

Dormitory Elections To Be Held Tonight

By JACKIE HUDGINS

Five living units in Simmons and McElwain Halls will elect dormitory officers to represent them on the Women's Student Government Association House of Representatives at 11 tonight.

All units in Simmons and unit one in McElwain will be voting tonight for the 1954-55 House.

Units three and four in McElwain and all units in Atherton and Grange will elect their officers at 10 p.m. Monday. Unit two has not yet reported when it will hold its election.

Sororities To Entertain Formally

Dormitories will take on the air of pre-"big dance" preparations tonight, as rushees and sorority women don their best formal gowns for coffee hours.

Sorority "sisters" will call for rushees at their rooms to escort them to the coffee hours. Each sorority may hold two coffee hours, one from 6:30 to 8 p.m. and one from 8:30 to 10 p.m.

Coffee hours, for the most part, will be held in the homes of town alumnae. Refreshments may be served.

When rushees return from coffee hours tonight, they may sign preferential cards at the Panhellenic post office in Atherton Hall.

On the preferential card the rushee may indicate her first and second choice of the two sororities she visited. Cards will be compared with preferential lists made out by sororities and submitted to the Panhel post office.

Sorority rushees who do not sign preferential cards at the post office may do so from 8 to 11 a.m. tomorrow in the Dean of Women's office, 105 Old Main.

Bids will be distributed late tomorrow afternoon to rushees' rooms. Ribboning will take place at 7 p.m. tomorrow in sorority suites.

According to Panhellenic rules, sororities may call for prospective ribbonees at their rooms but ribboning must take place in the suites or in lounges used for rushing.

Dorm Rooms Offer Creative Challenge

By PEGGY McCLAIN

When Indian summer is over, and bitter Penn State winds envelope the campus, coeds will find warm cozy dormitory rooms a welcome haven from the frozen outdoors.

And if woman's dependable ingenuity is put to use, there's no reason why these same rooms can't be turned into creations of original design.

For a touch of variety from the ordinary bulletin board, frame a square of plyboard with a crepe paper or chintz ruffle and hang it with a gay ribbon or cord. Write home for an old round picture frame (that all good attics harbor) and fit it with a circle of desk blotter.

Arrange in Series

For a modernistic touch, cut a series of varying sized squares or rectangles from felt or desk blotters and hang them with bright rope along one wall. Even Baby Sister's wall blackboard can be put to use as a handy "jot it down" messenger for phone calls, shopping lists, or assignments due.

Bulletin boards are complimented by skillful lighting effects. Unique lamps can be hand-made, with a long necked bottle and a socket fixture (available in any hardware store). Scour the shops until a cardboard lampshade, the exact color of the bulletin board, can be found.

Or to renovate an old lamp shade, wrap heavy wool yarn tightly over the frame.

Line Closet Shelves

Arrange the lamp on the dormitory nightstand and place the combination under the bulletin board. The lamp shade will cast a glow up onto the bulletin board and turn what was formerly a bare corner or wall into an attractive point of interest.

To add color to dorm closets, line the shelves with oilcloth or heavy, gay-colored lining paper. Cover shoe boxes and hat boxes

Boroughs Warned Of Fake Campaigns

The Chambers of Commerce of State College and Bellefonte warned its own members and the general public to be particularly careful in contributing to appeals and subscribing to solicitations.

The groups stated jointly yesterday that the number of cases which border on the edge of legality and sometimes amount to misrepresentation is on the increase.

with matching paper or material and stack the boxes along the top shelf of the closet.

To convert a dormitory cot into a comfortable day bed, push the bed lengthwise against the wall, make a clever case for the pillow, and write home for a supply of multi-sized cushions. Arrange the lot on the bed along the wall.

Scatter Ashtrays

Scatter ashtrays — conservative glass squares, huge painted soup bowls, wrought iron creations, or decorated sea shells — on all available surfaces. Not only will coeds' cigarette-smoking friends appreciate a handy container at their fingertips, but the ashtrays will heighten the color scheme of the room.

And for a final touch of hominess, line windowsills and empty desk corners with vines, plants, goldfish, or even tiny hand-painted turtles. They'll all need watering and care, but they'll add a marvelous and interesting air of that "bedroom back home."
