

From This Angle...

"It was the most frustrating game I ever coached." That's all Rip Engle said Saturday after his team lost that 20-7 crusher to Texas Christian. But it actually told a big tale.

The Lion coach saw his team move seemingly at will between the two twenty yard lines, only to fail when the crucial play arose. And he saw this same team fumble the ball five times, bringing the season total to 20—just nine short of the number of completed passes shown on the Lions' five-game statistic sheet.

Only two of the bobbles were lost, but both hurt immensely. One set up the first TCU touchdown, and the second froze a possible Penn State touchdown on the Frogs' six yard line.

Ron Younker's 47-yard jaunt in the fourth quarter, called back because the Lions were ruled off sides, shutout another possible scoring drive. Head linesman Harold Wilkins, later revealed that he called the penalty because Frank Reich had his head past the ball. That's a mere technicality in the rules and I'll bet it's been a long time since officials called that penalty.

Lenny Moore's pass reception for Penn State's only touchdown was a real thriller. Moore went up for the ball thrown by Bobby Hoffman but it was tipped away by Chuck Curtis. The flash snagged it, though, as both he and Curtis fell to the ground. It was his sixth TD in five games.

Speaking of passes, Don Bailey had some tough luck in the first quarter when two perfect tosses were broken up by TCU defenders. The first was a perfect strike to Jim Garrity in the endzone. The ball was just inches from the speedy end's arms when Ray Taylor tipped the ball away.

On the following play Bailey hit Moore on the left sidelines. But Jim Swink grabbed an arm just as the Lion halfback touched the ball and it fell free as an incomplete pass.

At least three former Penn State athletes attended the game. Wrestler Joe Lemyre, Ed Haag, a basketball player last year, and griddler Pete Schoderbek were on hand. All three are stationed at the Air Force Base near Fort Worth. Haag and Schoderbek were graduated last June and Lemyre received his degree in 1953.

Basketball Candidates

Candidates for varsity and freshman basketball should report to Recreation Hall Monday. Freshmen will practice from 4 to 6 p.m. and the varsity will practice from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

The freshmen are to report to coach Don Swegan and the varsity to head coach John Egli to get their physicals done.

Fullback Charlie Blockson, like tackle Rosey Grier, is a weight man on the Penn State track team.

Lions and Pitt Frosh Tie, 6-6

A late first half rush and a desperate fourth period goal line stand earned Penn State's freshman football team a 6-6 tie with the Pittsburgh frosh Saturday at Pittsburgh.

Halfback Bob Rice intercepted a pass at midfield for the Lions to start the frosh on their touchdown drive. Bob Scrabis, who did most of the Lions' passing, floated a 25-yard aerial to Les Walters with time running out in the half. On the next play a Scrabis-Walters pass resulted in a score.

Emil Caprara, who kicked the winning point in the Lions' 7-6 win over Navy two weeks ago, missed the extra point try.

Pitt scored its lone touchdown in the third period with Jim Abrachinsky scampering the final 35-yards. The extra point attempt was blocked.

The Lions put up a stubborn defense in the fourth period when the Panthers threatened to break the deadlock. Pitt moved within the Nittany Lions' ten-yard line before being halted.

Basketball Managers

There will be a meeting of all candidates for assistant managerhips in basketball at 5 p.m. Thursday on the balcony at Recreation Hall. Candidates are requested to report there at that time.

Alumni Harriers Edged by Lions

By HERM WEISKOPF

"We didn't win, but it was a lot of fun." These were the words echoed by the alumni harriers following their 28-29 loss to the Nittany varsity cross-country team Saturday.

Key injuries crippled the "oldtimers" chances of winning. Although Olympian Curt Stone paced the field of 18 runners, the alumni went down to their second one-point loss in the two-year-old rivalry.

Bill Ashenfelter, who finished in a tie for first with Stone last year, was forced to drop out of the race at the two-mile mark because of an injured left foot.

A foot injury also prevented Olympic 3000-meter steeplechase champion Horace Ashenfelter from taking part in the race.

Three of the top four positions were won by alumni harriers, with only Doug Moorhead, who finished second, able to crack the quartet. Stone's winning time for the four-mile race was 21:24.8, with Moorhead coming in at 21:35. Third place went to John St. Clair with a 21:47 clocking and Bob Freebarin placed fourth at 21:51.

Hollen Places Ninth

Last year's IC4A two-mile titlist, Red Hollen, and Bob Parsons, rounded out the scoring for the alumni. Hollen finished ninth and Parsons 14th. Last season Hollen was unable to compete for the varsity because of a foot injury.

The race got off to a slow start, with Lions' John Chillrud and Ted Garrett setting the pace with a 4:48 mile. Sophomore Paul Roberts and Moorhead were one second behind the leaders at the mile marker. Stone was tied with St. Clair for sixth after one mile.

Moorhead took the lead near the mile and one-half point and opened a big gap. After two miles Moorhead was in front with a 10:11 clocking. Freebarin was second at 10:20, Stone third at 10:21, and Garrett fourth at 10:22.

However, Moorhead slowed his pace after two miles and Stone closed in, finally passing the Nittany distance star near the three-mile marker. Stone was one second in front of Moorhead at the three-mile post—15:46 to 15:47. Then the Smethport High School teacher poured it on, finishing with a 5:38 mile and a healthy lead.

Jim Pastorius was barely in front of Freebarin after three miles, but couldn't hold his lead and placed fifth.

St. Clair came in sixth last year, Freebarin 12th, and Parsons 13th. The order of finish:

1—Stone (A)	21:24.8
2—Moorhead (V)	21:35
3—St. Clair (A)	21:47
4—Freebarin (A)	21:51
5—Pastorius (V)	21:57
6—Garrett (V)	22:08
7—Woodrow (V)	22:10.5
8—Roberts (V)	22:11
9—Hollen (A)	22:13
10—McKelvey (V)	22:44
11—Chillrud (V)	22:52
12—Mowry (V)	22:55
13—Mohler (V)	22:55.1
14—Parsons (A)	23:13
15—Austin (V)	23:57
16—Cunningham (V)	24:25
17—Nash (V)	25:35
18—Yingling (V)	25:41

Frosh Booters Capture First of Season, 6-3

Penn State's freshman soccer team took the wraps off their big guns Saturday afternoon, and leveled the Cosmopolitan eleven, 6-3.

With Terry Reber and Jim Hedg each contributing two goals and a stubborn defense holding the Cosmopolitans in check, the yearlings rolled to their first win of the season. They have dropped one contest to the Lock Haven State Teachers College booters.

The frosh will travel to Maryland to oppose the Frostburg State Teachers eleven, this Saturday.

Penn State, playing its first season under a newly-appointed coach, John Egli, will play 25 basketball games in 1955.
