Worship Services Set for Weekend

Worship services have been scheduled for the weekend by nine student church groups.

Elton Atwater, associate professor of political science, will speak on "The United Nations Today" at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow in the United Student Fellowship of the Faith Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The Eastern Orthodox Greek Catholic Society will hold divine liturgy at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow in 304 Old Main. Services will be conducted by the Rev. Basil Buchevecky, and the sermon will be in English.

Joseph T. Bayly, national literature secretary of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, will present the last of a series of lectures on "The Relevance of Christianity" at 7:30 tonight in 405 Old Main. His topic will be "What Is Faith?"

The Rev. John Duley, pastor to Presbyterian students, will speak on "God Speaks to the Student—the Bible" at 6:20 p.m. tomorrow at Westminster Foundation of the Presbyterian Church.

The Society of Friends will hold a house building work party in Houserville tomorrow afternoon. The group will leave the State College Friends Meeting House, 318 S. Atherton street, at 1:30 p.m. and will return for supper at 6 p.m., to be followed by a social hour.

Hal Leiper, program associate of the University Christian Association, will tell about the World Council of Churches meeting in Evanston, Ill., in August at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Roger Williams Fellowship. A supper will be held at 5 p.m. before the service.

Betsy Sharpe, fifth semester arts and letters major, will direct a drama pertaining to world needs at the meeting of Wesley Foundation of the Methodist Church at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The Hillel Upperclass Independents will hold a Cider and Donut Drag at Hillel Foundation tonight. The program will include dancing and games.

The Rev. George E. Whetstone, assistant to the president of the Central Pennsylvania Synod, United Lutheran Church in America, will speak to the Lutheran Student Association at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow. An informal discussion will follow the meeting.

Emerson Group To Hear Shute

J. Ray Shute, president of the Unitarian Laymen's League, will present a public lecture on "The Anatomy of Liberalism" at 7 p.m. Monday in 121 Sparks. The lecture is sponsored by the Emerson Society of the Unitarian Church.

Shute received his LL.B. degree from LaSalle University and his M.A. from Atlantic University. He served a term as state senator in North Carolina and two terms as mayor of Monroe, N.C. From 1951 to 1953 he was district director of the Office of Price Administration for North Carolina and eastern Tennessee.

At present Shute is a member of the Duke University National Council. He is also president of J. R. Shute Company and of Union Aircraft Corporation.

Shute is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Antiquaries, a member of the Authors' Club of England, the author of 15 books, and has served for three years on the editorial board of "The Christian Register."

Barr to Give Chapel Talk Tomorrow

The Rev. Browne Barr, associate professor of preaching at the Yale University Divinity School, will speak on "The More Excellent Way" at Chapel services at 10:55 a.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

A graduate of Grinnell College, Rev. Barr received his bachelor of divinity degree from Yale University.

He was associate minister of Center Congregational Church, Manchester, Conn., from 1942 to 1944, when he became minister of the South Congregational Church of Middletown, Conn.

Browne Barr Chapel Speaker

In addition to his duties at Yale, he has been minister of the Second Congregational Church of Waterbury, Conn., since 1950. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Connecticut Conference of Congregational-Christian churches.

Sinclair Outlines Precinct Work To Republicans

Benjamin Sinclair, Young Republican county chairman, Thursday night outlined precinct work to members at a Penn State Young Republican meeting. Workers were given pamphlets and assigned precincts for the campaign which begins Monday night.

Sinclair said posters had been distributed for the opening of the Young GOP headquarters at 9 a.m. yesterday in the State College Hotel.

Sinclair also announced an ox roast Saturday at Hecla Park. Republican candidates will be presented at this time. Transportation to the roast will be provided. Cars will leave from headquarters at 4:30 p.m.

Robert Kurtz, club president, appointed Robert Hawk publicity chairman. Headquarters hours were assigned to members by June Koziar, secretary.

During the meeting it was moved to change the meeting night to Tuesday because of conflicting activities. The motion passed and will go into effect in November.
