

TCU Record Shows Danger for Lions

Flashy Texas Christian University, a football team that hit bottom in the Southwest Conference last year and bounced right back into contention for the championship this season, moves into Penn State focus this Saturday at Amon Carter Stadium at Fort Worth, Texas.

And, Lion coach Rip Engle isn't expecting a moment's rest for this one. The Horned Frogs, under coach Abe Martin, have beaten three fine teams this season—Kansas, Southern California, and Texas A&M, while they lost squeakers to top-ranked Oklahoma and conference favorite Arkansas.

All of which indicates that the Frogs are a much better team than last year when they won only three games but gave Penn State a whale of a fight at Beaver Field before finally succumbing, 27-21.

The Texans easily whipped Kansas in their opener, 27-6, battled Oklahoma to the hilt before losing it 21-16, and then lost another close one to Arkansas, 20-13. They bounced back to beat ninth-ranked Southern Cal 20-7 at Los Angeles and last week edged the Aggies 21-20.

Clinkscale at Quarterback
Led by quarterback Ronnie Clinkscale and fullback Buddy Dike, the Frogs operate from the T-formation behind a 210-pound line that has speed to go along with its weight.

Lion coach Frank Patrick, who drew the TCU scouting assignment said that the Frogs rank with one of the year's top teams. He said Abe Martin's team has improved from week to week, and is now achieving the poise and maturity it lacked a year ago.

Patrick named Clinkscale and Dike as backs capable of "going the whole way" and Charlie Curtis, a second-runner to Clinkscale at quarterback now, a "better than average passer."

Leading Runner

Dike, a sophomore, is the team's leading ground gainer with 330 yards in 84 carries. It's Clinkscale, however, who poses the biggest threat. The senior quarterback scored twice—once from 60 yards out—against Southern Cal and last week sprinted 79 yards for another score against Texas A&M.

Twenty-five lettermen give Martin, who took over the coaching job last season, plenty of depth in every position, particularly in the line where he has seven veteran performers, all of them 200 pounds or better.

The Frogs, primarily a passing team in the past, have traveled mostly on the ground this year but still loom as a real threat through the air. In five games Clinkscale and Curtis have thrown most of 55 passes, completing 22.

The Lions, stunned by West Virginia last week, will be seeking their fourth win of the season. This will be only the second game played between the two teams.

Minoso, Mays Top Major League Sluggers

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—Outfielders Willie Mays of the New York Giants and Orestes (Minnie) Minoso of the Chicago White Sox, a pair of powerful righthanded hitters, today were crowned the major league slugging kings for 1954.

Mays, returning from a two-year Army hitch to spark the Giants to the world championship, topped the National League with a lustrous .667 slugging average. Minoso, in his fourth season in the majors, was the American League leader with .535.

Barbell Club

An intra squad match between members of the Barbell Club will be held at 7 tomorrow night in the barbell room in Rec Hall. Bill Pearce, club president, said that the purpose of the meet is to help decide who will compete for the club against other teams.

Anyone who is interested may attend.

Shutouts Highlight IM Football Action

The sensational passing of Hubie Kline proved to be too much for the PUNCHY NINE to cope with, as Dorm 44 ran roughshod over them, 29-0, in intramural football last night at Beaver Field.

In the remaining games, Beta Theta Pi came from behind to edge Phi Kappa Sigma 7-2, Dorm 25 went down to defeat before Dorm 27, 1-0, and in the final contest Alpha Sigma Phi topped Zeta Beta Tau, 20-0.

With the first half nearing its close, Kline threw a 55 yard touchdown pass to Walt Knepley to start the Dorm 44 rout. In the second half fireworks began for the PUNCHY NINE, with Kline heaving two more touchdown passes. The winners scored a safety when Ray Cooward tackled Mel Black in the end zone.

Kline, who also played fine defensive ball, intercepted a pass on the 30-yard line of the PUNCHY NINE and on the next play threw for a TD to Cooward.

After the kickoff, which put the PUNCHY NINE deep in their own territory, Dorm 44's John Chapman intercepted on the three-yard line and ran for the score.

The final score came on a 35-yard pass from Kline to Harter Banks.

In the second game fraternities took the field. Both Beta Theta Pi and Phi Kappa Sigma did all their scoring in the final two minutes of the game.

The first score came when a punt to Beta Theta Pi put them on their own two-yard line. On the first play Bill Marshall trapped Sandy Ayers for a safety to put Phi Sigma Kappa ahead 2-0. But Ayers on the kickoff picked up a free ball on Phi Kappa Sigma's 40 and raced the rest of the way for the winning tally.

The extra point was good.

In the third contest Dorm 25 was edged by Dorm 27, 1-0. The winning point came on a first down after nine minutes of the first half on a pass from Red Bone to Chuck Rine.

For the remaining part of the game both teams failed to threaten. Bruce Taylor of Dorm 25 was the standout on that team, as he passed, ran, and kicked.

In the fourth game Alpha Sigma Phi overwhelmed Zeta Beta Tau with Dave Murphy and George Kitts combining to throw three touchdown passes.

The first TD came on a pass from Murphy to Harry McBurney, the second from Murphy to Ted Ruckert, and the third from Kitts to Ruckert. The extra points came on passes from Murphy to Tom O'Haren.

Arnett Named Top Back

Soccermen Meet Colgate Saturday

The Red Raiders of Colgate, the only soccer team that Penn State failed to score three or more points on last fall, will meet the Lions here Saturday in an attempt to snap a three-game win streak owned by the Lions.

Last year Penn State stormed into Hamilton, N.Y., with a 2-0 chart and hopes of crushing Colgate—which had not won a game in three tries. But the Raiders put on a dazzling display for the undefeated Lions to force the contest into overtime periods.

Penn State finally managed to take the lead and eventually won the contest 1-0 on a 15-yard boot by Mert Springer, then a substitute lineman.

After the Penn State loss Colgate failed to win a game with losses to Cornell, Syracuse, and Union (N.Y.).

But Coach Mark Randall was fielding a team which had only four lettermen backed by a crop of 17 inexperienced sophomores. Although this team lost four games and tied three, only Cornell scored more than three goals against it. Two Colgate losses were by two points, and another by only one.

Colgate, however, will not only have to have an improved offensive game Saturday in order to drop the Lions, but also a sharp defense.

The scoring punch of Coach Ken Hosterman's front line has been cracking the opponent's defense with a machine-gun type of attack.

Penn State has knocked out wins over Bucknell, 14-1, Maryland, 5-1, and Syracuse, 9-2. In these three wins, Hosterman's front line has done all the scoring to rack up a phenomenal total of 28 goals... an average of better than nine goals a game.

The 28 goals stacked up against the opposition this season in the first three games exceeds the total of 26 which Penn State earned in seven games last fall. In the first three games last fall against Bucknell, Maryland, and Army the Lions scored 14 goals to seven by the opposition.

University Will Hold Cage, Wrestling Clinic

Basketball and wrestling clinics will again be offered at the University in December.

The court clinic, with varsity coach John Egli and freshman coach Don Swegan in charge, opens Saturday afternoon, Dec. 4. The mat clinic will take place the same day.

Farrell High School coach Ed McCluskey and Penn State trainer Charles (Chuck) Medlar will participate in the basketball program.

Wrestling, headed by coach Charlie Speidel, will be held morning and afternoon in the Armory. Hubert Jack, Lock Haven State Teachers College coach, will be one of his several guest coaches.

Plan to Aid Minors

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 19 (AP)—Three baseball committees met here today to map legislation, giving the minor leagues a better break.

Separate sessions were held today, but the three groups will get together tomorrow to pool their ideas and suggestions.

'Blessings' for A's Held Back by AL

CHICAGO, Oct. 19 (AP)—The American League's formal blessing of the Philadelphia Athletics' new deal again failed to materialize today.

League President Will Harridge reiterated his stand of yesterday that he would have no statement "until final papers have been drawn for the purchase of the Philadelphia club's stock."

In the meantime, Harridge is studying all angles of the sale of the A's by the Mack family to a group of Philadelphia businessmen. The league has the right to approve or disapprove the sale.

The eight new owners of the club have scheduled an organization meeting in Philadelphia tomorrow and must be certified by the league before they are officially in business.

Gavilan, Saxton Fight For Title Tonight

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19 (AP)—After two postponements due to hand trouble and a case of mumps, Kid Gavilan finally is ready to defend his world welterweight title against New York's Johnny Saxton tomorrow night at Convention Hall.

The sleek Cuban remains a strong 19 to 10 favorite in the 15-round match, despite the usual rumors that he will have trouble making the 147-pound class limit.
