FIVE CENTS

Cabinet Sets Centennial Discussion

Spring Week may follow a Centennial theme in honor of the University's 100th birthday if All-University Cabinet adopts the recommendations to be presented tonight by Diehl McKalip, chairman of the student encampment Centennial committee.

The encampment committee will recommend an old-fashioned "Country Fair" theme to tie in Spring Week with the Centennial celebration. Suggested plans for Spring Week also will be outlined.

The report will recommend that the point system for the fair place more than 50 per cent emphasis on the originality and good taste of the shows. This will reduce the stress of judging the carnival on the basis of accumulated tickets.

The report will also recommend that prizes in the float parade be awarded to the first three places in each category rather than just the first.

The Centennial committee will suggest that booth categories, such as reviews, chance games, etc., be set up and a quota be assigned for each category.

Cabinet will be asked to approve a committee with power to select the University representatives for "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities." At present Inter-college Council Board makes the selections. Much dissension resulted after last year's selections, however, according to Robert Homan, All-University secretary-treasurer.

If approved, the committee will consist of the Dean of Men, Dean of Women, Director of Student Affairs, senior class president, All-University president, editor of the Collegian, Interfraternity Council president, Panhellenic president, Leonides president, and Association of Independent Men president.

This committee would consider only written applications and

2d Game Sales To End Today

Ticket sales for the Penn State-Syracuse game will end at 4:30 p.m. today at the Athletic Association ticket office, 248 Recreation Hall. About 200 tickets are available, Edward M. Czekaj, ticket manager, said yesterday.

The tickets being sold at the AA office are for special sections between the 35 and 50 yard line which are reserved for Penn State fans. Ticket price is $3.50. The AA office will open at 8 a.m.

Tickets not sold by 4:30 p.m. today will be taken to Syracuse with the football team and will be sold at the gate.

Tickets for the first home game with Virginia are also on sale at the AA ticket office. The tickets are $3 apiece.

Third Party Announced; DelleDonne Heads State Election Follows Nullifying Of Last Week's Action

By ANN LEH

Rae DelleDonne, seventh semester home economics major, last night again was named chairman of the State Party clique in an election that complied with both the letter and the spirit of the elections code.

Immediately after she assumed the chair, Miss DelleDonne asked election's committee verification of her election.

Couple Attacked

A University coed and her escort were attacked late last night in Hort Woods. The attackers were later apprehended by State Police.

Perkins Heads Spring Week For 2d Time

Harold W. Perkins, assistant dean of men, was named as Spring Week adviser by the Senate committee on student affairs at its regular meeting yesterday.

Perkins also held the post last year. The committee referred a petition from a student group in the Division of Geophysics which wishes to form an organization to the sub-committee on organization.

The committee set 11 a.m. each Wednesday as a permanent meeting time.

Three new members were seated on the committee. They are Jesse Arnette, All-University president, representing student government; Mary Fuqua, associate professor of foods and nutrition, who replaces Winona Morgan, professor of child development and family relations; and Irene Fife, who replaces William Smith Jr., as chairman of the graduate committee on student affairs.

Silva to Speak Tonight To Young GOP's

Ruth C. Silva, assistant professor of political science, will speak on "The 1954 Elections" to the Young Republicans Club tonight in 202 Willard.

Plans will also be made to attend the region 1 convention Friday and Saturday in Pottsville.

Her election last Wednesday was nullified by the committee on Sunday because it failed to comply "with the spirit of the code."

Speaking for the committee, Chairman Ernest Famous said: "I do verify the legality of this election. It was conducted in the best interest and spirit of the elections code."

Rudolph Lutter, organizer of the new University Party, was nominated against Miss DelleDonne. In the vote tally, however, he received no votes. Miss DelleDonne received 20 of 21 ballots cast. There was one abstention.

20-Minute Meeting

The meeting of the party's Student Representative Council lasted only 20 minutes. Three of five clique officers named were unopposed in nomination.

They were John McMeekin, fifth semester accounting major, vice chairman; Rheta Bobrow, seventh semester business major, secretary; and Janet McKee, fifth semester home economics major, secretariat.

The treasurer's post went to William Metz, seventh semester arts and letters major, who defeated Barbara Woodward, fifth semester home economics major, 13 to 8.

Twenty-one of 24 council incumbents were present.

5 Chairmen Served

Miss DelleDonne's election ended a 10-day period in which State Party had five clique chairmen.

John Fink, last year's clique chairman, announced his resignation Sept. 20 and appointed McMeekin temporary chairman. McMeekin announced Sept. 22 that his appointment was unconstitutional and John Lyon, vice clique chairman, took over as acting chairman.

After Miss DelleDonne's election was voided, Lyon again took over as acting chairman.

Miss DelleDonne said clique appointments will be announced when the council meets at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in 108 Willard.

University Party Formed By Lutter; Move Rapped

By MIKE MILLER

Rudolph Lutter, former State Party sophomore class clique chairman, announced the formation of a third political group, the University Party, last night.

Lutter said the party had been formed by himself, Kathryn Eisenhower, fifth semester medical technology major, and John Riggs, former member of the Lion Party steering committee.

Pre-Syracuse Pep Rally Set For Tonight

Members of the football team will be honored at the Syracuse game pep rally at 8 tonight in front of Recreation Hall.

Sponsoring organizations, Mortar Board, senior women's hat society, and Androcles, junior men's hat society, moved the rally time one half hour later in order to give the team time to dress and eat after final practice.

At the Illinois rally last week the team had just finished practice at 7:30 when the rally began and Co-captains Donald Balthasar and James Garrity were unable to appear as scheduled.

Fred Owlett, seventh semester psychology major, and Samuel Wolcott, fourth semester arts and letters major, will emcee the program.

The 15-member cheering squad led by head cheerleader Bruce Coble will set the mood with cheers, and the Blue Band, directed by James W. Dunlop, will follow up with University songs and marches.

There will be no pre-rally parade, Aurelia Arre, co-chairman of the rally, said.

The Nittany Lions will leave at 8 a.m. tomorrow for Harrisburg where they will board a plane for Syracuse.

Tonight's rally will be the second held for the team this week. Sunday, several thousand fans welcomed the victorious Lions home from Champaign, Ill. An estimated 2500 turned out for the Illinois send off rally last Wednesday.

'Othello' Tryouts Tonight

Tryouts for the Experimental Theater production of a scene from "Othello" will be held from 7:30 to 10 tonight in 405 Old Main.

The Party will meet at 7:00 p.m. Sunday in 110 Electrical Engineering, Lutter said.

Lutter resigned from the State Party at 3 p.m. yesterday.

"We extend our most sincere welcome to the freshmen, all those who were disillusioned by past political activities, and those interested in clean effective student government to become members of the University Party," Lutter said.

McMeekin Hits Move

John McMeekin, elected State Party vice-clique chairman last night, when informed of the new party, said "this move is obviously designed to further Lutter's personal gains." McMeekin said he was expressing his own thoughts, not those of his party.

McMeekin said he hoped students attracted to the new party will remember that Lutter was unable to "make good" in the State and Lion Parties.

"If this move is to help student government it may have success," McMeekin said, "but I fail to accept this point of view in the light of Lutter's previous actions."

"Gordon Pogal, Lion Party clique chairman, could not be reached for comment.

Lutter said he did not wish to indulge in political mud-slinging. He said he felt McMeekin's statement was "uncalled for and merely an attempt to cash in on publicity."

Actions to Speak for Party

Lutter said he would let the future actions of the University Party speak for him.

"The University Party was formed," Lutter said, "because of the deplorable state of campus politics last year and this year." "The practice of clique chairmen handpicking candidates for class and all-University elections is just one of the many facets of the present political system that must be changed," Lutter continued.

"I refer specifically to the forming of blocs of support for clique-supported candidates which no individual candidate can hope to overcome," Lutter said.

He said the University Party will wholeheartedly support popular election of clique chairmen

Giants Edge Tribe in 10th, 5-2; Mays Saves Game With Catch

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Dusty Rhodes' 270-foot pinch home run with two men on base in the tenth inning won a dramatic World Series opener for the New York Giants today, 5-2, after a truly sensational catch by Willie Mays and tremendous relief pitching by Marv Grissom blunted Cleveland threats.

Rhodes, a sensational pinch hitter in the Giants' pennant march, barely reached the right field stands, bouncing off the hands of a fan and rolling back onto the field as the umpire signaled a home run.

Cleveland had been threatening all through the late innings, leaving 13 men on base, while Grissom escaped by the thinnest of margins.

In the Giant tenth, after Don Mueller struck out, Mays worked Lemon for a walk. As Lemon threw a ball to Hank Thompson, the next hitter, Mays lit out for second, sliding in under the bouncing peg of Micky Grasso who had just taken up Cleveland's catching chores.

With Mays on second, Manager Al Lopez ordered Lemon to pass Thompson intentionally, setting the stage for a possible double play. Rhodes, who delivered 15 pinch hits in 45 trips during the regular season, crossed him up.

It was the same Mr. Rhodes who Manager Leo Durocher was going to start in left field before he finally decided to stick with the veteran Monte Irvin.

The throat-clutching finish, however, didn't dim the lustre of Mays' magnificent catch on Vic Wertz' 450-foot smash to deep center in the eighth. If Willie, the Giants' bubbling "Say Hey Kid" hadn't caught that one with two men on and nobody out, there never would have been any chance for Rhodes' heroics.

Wertz already had three hits, including a two-run triple off Sal Maglie in the first inning, when he came to bat in the eighth, with the score tied at 2-2. Larry Doby had walked and Al Rosen had singled.

The baldish first baseman, picked up from Baltimore early in June, slammed reliever Don Liddle's fourth pitch far and away to deep center field. Mays took one sight on the ball, turned his back and raced pell mell toward the four-foot wall in front of the bleachers. Just when it seemed the exuberant Negro lad must smash into the wall, he put out his hands to grab the ball without a look toward the plate.

Dean to Attend French Talks

Eric A. Walker, dean of the College of Engineering and Architecture, will attend the Symposium on research organization and management in Nancy, France, as a United States delegate.

The symposium is an outgrowth of the conference on the administration of research which was started in 1947 at Penn State.

The meetings in Nancy represent an attempt to establish a similar organization in Europe.

While in Europe, Walker will visit various universities in England to discuss education in science and research. He will also visit French laboratories and later will return to the United Kingdom to visit Naval laboratories experimenting in undersea warfare.
