

WSGA Will Screen Freshman Nominees

Five women of the Women's Student Government Association will meet at 6:30 p.m. Monday in White Hall to screen nominees for freshman senator. The screening board, made up of Patricia Ellis, WSGA president; Kaye Kingsley, vice president; Susan Hill, treasurer; and Martha Michener and Barbara Hendel, present freshman senators, will pick approximately ten women to run for election.

Evangelist To Present Talk Friday

Kirby Page, leading American social evangelist and author, will present a lecture on "As We Face Total War" at 8 p.m. Friday at the Westminster Foundation, 132 W. Beaver avenue.

Page's talk, sponsored by the State College Friends Meeting, is part of a nation-wide tour under the auspices of the American Friends Service Committee.

A native of Tyler County, Texas, Page received his formal education at Drake University, University of Chicago, Columbia University, and Union Theological Seminary. He received his D.D. degree from Drake University, and is an ordained minister, Disciples of Christ.

Among his pastorates, Page has served in Monteith, Iowa; Morgan Park Church of Christ; and Ridgewood Church of Christ, New York.

He was editor of "The World Tomorrow" from 1926 to 1934.

Page's early career included YMCA work in Houston, Texas, and in France and the British Isles during World War I. Later in that war he traveled with Sherwood Eddy in evangelistic campaigns among students of America, China, Japan, and Korea.

He is author of ten books, among them "The Sword and the Cross," "Imperialism and Nationalism," "Jesus or Christianity," and "Living Creatively."

A public forum will follow the open lecture. No admission will be charged.

Hillel to Offer Seven Courses

Seven courses in the Hebrew language and Jewish history are being offered by the Hillel Foundation.

The courses, which will meet once a week at hours to be determined by members of the classes after registration is completed, are open to the public.

Registration blanks may be obtained at the Hillel Foundation, 224 Locust Lane. They must be turned in to the Foundation by Friday. There is no fee for admission to the classes.

A course in beginner's Hebrew will teach basic elements of reading and writing and an introduction to the translation of the language. Intermediate Hebrew will concentrate on grammar and translation.

A course in modern conversational Hebrew will be taught by a native Israeli instructor. There also will be an advanced course of Hebrew of the Bible.

In addition to these language courses, the Rabbi Benjamin M. Kahn will teach three courses on Jewish history.

Forster Will Speak To UCA Group Tonight

Kent Forster, associate professor of history, will speak on "You and Foreign Affairs" at the University Christian Association meeting at 7 tonight in 304 Old Main.

Forster's talk is the last in a series of three discussions on the topic "Politics and You."

The meeting is open to the public. A social gathering will follow the meeting.

IFC-Panhel Newsletter

Sorority women interested in working on the Interfraternity Council-Panhellenic Council newsletter will meet at 7 tonight in 111 Carnegie.

Coeds Elect Officers of Seven Units

Seven freshman living units have elected officers. The president and vice president from each group are delegates to Freshman Council.

Thompson Hall A and B levels has elected Mary Ellen Edwards, president; Carol Braun, vice president; Patricia Moran, secretary; and Jean Stoop, treasurer.

First floor Thompson Hall elected Beau Barns, president; Carol Bauer, vice president; Joan Heilman, secretary; and Ann Nitrauer, treasurer.

President of second floor Thompson Hall is Helene Scholes. Other officers are Alice Wolf, vice president; secretary-treasurer, Patricia Edmundson.

Third and fourth floors Thompson Hall elected Dot Gardner, president; Molly Lockwood, vice president; and Madelaine Stewart, treasurer.

Woman's Building elected Rita Brown, president; Sidney Beahan, vice president; and Cynthia Byers, secretary-treasurer.

Jane Gutteron was elected president of town women; Barbara Jones is vice president; and Joan Hawbaker is secretary-treasurer.

MacAllister Hall elected Sally Barnes, president; Phoebe English, vice president; and Hinda Siegel, secretary-treasurer.

Freshman Council will meet at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in the computer's room in Woman's Building.

UN Trip Set For December

The first week in December has been set as the tentative date for the United Nations Seminar sponsored by the University Christian Association.

The UCA has sponsored this three-day trip to the United Nations headquarters in New York for several years. Any student may take part in the seminar.

Organizations may send a representative of their group, and in past years many have financed a part of that representative's expenses.

While in New York, the group will attend sessions of the UN, sit in on any discussions open to the public, visit the General Assembly if it is in session, and make a general tour of the UN.

The cost of the tour has not been determined.

WSGA will pay half the cost for pictures of the final finalists.

The WSGA retreat will be from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. Oct. 24 in the Grange Playroom. Newly elected members of the House of Representatives are asked to be present at the retreat. Plans will be made for the coming year, Gail Smith, retreat committee chairman, said.

WSGA will sponsor freshman teas so that women students may become better acquainted with the activities and functions of the dean of women's office. These weekly teas, beginning Tuesday, will be in the dean's office with at least five members of WSGA Senate present to meet the freshman women.

Nancy Van Tries, chairman of the Centennial committee, recently met with Pearl O. Weston, dean of women. Miss Van Tries said that a member of the House would be appointed to the Centennial committee.

The Senate passed the resolution that WSGA, in accordance with the University policy, does not approve the use of alcoholic beverages, and reserves the right to refer to the Judicial committee any woman student whose condition or conduct is unbecoming to a woman student and detrimental to the good of the University.

It was also passed that the above resolution go into effect subject to completion of plans for presentation and implementation. Until such time the existing law, which states that WSGA prohibits the use of alcoholic beverages by women students, is still in effect.

COINCIDENCE??

We were looking through our files the other day to see how many winners we had photographed for the many coed beauty contests. With hardly an exception, it was found that the winners had been invariably photographed well in advance of the particular contest. By seeing us before the deluge of late-coming contestants, we had more time to spend with them and consequently, better portraits resulted.

With Pointed Finger . . .

We direct the following statements to you contest officials. Publicize your contest well in advance. For your information, we turned down 14 girls (some mighty good-looking ones, too) who came in too late for Homecoming Queen Contest portraits.

Still Pointed . . .

To you fraternity officers who are supposed to select a girl to represent your house. Be good enough to give the girl at least 2 week's notice if she doesn't already have a portrait.

And You Coeds . . .

A good portrait just can't be created on a mass production time-table. We must have 2 to 3 weeks to make a fine portrait for you. The barest minimum, and only in a contest emergency, is 8 days. As a matter of fact, unless the officials of the forthcoming contest (Junior Prom) give an extension, we expect to be turning girls down right and left for the few available openings will be taken in the next day or so.

Anyway . . .

From here on in, we will adamantly refuse to make contest portraits in less than 8 days.

Sorry . . .

But photography is still an art with us.
