

Frosh to Doff Dinks Soon

By MARY BOLICH

Freshmen will be identified by blue instead of the customary green when customs go into effect at 8 a.m. Sept. 20. Freshman men and women will wear blue dinks with the University seal as part of the dress customs for this year.

Freshmen will also be required to wear 5 by 8-inch namecards with their name, home town, and major for the two weeks customs are in effect. The lettering must be at least one and one-half inches high.

Enforcement of customs, which were established by Freshman Customs Board, will be done by upperclass men and women. Upperclass men will enforce men's customs and upperclass women will enforce women's customs. On joint enforcement days, decreed by Freshman Customs Board, upperclassmen of either sex may enforce customs on both men and women.

Freshman Customs Board has the sole power to interpret customs regulations subject to review by the Senate committee on student affairs subcommittee on discipline.

Customs violations will be tried by the eight-member board. Violations must be reported by upperclassmen in the form of a written and signed charge.

Appeals of the decisions of the board can be made to Tribunal, men's judiciary body, or to Freshman Regulations Board where coeds are involved. The decisions of these two judiciary bodies are subject to review by the Senate discipline subcommittee.

Freshman Customs Board is composed of three sophomore men and three sophomore women with a junior man and junior woman acting as co-chairmen. This year's co-chairmen are Ann Lederman and Hugh Cline.

Dress customs will be worn at all times except from 5:30 p.m. Friday until 7:00 a.m. Monday. However, customs must be worn on Saturdays until noon and at all intercollegiate athletic events. Dress customs must also be worn in dining halls.

Dress customs can be purchased at the Book Exchange in the Temporary Union Building where the purchaser's name will be checked off a master list.

Freshmen must attend all meetings during Orientation Week and must not leave these meetings until they are closed. They are required to know the names and locations of campus buildings, the name of the dean of their College, and the name of the President of the University by the first day of classes.

Attendance at specified home athletic games is required of freshmen. Frosh will sit as a group in a section assigned to them by the Freshman Customs Board. They will be required to conduct themselves in an orderly manner and show respect for the safety of students and guests of the University as well as for University property.

Freshmen must be able to recite the University songs and cheers at the request of upperclassmen. The Student Handbook, or "Freshman Bible," must be carried at all times, and the identification page of the book must be filled out completely and memorized.

Freshmen will be allowed to date from Sunday through Thursday until 5:30 p.m. and Friday and Saturday until 11 p.m. and 1 a.m. During the customs period women must be in by 9:15 p.m. Sunday through Thursday.

Freshman women will be allowed to date in the lounges of McKee, Hamilton, and Irvin halls, and the recreation rooms of A Level in McKee and Hamilton halls between 7 p.m. and 1 a.m. on Fridays, 2 p.m. and 1 a.m. Saturdays, and 2 p.m. and 10 p.m. Sundays. The dating code applies only to weekends.

First and second semester women will be allowed to attend registered and chaperoned fraternity events. Dating in the West Dorm lounges must also be chaperoned.

Under the new dating code passed by the Senate last spring, chaperones must be present in fraternities at all times women are in the house. Women must be out of houses by 10 p.m. Sundays. Approved dry houses may have limited unchaperoned dating during the week.

Freshman men will doff their dinks when an upperclassman commands "Button, Frosh" and women will curtsy when the call "Curtsy, Frosh" is directed at them by an upperclasswoman. Freshmen may not command other freshmen to "button" or "curtsy."

When passing the Old Willow on the east side of the Mall, freshman men must bow and doff their dinks and freshman women must curtsy. Freshmen are required to use only the east side of the Mall.

The diagonal walks extending from the front of Old Main and the east side of the Mall are "Hello" walks. Freshmen must say "Hello" to all persons they pass while using those walks.

Senior Walk, extending along College avenue from the Allen street gate to the Pugh street gate, is "out of bounds" to freshmen. This also includes the wall adjacent to the walk. No frosh will be allowed to walk on the grass or any unpaved shortcuts on campus.

Freshman men are not permitted to place their hands in their pockets when strolling or lounging on campus or in town. Smoking on campus is also prohibited.

High school athletic awards or letters will not be worn on sweaters on campus by frosh. The Penn State "S" is the only athletic award that may be worn.

Students over 21 must appear personally before the Freshman Customs Board for exemptions from customs. No immunities may be granted to freshmen by upper-
