greece, Italy, France, Spain, and Portugal.

The Arab-Jewish situation did not seem quite as bad to them as the newspapers play it up to be, Champlin said. He expressed his belief that the differences between the two peoples would be ironed out even though it may take several decades. He said the Arabs eventually will see they will reap some of the benefits from Jewish diligence and prosperity and will decide it might be most beneficial to them to settle their differences peacefully.

Aid From U.S.

Israel is getting the benefit of expert counsel and aid mainly from the United States, and it is making the most of it, Champlin said. The Jewish immigrants who are pouring into Israel, are proving that they are good workers and farmers, he said.

The United States, Champlin said, is trying to show its impartiality by not only giving aid for the development of Israel, but also by giving substantial aid to the Arabs for defense and security purposes. This appears to be profitable diplomacy, he said.

The educator mentioned seeing troops in Syria, Jordan, Israel, Turkey, and many of the other countries. Syria, an Arab country, had more troops than any other country, Champlin said, but they were not as well trained nor equipped as the Jewish troops.

Turkey Army Best

Perhaps the best armed and trained army belongs to Turkey, he said. The soldiers in the Turkish army look like American football players, he said.

"Neither the Jewish people nor the Arabs like communism, but both are afraid of it because they are so close to Iraq and Iran where communism is definitely a threat. In fact all of the Middle East is in fear of Soviet power," Champlin said.

Champlin emphasized that he went on the tour as a neutral. He said he thought the American people should realize that the Arabs are worthy people who are contemplative, and refined—even the poor people. The unfortunate part, Champlin said, is that in many instances they are encouraged by their Moslem leaders to be indolent, indifferent, and idle, and to ignore any opportunities to obtain an education.

The Arabs are forced to beg, he said, and it isn't unusual for even a little child being carried by his mother to stretch out his arms and say, "Bachshesh," (money), Champlin said.

The American dollar is revered everywhere in the Middle East, he said. During their tour, they went to several "Kasbahs," or native markets. The Kasbah is located in the heart of the town and the "shops" (shops) he said,

SU Directory

Names of newly elected officers of honorary fraternities, sororities, and other groups wishing to be represented in the Student Union Directory must be submitted by Tuesday at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

Hat Society Elections

Robert Smoot, president of Skull and Bones, senior men's hat society, was elected president of Hat Society Council Thursday night.

News and Views

The June issue of News and Views, home economics publication, may be picked up in the main foyer of the Home Economics Building.

are in parallel lines in the market area.

The shopkeepers sold everything from petty merchandise to heavy copper and silver fabrications. The shops, Champlin added, were exactly as literature pictures them—dirty and dingy.

The educator said he made a point of talking to children, students, and adults alike in an effort to establish a friendly relationship.

"At first the people would look cynically at these Americans dressed in their good clean clothes. But soon, they would relax and begin to talk," he said.

Champlin taught at the University for 27 years before he retired in July, 1953, as professor emeritus.

Seniors —

(Continued from page one) Mason, bow girl; Carolyn Pelczar, fan girl; and Ruth Israel, slipper girl.

Commencement exercises will be held at 10:30 a.m. June 7 on Beaver Field, weather permitting. In case of inclement weather, the exercises will be held in two sections, at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. in Rec Hall.

President Milton S. Eisenhower will preside over the program, which will open with the traditional academic procession.

Harshbarger to Give Invocation
Luther H. Harshbarger, University chaplain, will give the invocation. The commencement address will be given by Arthur S. Adams, president of the American Council on Education.

Order for the conferring of degrees is as follows: doctor's degrees, technical degrees, master's degrees, bachelor's degrees, and commissions. The order for the presentation of commissions will be Army, Navy, and Air Force.

Scholastic awards will be presented to eight seniors. The awards and recipients are John W. White Medal, Robert Euwema; John W. White Fellowship, Charles Rohrbach and Richard Rupp; Evan Pugh Medals for seniors, Richard Oswald, Robert Hess, Daniel Pattenato, Leon Johnson, and Virginia Bowman.

President Eisenhower will present the charge to the graduates. The program will close with the Alma Mater, benediction, and recessional.

Finals Hours —

(Continued from page one) to see their advisors 24 hours in advance of registration.

Timetables may be secured by students during August by mailing 25 cents to the Scheduling office in 4 Willard.

The Temporary Union Building will be open from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. during exam week and until 1 a.m. Friday and next Saturday. Hours on Sunday will be from 2 to 11 p.m. The TUB will be open during the summer from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

During the summer the Student Employment office and the University Placement Service will be open to serve students.

This is the last issue of the Daily Collegian for the spring semester. Publication will be resumed Sept. 12.

Emerson Society Proposes Changes

The Emerson Society, student group of the Unitarian faith, will discuss its proposals for changes in the working papers of the new University Christian Association in the near future with the Penn State Christian Association committee which drew up the papers, Oscar A. Haac, Emerson society adviser, said yesterday.

"It is hoped differences will be resolved and the Emerson Society is anxious to cooperate fully and be a sponsoring member of the new association," Haac said. "This will be possible if its basis is broadened to include all Protestant bodies."

NORTH AMERICAN HAS BUILT MORE AIRPLANES THAN ANY OTHER COMPANY IN THE WORLD

"O.K... You're on your own"

Moments ago his instructor said, "Good luck son. Now you try it alone." And as the young cadet turns to his plane he feels a sudden thrill run through him. He is sure he's ready... after those long months of tough, hard training. And he is ready. He'll win his wings, because those who chose him know he has the qualities a pilot must possess.

You too can know the same thrill that young man feels now... if you have the stuff in you to become an aviation cadet. Ahead of you lies a great adventure... flying with the U. S. Navy or Air Force in the planes that guard our nation's shores.

You'll meet them all. Planes like this T-28, North American's trainer for the Navy and Air Force, that outflies many World War II fighters. And when you've won your wings you may graduate to a squadron that flies FJ-3 Fury Jets, Korea-famed F-86 Sabre Jets... or America's fastest production jet fighter, the supersonic F-100 Super Sabre.

Yes, there's high adventure ahead for you, if you take the challenge a flying career in the services offers now... if you're ready to be on your own.

organization, facilities and experience keep

North American Aviation, Inc.

years ahead in aircraft... atomic energy... electronics... guided missiles... research and development.

Sigma Nu President Cited by Old Gold

Nice going, George Richards! A carton of Old Golds to you for wonderful achievements as president of Sigma Nu and as chairman of Spring Week.

Busy people everywhere find pleasure and relaxation in the good smoking of an Old Gold. Always a Treat instead of a Treatment when you light up those fine and friendly tobaccos. Get a carton of Old Golds today—King Size or Regular.

Advertisement