Coed Dorm Units Elect 18 to Office

Eighteen women were elected to office Thursday night in six women's living units in Simmons and McElwain Halls. Newly elected presidents will make up the Women's Student Government Association House of Representatives.

Dormitory vice-presidents will act as alternates. House elections for Grange, Atherton and the remaining units in McElwain Hall will be held Monday night.

Winners of the Simmons elections are Margaret Fisher, unit one president; Polly Fowler, vice president; and Joan Carter, secretary-treasurer.

Unit two officers are Jane Cameron, president; Jane De Voe, vice president; and Marlene Chase, secretary-treasurer.

New officers of unit three are Joan Clark, president; Bernadette Sheehan, vice president; and Sara Sensening, secretary-treasurer.

Alletta Manbeck was elected president of unit four; Nancy Light, vice president; and Shirley Solomon, secretary-treasurer.

Atherton unit one president is Barbara Lederer; Mary Heckman, vice president; and Catherine Carr, secretary-treasurer.

Elizabeth Kriebel is Atherton unit two president; Joyce Gardner, vice president; and Greta Jordan, secretary-treasurer.

Prof to Speak To Musicians

Frances M. Andrews, associate professor of music education, will address the Central Regional Conference of the Pennsylvania Federation of Music Clubs at the Nittany Lion Inn today.

Dr. Andrews' talk on "Teaching Today's Children Music" will follow the opening business meeting at 10 a.m.

Raymond H. Brown, assistant professor of music, will give several baritone solos from a collection of Johannes Brahms' songs as a part of the musical program this afternoon. He will be accompanied by Barry S. Brinsmaid, assistant professor of music.

Other selections of the musical program will be two piano selections from Debussy; a selection from Beethoven for two flutes and a clarinet; and selections from Brahms by a choral ensemble.

The musical program is open to the public.
