

Community Forum Ticket Drive Begins

Season ticket sales drive for the 1954-55 Community Forum will be conducted Monday through Saturday.

Season tickets, costing $4.40, will be sold at the Student Union Desk in Old Main and Grigg's Pharmacy on College Avenue.

Speakers on this season's forum will be Clifton Fadiman, critic, and television and radio personality, Nov. 9; Agnes Moorehead, actress, Dec. 6; Carlos Romulo, former UN General Assembly president, Jan. 13; and James M. Hepbrun, noted criminologist who gained fame recently as consultant on the so-called Kefauver Committee.

200 Oppose Changing Town Name

By DON SHOEMAKER
Editorial on page four

Approximately 206 people turned out at the State College High School Wednesday night to form an organization to campaign against the proposed borough name change.

The only official action taken by the group was to elect permanent officers and to adopt a resolution giving the chairman power to appoint an executive committee to organize the campaign.

The group elected Milton S. McDowell, Director emeritus of agricultural and home economics extension, chairman, and Mrs. Grover Glenn, secretary.

The official wording of the resolution is:

"That the chairman be authorized to appoint an executive committee of so many members as he may deem proper for the purpose of conducting a campaign for retaining the name of the town of State College, and that this committee be authorized to name such additional committees as may seem necessary and desirable."

According to McDowell, the committee will be appointed at a later date and the names will

(Continued on page eight)

2 Seniors Take Dorm Couch From Hamilton

By AL KLIMCKE

Two seventh semester English literature majors were apprehended early yesterday morning at Atherton and W. College avenue and charged with the theft of a davenport from a Hamilton Hall lounge.

The students were stopped by borough police at 1:50 a.m. The davenport was tied to the top of their car. They were not held, but were ordered to return the davenport to Hamilton Hall.

The case was turned over to University officials. The students will appear before the Senate committee on student affairs subcommittee on discipline this morning.

The students said they took the davenport to help furnish their downtown apartment. They said they removed the davenport from the lounge, put it on top of their car, and drove downtown where they were stopped by borough police.

Dean of Men Frank J. Simes said he could recall no similar incident in the past where students had been apprehended in the act. He said he would not know what disciplinary action would be taken until the hearing this morning.

Borough Chief of Police John Juba said the students were not held because the incident was in the jurisdiction of University officials rather than the borough police.

Hamilton Hall residents were not aware of the attempted theft because the davenport was returned so promptly.

TODAY'S WEATHER:
CLOUDY AND WARM

The Daily Collegian

FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

VOL. 55, No. 12 STATE COLLEGE, PA., FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 1, 1954 FIVE CENTS

'Fair' Theme Set For Spring Week

By MIKE MILLER

Spring Week will follow a "Country Fair" theme this year in honor of the University's 100th birthday.

All-University Cabinet last night adopted in full the recommendations of the student encampment Centennial committee, presented by Diehl McKalip, chairman.

The resolution adopted last night creates a centennial committee which will work in conjunction with the Spring Week committee.

The Spring Week committee members are Joseph Barnett, chairman; Richard Favro, Ross Clark, Carol Avery, Nancy Scofield, Donald Bell, Otto Hetzel, and Diehl McKalip.

Under the resolution the Spring Week committee will be required to set up booth categories, such as reviews, chance games, children's shows, etc.

The judging of these shows will place more than 50 per cent emphasis on originality and good taste and not be entirely on the basis of the number of tickets sold as in the past.

Shows will be judged only against those in their own class, however, to eliminate inequalities, McKalip said.

McKalip explained the committee felt it necessary to place emphasis on originality and good taste in order to eliminate the racy shows that have been prevalent in the past.

The Centennial committee's report also specifies that prizes in the float parade this year will be given to the first three places in each category rather than only to the first place winners.

Under the new rules adopted, the Madhatter's parade will be held in the early evening rather than at noon. The parade will follow a route from Home Economics to Pugh street, along Senior Walk to the Mall, and then to Old Main in order to provide greater audience participation.

The encampment committee was the first student committee to discuss the Centennial. A University committee has been functioning for more than two years.

The University group has recommended a University birthday party for Feb. 22 in the Hetzel Union Building. The student committee expanded on this and recommended joint open houses at all fraternities and dormitories following the "birthday party."

Exchange dinners will be held between sororities and fraternities in celebration of the event on that day. Following the dinners the groups can then listen to the festivities at the HUB and hold mixers.

In another recommendation the committee asked that the colleges hold their open houses on the same day this year in order to attract more visitors to campus.

Robert Homan, All-University secretary-treasurer, asked Cabinet to approve the allocation of $410 to buy coat racks for use at Rec Hall on big weekends. The

(Continued on page eight)

'Who's Who' Post Rejected by Simes

By ANN LEH

Dean of Men Frank J. Simes last night asked All-University Cabinet to delete his name from the "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" selection committee list and voiced his disapproval of the publication.

Simes was listed as one of ten committee members in a report seeking the revision of selection of candidates for the book.

The book has been disapproved by the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators, he said.

George Donovan, director of student affairs, asked cabinet to postpone action on the selections committee until a thorough re-evaluation of the book could be made.

"Who's Who" is an annual directory of the names of students prominent at colleges and universities throughout the country.

This issue came before cabinet last night because of dissatisfaction over University nominations for the book last year. In the report presented by All-University Secretary-Treasurer Robert Homan, a permanent selections committee had been named.

The committee would consist of the Deans of Men and Women, Director of Student Affairs, All-University president, senior class president, the editor of the Daily Collegian, and the presidents of the Interfraternity and Panhellenic Councils, the Association of Independent Men and Leonides.

Previous to the statement by Simes, it had been proposed that the All-University president and the last four officers named above be eliminated from the committee.

Benjamin Sinclair, representative of the Board of Dramatics and Forensics, suggested that instead five cabinet members be chosen by lot.

On this proposal, Donovan pointed out that a freshman (freshman class president) would soon be

(Continued on page eight)

2000 Cheer Football Team At Pep Rally

Picture Page Two

Members of the Nittany Lion football squad leave campus at 8 this morning on their invasion into Orangeland, their ears probably still echoing last night's enthusiastic send-off by some 2000 victory-hungry fans.

While co-captain Jim Garrity promised the team would do its best to "bring home the bacon," tackle "Rosey Grier played" it cautious.

"We won't promise to beat Syracuse," he said, "but we will promise to do our best."

Surprise guest at the rally was "Miss Syra-Cuse" who maintained a mute silence. The crowd, in deference to the fairer sex—and the weaker team—welcomed the primal to the University loudly.

Other team members who had a few words to say were Lenny Moore, Gene Danser, and Otto Kneidinger.

The Penn State marching Blue Band, under the direction of James Donlap, opened the rally with their rendition of the St. Louis Blues March. Other selections played were "Victory," "Fight on State," and the Alma Mater.

Masters of ceremonies for the rally were Sam Wolcott and Fred Owlett who kept the crowd entertained throughout.

A season ticket will entitle the owner to a seat in Schwab Auditorium but not a particular reserved seat.

In addition to these four personalities, a bonus speaker will be added as soon as final arrangements are made.

The Community Forum was organized by campus and town groups to bring prominent speakers on the general topics of culture, entertainment, politics, and international affairs.

Forum Chairman

Kent Forster, associate professor of history, is chairman of the forum. Among the 17 sponsoring organizations are All-University Cabinet, American Legion, Hillel Foundation, Women Student Government Association, and Rotary. Tickets may also be obtained from representatives of these organizations.

Fadiman, who will open the program, is probably most widely known as master of ceremonies of the radio program "Information Please" and television show "This Is Show Business." His most recent appearance is as host of his own radio show, "Conversation."

He has made a hobby of collecting what he calls "readaloudables," which are selections, ranging from a sentence to a long short story. These he reads aloud interspersed with pertinent commentary.

Laughton Directs

Miss Moorehead's program, "That Fabulous Redhead," is presented by Paul Gregory and directed by Charles Laughton, a combination which has produced "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial," and "Don Juan in Hell," with which Miss Moorehead toured, and the program of readings which was done for last year's Forum by Laughton.

She will present a variety of dramatic material from Bible stories to James Thurber. Highlighted on the program will be her re-enactment of "Sorry Wrong Number," which she performed over "Suspense" in 1943 and has done 11 times on radio since.

UN Delegate

Romulo, recently appointed chairman of the Philippine delegation to the UN, was UN General Assembly president in 1949 and has been his country's representative at the UN since its organization.

He began his road to fame as a newspaper man. By 1937 he was publisher of a chain of papers

(Continued on page eight)

Giants Gain Second Series Win; Rhodes 2d Homer and Single

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP)—Clutch-hitting Dusty Rhodes smashed a pinch-hit single and another home run today and young Johnny Antonelli hurled a gritty, eight-hitter to whip the Cleveland Indians 3-1 and give the New York Giants a 2-0 lead in the World Series.

Rhodes continued his spectacular pinch hitting with a fifth inning single that tied the score and smashed a solid home run off the facade of the upper right field stands in the seventh to give the young Giant southpaw a more comfortable working margin. His homer was a genuine blow, in sharp contrast to the pinch pop fly that won the opener yesterday in the 10th inning.

Tribe Leaves 13

Antonelli, the 21-game winner

the Giants snared from Milwaukee in a deal for Bobby Thomson last winter, skirted several shaky situations to leave 13 Cleveland men on base. That made it 26 left in two futile games for the American League champs who set a league record with 111 victories while dethroning the New York Yankees.

The slick lefty from Rochester, N.Y., once paid a $65,000 bonus by the Boston Braves, walked six and struck out nine. More important, he came through in the clutch. He never was home free, struggling up the road with Indians to left and right of him all the way.

Trouble In Ninth

Even in the ninth he was in trouble. Al Smith, whose first inning homerun on Antonelli's first pitch gave Cleveland its only score, opened with a single off John's glove. Bobby Avila, the league batting champ, followed with a single to left.

While Hoyt Wilhelm heated up in the bullpen, Antonelli settled down to strike out an angry Larry Doby, make Rudy Regalado force Avila at second and then retired troublesome Vic Wertz on a long fly to Rhodes in deep left to end the game.

Move to Cleveland

Now the teams switch to Cleveland where tomorrow's third game will be played, starting at 1 p.m. Mike Garcia (19-8), a right-hander, will try to get Cleveland into the win column while Ruben Gomez (17-9), Puerto Rican right-hander, is the Giant choice.

Rhodes finally got a chance to stay in a ball game when Manager Leo Durocher let his pinch-hitting prize take over in left field after he batted for Monte Irvin in the fifth.

Early Wynn, chunky Indian pitcher, had pitched a tremendous game in the first four innings, blowing down the Giants 1-2-3. None of the first 12 batters reached base.

(Continued on page six)

Hort Woods Attackers Held

Eight youths who attacked a student and his date Wednesday evening in Hort Woods have been arrested, according to State Police at Rockview.

They have been charged with disorderly conduct with a possibility of one of trespassing on University property being added. As of yesterday a formal charge of assault has not been issued, police said.

The youths, all sixteen or seventeen years old, are from the State College area. Wednesday night they attacked Bernard Van Zyl, fifth semester mechanical engineering major, while he and his date were sitting on a bench in Hort Woods. No medical treatment was needed, police added.