

Cabinet Increases NSA Budget, University Labor Policy Extends Membership for Year Criticized by Lonigan

All-University Cabinet has extended the University's membership in the National Student Association for one year and has increased the NSA budget from $600 to $700 for the coming year.

The NSA resolution passed by cabinet Thursday night also calls for establishing two committees to study means of implementing NSA services to the University and investigating the possibilities of holding the eighth NSA congress at the University.

Janice Holm, NSA coordinator, explained that the budget increase was necessary for one year only. She said that when she assumed her position last spring, she was unaware that expenses of delegates to the congress were to come from the NSA budget.

Congress Expenses

The expenses for the five congress delegates who attended the two-week sessions at Iowa State College totaled $364.74. After national dues of $150 and regional dues of $69 are paid, NSA would have had an operating budget of about $18 for the year, Miss Holm said.

She recommended that in the future, the NSA coordinator be required to submit an estimated budget for the coming year shortly after his opponent in the spring.

Miss Holm also said that in the future, delegates should bear a part of their own convention expenses. According to the resolution, the All-University President and the NSA coordinator will be the University's official delegates. In addition, it was recommended that the Daily Collegian send a representative.

Report Stipulates

However, the report stipulated, other persons who can afford the trip should not hesitate to attend, either as organization representatives or individuals.

Because a wealth of booklets, pamphlets, and requests for information about the University is sent to the coordinator, Miss Holm recommended a study to determine the possibility of the establishment of a standing committee to take care of this material. She said she felt that there was great need and use for the material, but that at present use was hampered by a lack of proper distribution and filing.

The second study recommended was to determine the advisability of setting up an NSA Travel Advisory Board on campus.

Travel Program

Under the NSA travel program students are given special foreign travel discounts from the State Department. An NSA tour may cost as little as $700.

In addition, the NSA pays the campus NSA $5 for each student who takes an NSA tour. Harold Perkins, assistant to the dean of men, reported that some schools are able to pay their entire NSA budget from these $5 discounts.

An amendment proposed by Robert Dennis, president of the Association of Independent Men, calls for investigating the possibility of having the NSA Congress at the University this summer.

Dennis will contact the University officials and the national headquarters in Philadelphia to determine what this will entail. He will report to cabinet in two weeks.

Lewis Will Discuss Literature Tonight

Fourth and fifth semester men students may apply by submitting a letter listing campus activities, All-University average, and general qualifications.

HEc House Plans Reach Final Stage

University architects are completing final plans for the construction of four home economics management houses to be built on the site formerly occupied by the Windcrest trailers, Walter H. Wiegand, director of the physical plant, said yesterday.

Three buildings will be erected. Two buildings will be ranch-type structures and the third will be a two-story building with two units, each serving as a separate house. Living quarters will be on the ground floor, with sleeping quarters on the second floor.

Preliminary drilling for foundation tests for the buildings was expected to begin yesterday. However, work was held up because of rain. Wiegand said work on the tests would begin within the next few days.

No Bids

No bids have been let for construction of the houses pending approval of the final plans.

Wiegand also reported that work on the nuclear reactor and the skating rink is progressing on schedule. The skating rink opening is set for Nov. 15, while the reactor is expected to open late in December.

Work Progressing

The outside brickwork on the reactor is nearing completion, according to Wiegand. It is also expected that the tower section will be enclosed with steel and roofed by the end of this month. While the building for the reactor may be complete by the end of the year, Wiegand said, more time may be required to install the reactor unit itself.

The building for the skating rink is also nearing completion, and refrigeration equipment is being installed in the rink proper.

HUB Exterior Nearly Done

Exterior work on the Hetzel Union Building, scheduled to open in February, is also nearing completion. Some landscaping has been done, and workmen are now finishing the interior and installing equipment.

The University is also planning to build a 750,000-gallon water storage tank to help meet the growing need for water on campus.

The tank, to be erected on the eastern edge of Horticulture Woods, will be erected on structural supporting members. The supports will not be enclosed at the time the tank is built, but they may be enclosed with masonry at a later date.

Man-Woman Ratio Increases At University

The ratio problem is still with us.

Despite a record enrollment, it looks as though the men will still have trouble finding a date. In fact, the situation is slightly worse than it was a year ago.

A total of 14,271 students enrolled on main campus and the centers this fall. Of these 10,885 are men and 3,386 are women. The ratio is 3.21 men for each woman.

Last fall, the total enrollment was 12,753—8,513 men and 3,016 women. Ratio: 2.82 to 1.

Not much improvement. On campus alone, the situation isn't quite as bad. Total campus enrollment for this semester is 12,003. Men number 8,946 against 3,057 women—a ratio of 2.92 to 1.

Last fall's campus ratio was 2.82 to 1. Enrollment—11,529. Men—8,513. Women—3,016.

Actually, this year's ratio for the main campus was 2.92639843 to 1, while the ratio for total enrollment was 3.21470762 to 1.

Let's face it, there are some things that can never be improved, no matter what.

Distribution Staff Of CPA to Meet

The distribution staff of the Central Promotion Agency will meet at 7:30 tonight in 201 Willard. Candidates for the agency may attend.

The Central Promotion Agency serves as an advertising media for campus organizations. The agency operates on a cost plus 15 per cent basis, taking advertising for any event from an applying organization.

The agency is divided into four staffs: design, distribution, production, and news staffs. Each of the staffs is then subdivided into boards.

Circulation Staff Meeting

The circulation staff of the Daily Collegian will meet at 6:30 tonight in the business office of the Daily Collegian.

"THE ADVENTURES OF ROBINSON CRUSOE"

Based on Daniel Defoe's Classic!

Robert P. Lonigan, international representative of the Building Service Employees International, criticized what he called the "horse and buggy" labor policies of the University, at the charter meeting of the new service employees union Friday night.

Lonigan presented the official charter to Local 417 of the Building Employees International, the group which broke away from the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees two weeks ago.

He criticized the University for refusing to officially recognize an employees union.

"Up to now," he said, "there hasn't been a wholesome stand to recognize a union at the University."

First Cousin

"When an employee can't bargain with his employer, the University has become first cousin to a company union. We used to be able to bargain and we will keep working until you can again," he continued.

Lonigan termed the classification plan offered to the union by the University "a frustrated step in the direction they should have gone ten years ago."

He said he had never before heard of a plan whereby a man had to work two years before he can reach the minimum wage classification.

Alternate Plan

The union is now working on a draft of an alternate plan to present to the University. Kenneth Dixon, president of the new local, said Lonigan had arranged a meeting with two men from outside the union who have made a life-long study of classification plans. He said the meeting will take place in the near future.

Lonigan also said that under the University's plan it "seems to be the pattern to pay a man until he reaches the minimum wage and then replace him with newer, cheaper blood."

Approximately 40 union members attended the meeting and were sworn in. Dixon attributed the poor attendance to the storm which hit State College Friday night.

Meeting Rescheduled

Dixon said the meeting is rescheduled for 8 p.m. Friday in the IOOF Hall.

Temporary officers, who will serve for three months, were also given the oath of office. They include Dixon; Harry Mingle, vice president; George Smith, secretary; Thomas Hartswick, treasurer; and William Benson, chief steward. Hartswick, who was unable to attend the meeting, will be sworn in Friday, along with

2500 Penn Game Tickets Available At Athletic Office

Approximately 2500 student tickets to the Penn State-Penn game are still available at the Athletic Association ticket office in Recreation Hall. AA office hours are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

These tickets, about 400 are for the bleachers behind the west goal posts. The rest are for seats along the north sidelines. Sideline tickets are $4 each and the others $2.50. Each student is limited to six tickets.

Yesterday, the first day of the sales, the office sold about 600 tickets at $2.50 and 1000 at $4. Sales will continue through Oct. 27.

Sunday night an estimated 125 students, mostly fraternity pledges, stood, leaned, or slept in shifts in Rec Hall waiting for sales to begin. Because of the six-ticket limit set this year fraternities wishing large blocks of tickets had to send more than one representative.

other members who were absent. Dixon reported that over 400 workers had signed applications and paid dues.
