

Auto Accidents Involve Fifteen

Fifteen students were involved in automobile accidents during the weekend. Three were injured when the station wagon in which they were riding rammied into three trees before coming to a halt on the lawn of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity, Locust Lane and E. Prospect avenue. Twelve students were involved in accidents traveling to and from the Penn State-Pennsylvania football game.

In County Court yesterday, two students were each fined $100 and 10 days in jail for their part in a hit-run accident on Oct. 22.

Henry Zeybel, seventh semester journalism major, suffered cuts and bruises, knee injuries, and shock after the station wagon he was operating sideswiped two trees and rammied into a third at 1:05 a.m. Saturday.

Traveling West on Prospect

The station wagon was traveling west on Prospect avenue when it ran out of control. Police reported the driver was going too fast for conditions at the time.

George C. Trevorrow Jr., seventh semester mining engineering major, and Malcolm R. Perry, first semester mechanical engineering major, were passengers in the vehicle. Trevorrow received bruises of the arms and legs. Perry was treated for lacerations of the head.

Martin Kauffman, third semester animal husbandry major, failed to make a curve on the Sweet Hollow road near Paoli Friday night and the car he was driving ran off the road. Kauffman, along with five other students, was on his way to Philadelphia.

The students were treated for injuries, and two, Tom O'Hara, third semester hotel administration, and Ilona Bergman, third semester home economics major, were released and able to attend the football game.

Damage to the car was reported at $600.

Failed to Stop

In Philadelphia, a car operated by Gene Seifrit, fifth semester agricultural education major, was slightly damaged when another vehicle failed to stop at a stop light, crashing into the rear of the Seifrit car.

Seifrit had halted at the stop light on 19th and Sampson streets when the other car failed to stop. Damage to Seifrit's car was estimated at $5 while the second car was damaged to about $200. Five other students were in the Seifrit car.

In County Court, Glenn U. Hoffman, third semester student, and William E. Bradstock, first semester electrical engineering major, pleaded guilty to a hit-run charge. Hoffman was driver of the car which hit a parked car. He was charged with being intoxicated at the time. Bradstock was fined on charges of permitting Hoffman to drive while intoxicated.

Each received a sentence of $100 fine and ten days in jail.

State College police had a rare incident happen to them last week when they tagged James E. Van Zandt, Republican candidate for U.S. Representative, who was in town for a GOP rally, with improper parking. Van Zandt was fined $2 and $5 costs.

Theater Group to Act In 'Trial of Socrates'

Experimental Theater will present "The Trial of Socrates" at 5 p.m. today in the Little Theater of Old Main.

Robert Reifsnider, associate professor of dramatics, will play Socrates. Other cast members are Myron Cole, Richard Land, Morton Slakoff, Leonard Tarnowski, Jay Broad, and Paul Talley. The scene is directed by George Oliver, graduate student in dramatics.

LUNCHEON
Creamed Turkey
on Biscuit
St. Paul's
Methodist Church
Thursday, No. 4
11:30 A.M.
$1.00 per plate
Tickets at church office or door

Bids Ready For H Ec Buildings

Bids for the construction of four home management houses, to be built on the site formerly occupied by the Windcrest trailers, will be sent out today, according to Walter H. Wiegand, director of the physical plant.

The bids will be due Nov. 23. Three buildings will be erected. Two will be ranch-type structures and the third will be a two-story building with two units, each serving as a separate house.

The two ranch-type buildings will be L-shaped, with living quarters in one wing and sleeping rooms in the other. In the two-story building, living quarters will be on the ground floor, with sleeping quarters on the second story. The sleeping quarters will be double rooms.

The buildings will also have basements which will contain work rooms and recreation areas. Each of the four units will house eight girls, a directress, and a baby.

The houses will be of frame construction, with a brick and wood exterior. They will have slate roofs.

No date has been set for the start of construction, pending the return of bids, Wiegand said. However, workmen have begun test drilling to determine the extent of rock which may lie under the foundations.

Blood Drive Deadline Extended

The deadline for returning pledge forms for the blood drive Nov. 10 and 11 has been extended to Thursday, Betty Buchanan, chairman of the drive, has announced. The drive quota is 300 pints.

Only 100 forms were received by yesterday, the original deadline, Miss Buchanan reported. The drive quota is 300 pints.

Miss Buchanan asked for student support in making the drive a success. Blood is much needed for emergencies, she said.

Pledge forms may be obtained at the Student Union desks in Old Main and Waring Hall. Completed forms should contain the student's free hours. A two-hour period is necessary to allow proper processing time.

Completed forms should be placed in containers provided at the two student union desks, in the Temporary Union Building, and in women's residence halls.

Donors will be notified by mail of the times of their donation. Students under 21 who wish to donate blood must have a release form signed by their parents.

The Johnstown Bloodmobile will be at the TUB from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 10 and 11. Four hostesses will be present each hour to serve refreshments and help with registration.

Bunche Tickets Still Available

Approximately 555 tickets are still available for Ralph J. Bunche's speech Thursday night being held in connection with the College of Business Administration's Career Day.

Bunche will speak at 8 p.m. and the tickets will insure a seat in Schwab Auditorium until 7:45.

About 235 of the tickets are available in 106 Sparks for business administration students. The rest are at the Student Union Desk in Old Main. Students must present their matriculation cards to receive tickets.

5 Acts Entered In Talent Show

Five all-junior acts will appear in the Junior Talent Show, Michael Rosenfeld, chairman, has announced.

The show will begin at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Temporary Union Building. The three judges will be Ray Fortunato, director of Thespians; Robert Koser, assistant to the registrar; and Frank Morris, director of the personnel service.

The talent acts include David Schofield, vocalist; K-Delts quartette, Vanessa Edelen, Geraldine Aquist, Judith Corfield, and Mary Ann Spangler; John Hale and Robert Thoresen, pianists; and Howard Rolands, vocalist.

The winner will be awarded a trophy and a free ticket for the Junior Prom. Second and third prizes will be tickets to the Junior Prom.

Phillip Wein will be master of ceremonies.

Debate Head Named

Harold J. O'Brien, assistant professor of speech, has been named president of the Debate Association of Pennsylvania Colleges.

Good Food
Reasonable Prices
Breakfast — Lunch — Dinner
SEAFOOD
SCALLOPS — OYSTERS — SHRIMP
CAMPUS RESTAURANT
142 E. COLLEGE AVE. (OPP. OLD MAIN)

Junior Prom Corsages
For the first big dance of the year, be sure to honor your girl with a lovely corsage, prepared from our wide selection of unusual flowers.
Stop in and place your order today!
BILL McMULLEN, Florist
122 E. COLLEGE AD 7-4994

3 Business Leaders Set for 'Career Day'

Three leaders in the field of insurance and finance will take part in the Career Day on Thursday sponsored by the College of Business Administration. The men will speak at 2 p.m. on the insurance and finance panel in 317 Willard.

Fred E. Clever, assistant director of male employment for North America Companies in Philadelphia; Horace R. Smith, superintendent of agencies for The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co. in Hartford; and John H. Truby, cashier of the First National Bank in State College will participate on the panel.

Raymond Davis, director of industrial relations for Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Corp. in Lewisport will take part in a labor-management panel at 2 p.m. in 316 Willard.

Ralph J. Bunche will be the main speaker at the evening session at 8 p.m. in Schwab Auditorium. Tickets are still available at the Student Union desk in Old Main for students other than business administration majors. Business administration students may pick up tickets in 106 Sparks. All students must present matriculation cards.

Clever was graduated from the University in 1945 after serving in the air force. He has worked on the staff of several public relations agencies and as executive director of the Citizen's Council on City Planning in Philadelphia. He has worked for the past year with the Insurance Company of North America.

Smith has been in the insurance business for 30 years. He has been agent, supervisor, and finally director of his own agency. During the war he was director of air forces staff training at the Air Tactical School. Later he was executive officer of the Air Forces Public Relations School.

Following the war he was appointed director of the Life Insurance Marketing Institute at Purdue University. From there he went to Connecticut Mutual in 1947.

Truby came to the First National Bank from the National Banking Department in 1936 as assistant cashier. Five years later he became cashier, and in 1952 was elected a director of the bank. He is a member of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association agricultural committee and legislative committee.

Davis graduated from the School of Engineering and Mines of the University of Pittsburgh. His entire working career has been spent at Standard Steel Works Division, Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Corp., Burnham.

He started in Standard's engineering department in 1933 and continued in the plant and production engineering sections of the company until 1938, when he became assistant to the works manager. He has been assistant works manager in charge of industrial relations for the company since 1943.

Avoid the Weekend Rush
Get Your Hair Cut TODAY at . . .
DAVIDSON'S
TV BARBER SHOP
Four Experienced Barbers — No Long Wait
OPPOSITE POSTOFFICE FRONT ON BEAVER

NOTICE
Penn State Laundry and Cleaners has just installed the most modern dry cleaning equipment to give you better and faster service. For your convenience take your shirts and dry cleaning to the Student Dry Cleaning Agency

Penn State Dry Cleaning and Laundry Service
Dial AD 7-7629
320 W. Beaver Ave. State College, Pa.