CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 27 (AP)—Vengeful crowds today put the torch to headquarters of the fanatic Moslem Brotherhood enemies of Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser. Two hours later they embraced the Premier as a hero on his return from Alexandria, where he escaped an assassin's gunfire.

An official announcement said Mahmoud Abdel Latif, 32-year-old Cairo tinsmith who fired eight shots while Nasser was speaking last night in the port city, is a Brotherhood member. He was flown to Cairo this morning for interrogation.

Rescuers Probe Ruins At Salerno

SALERNO, Italy, Oct. 27 (AP)—Mud-caked workers struggled wearily in darkness tonight in an effort to restore normal life to the Salerno area, devastated by Italy's worst flood disaster. Officials said the final death toll may reach 300.

Soldiers and firemen exhausted by nearly 48 hours of continuous labor dug through the ruins of homes, seeking bodies of the missing.

Coast guard boats fished some bodies out of Salerno Gulf, adding to the steadily mounting death toll taken by the flash floods and landslides that struck without warning late Monday night and early yesterday.

Carabinieri reported 217 bodies have been recovered. Seventy persons are missing and feared dead.

Hundreds were injured and about 5000 left homeless along the shoreline from Salerno to Amalfi, a 10-mile stretch of fabled vacationland. Property damage was estimated in the millions.

Premier Mario Scelba arrived here this afternoon to make a personal survey of relief requirements. He flew over the ravaged area in the plane that brought him from Rome, then landed at Naples and came here by car.

He toured much of the stricken zone, but found some smaller villages still are cut off from aid except by sea.

As Scelba entered the Salerno police headquarters to review the situation with lieutenants already on the scene, hundreds of the homeless jammed nearby streets. "We need help! Help us!" many shouted at the Premier.

In Salerno, where American troops stormed ashore 11 years ago, bulldozers and other heavy machinery assaulted the sea of mud the floods washed into the city of 70,000.

In Salerno alone the death toll has exceeded 80. Another 80 dead were counted in Vietri sul Mare, world-famed pottery center, and its suburbs of Marina and Molina.

Man Kills Self With Dynamite

EDINBURG, Tex., Oct. 27 (AP)—An elderly man—despondent since a dynamite blast injury in 1950—detonated a dynamite bomb in his hands today and blew himself to pieces on the second floor of the Hidalgo County Courthouse here.

The explosion wrecked the second floor of the courthouse, tore marble slabs off the walls, broke windows on two floors and shook downtown Edinburg. The five-story courthouse costing 1 1/2 million dollars was dedicated only last summer.

Several hundred persons were in the building at the time of the explosion at 10:04 a.m. Two women suffered severe shock. Minor cuts and bruises were reported to other persons.

The man was Harry Miller, about 60, of Realitos, Tex. He was an oilfield worker who was in court today for a decision on his suit for damages from injuries received in a dynamite explosion in September 1950.

Miller had taken an elevator to the second floor of the courthouse, gone for a moment into the 92nd District courtroom and then walked into the hall where he stood before a mirror beside the elevator and detonated the blast.

The elevator girl, Dinora Carrejo, about 22, had gone back downstairs. She heard the blast, went back to the second floor, opened her door and there saw the man's decapitated head in front of her. She fainted, later awoke screaming and went into severe shock.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Tom Wingert said he was about 30 to 40 feet from the scene of the blast. He said he saw Miller standing there with a package in his arms, just shaking his head.

"The next thing I knew there was a terrific blast," Wingert said. "I was knocked flat. I got up and started running but slipped on the man's leg. The corridor was filled with thick blue-black smoke."

Naming of Sheppard Jury Again Delayed

CLEVELAND, Oct. 27 (AP)—The state twice approved a full panel of jurors today at the murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, but the defense still was not satisfied.

Meanwhile the illness of one seated juror further slowed proceedings and the court recessed for the night with a full jury near, but still not agreed upon.

The ailing juror was Thomas J. Soli, foreman of a railroad track gang. Repeated, severe bronchial coughing spells led him to ask Common Pleas Judge Edward Blythin to excuse him. The judge consented.

The defense used three of its peremptory challenges during the day, and wound up with only one remaining.

One Juror Dismissed
The last juror dismissed was Fred J. Brown, a Negro postal clerk. He hardly had had time to get settled in the jury box. He had been selected as a replacement for 26-year-old Dorothy E. Lee, who was dismissed by the defense.

William C. Lamb, a handsome construction superintendent with a fullback's build, was seated in Soli's place, and the defense then dismissed Brown with a peremptory challenge—that is, without giving any reason.

One Seat Vacant
The day ended with this one jury seat vacant, and with the defense still holding in reserve its final challenge. Defense lawyers declined to say whether they will use it.

Dr. Sheppard, 30, is accused of beating his 31-year-old wife to death July 4 in the bedroom of their lakefront home. Marilyn was four months pregnant with her second child.

State Claims Romance
The state claims the slaying followed an illicit romance between the handsome osteopath and a former technician in his hospital, pretty Susan Hayes, 24. She is scheduled later as a star state witness.

Sheppard, in pleading innocent, claimed a bushy-haired intruder killed his wife and knocked him out when he tried to aid her.

Sheppard's two brothers and their attractive wives for the first time today were prevented from conferring with the defendant inside the courtroom rail during recesses.

Sheriff Joseph M. Sweeney claimed such conferences, and the handshaking and kisses that accompanied them, might influence the jurors.

Diplomat's Wife Is Accused Of Hitting Red

MOSCOW, Oct. 27 (AP)—The Soviet government tonight accused the wife of a U.S. diplomat of hitting a Soviet worker in the face and "brutally" pushing a Russian woman. The foreign ministry has demanded that the diplomat's wife leave Russia.

The Russian version of the incident, which occurred Monday, was substantially different from that given by the State Department in Washington.

They are Mrs. Karl E. Sommerlatte, 32, wife of the second secretary of the U.S. embassy, and Mrs. Houston Stiff, wife of a Marine lieutenant colonel who is assistant naval attache here.

The Soviet version of the incident as broadcast by the Moscow radio was:

The two American women tried to take some pictures Monday of some Russian children against the background of their factory village home which was under repair and showed considerable rubble.

The father of one of the children and a friend, Andrianov, protested and suggested that the women go to the factory club nearby.

At the club, Mrs. Sommerlatte telephoned the American embassy, then went toward an exit. Andrianov met her at the door and tried to call her attention to her "improper act," whereupon Mrs. Sommerlatte hit Andrianov in the face and "brutally pushed away" a woman worker nearby.

The Story of Brunhilda Typical College Coed (continued)

"O.K. group," Brunhilda was saying, "so now I've got a date for the Penn game, so what! No fide!"

What about your date? they questioned.

"Well we tried, but there's not a car left headed for Phila."

"Why don't you walk, everyone's doing it," suggested a young lady of doubtful mental ability. "With Town & Country's comfie tie shoe, the Pogo (no relation to an animal of the same name) and their flattie, the Papoose you could walk forever. Found at Simon's in neutral or gray pigskin."

Although Brundie obtained a ride, she did find Town & Country's pigskins as comfortable and smart as before stated.
