

Spatafore Gives Spark to Vocals

By ANITA OPRENDEK

Vocal entertainment at the University received a dash of fresh vitality when tiny, blue-eyed Frances Spatafore appeared on campus in frosh customs last fall.

And soon to be included in Miss Spatafore's steadily growing list of singing accomplishments is her appearance with the "Dream Spinners" as vocalist for Cwens' annual Dungere Drag, to be held 9 p.m. to midnight Saturday in Recreation Hall.

Land Evaluates Training Plan In Formosa

S. Lewis Land, director of vocational teacher education and professor of industrial education, recently flew to Formosa to evaluate a training program for industrial teachers at Taiwan Teachers College.

A contract between the University and the teachers college was set up two years ago after Land made a similar trip to help lay plans for the college and its program designed to assist the Nationalist Chinese government in development of the island's economy.

During his recent trip, Land was to make recommendations for extending the contract, which will expire in March. He said he found while in Formosa for three weeks substantial progress has been made toward the program's goals, and the attitude of the people of Formosa is favorable to the United States.

The program is sponsored and financed by the Foreign Operations Administration in Washington.

University Faculty

At present the University has two full-time staff members at Taiwan Teachers College. Last year 12 staff members of the college, including the president and the head of the Industrial Education department, had attended the University. This year five of the 12 are still studying industrial education at the University.

9 Million People

The island of Formosa is approximately one-third the area of Pennsylvania and has a population of 9 million, including 2 million Chinese who came from the mainland in 1948 and 1949. Formosa is primarily an agricultural country with two-thirds of the people living on farms, but the island has become more industrialized in the past two years, Land said. Rice and sugar are the two principle crops.

Land spent two days in Honolulu on his return trip on a mission for the Foreign Operations Administration to China.

Thru the Looking Glass

with Gabbi

Hi there! Come out of your slicker and rainhat for about 30 seconds while we catch up on some chatter (no, not your teeth, child) and run between classes and raindrops with our Collegians turned to page 5 (after you use it to keep your books dry, natch!) We've got tips galore to go off on tangents about today.

Singing in the rain

Heck no, it would sound like gargling — unless you had some covering to keep your noodle and the notes dry. What else besides an umbrella, not just an ordinary one — but a paisley print, polka dot, stripe or solid color to blend in with your raingear. Real gay rainsheddors that make purty pictures in the Mall parade. Bamboo, jet or lucite handles to lock fingers with (not like HIM, but let's be practical).

Dreamstuff for the delicate lady are these plush, quilted ear-ring and stocking cases in luscious satin, all tied up in a pert bow. Great way to classify your jewelry and nylons — and they make drawers a perfect picture of neatness! For travelling, a compact, eye-catching jewelry - sewing kit, zippers top and bottom, doll-size and dainty. Boudoir slippers in feathery silk shantung or chambray to tote in a suitcase and nicest of all — gifts or treat yourself idea — 3 piece lingerie sets for those personal things, pure sliik, 12.95 — moire 7.95.

New look for necklines

This year it's rope or long strands of beads to complete that simple, classic jersey and of course that magic showcase of ETHEL'S has a stunning array in gold, silver, pearl or multi-colored (a little different from jute or twine). There's much more to catch your eye beyond that inviting glass door at ETHEL'S. We kid you not as Capt. Queeg says, but why take our word for it? Drop in any time to browse — Gabbi finds it as much fun as co-education! We'll be seeing you.
