

3 to Be Picked For King Finals

Three finalists for Mardi Gras king will be selected at the Mardi Gras carnival Nov. 12 in Recreation Hall. The carnival is being sponsored by Mortar Board, senior women's hat society.

All sororities and independent women's groups entered in the Mardi Gras carnival may sponsor one candidate. Pictures of the candidates should be submitted to the Student Union desk in Old Main by 5 p.m. tomorrow. Pictures must be 5 inches by 7 inches with the name, address, and semester of the candidate on the back.

Decision On Sorority Units Asked

Panhellenic Council last night asked all sororities to discuss the possibility of future sorority houses on campus and to report a definite decision to the administration if they support such plans.

Sororities were also asked to discuss a recommendation presented by Louise Caspary, rushing revisions committee chairman, that formal rushing be held in the spring allowing second semester women with a 1.5 average to rush.

President Milton S. Eisenhower, who favors the sorority housing plan, urged a rapid decision so that desirable campus lots may be reserved for the units. Louise Moreman, council president, reported.

The plans would include a sorority unit with joined houses located on campus. The buildings would be red brick harmonizing with the other buildings on campus. The units would house approximately 40 to 50 girls from each sorority.

The council discussed the possibility of cutting costs by using their own dining units and cleaning their own houses. Council members felt that the cost of sorority units would be one reason why sororities may not support the plans.

The rushing revision recommendation was made by the committee after several weeks of discussion.

The committee felt that the revision would give girls an added incentive to get good grades their first semester and would make them a part of the group sooner.

Mademoiselle College Board Entries Due

Mademoiselle magazine is now accepting applications from undergraduate women for membership on its 1954-55 College Board. Deadline for applications is Nov. 30.

Successful candidates will be notified early in December of acceptance on the board. The first board assignment will appear in the January issue of Mademoiselle. Women accepted on the board will do three assignments during the college year. The top twenty members will be guest editors for the magazine and will edit and illustrate the August college issue next June in New York City.

While in New York, each guest editor will take part in a full calendar of activities designed to give her a head start in her career. Board members will interview celebrities, visit fashion workrooms, newspaper offices, stores, and advertising agencies.

Last year Joan Packard, seventh semester English composition major, was a guest editor.

Entries should be sent to College Board Editor, Mademoiselle, 575 Madison avenue, New York 22, N.Y.

Phi Mu Car Wash To Aid Sister Group

By ANN LEH

While most coeds' brains will be buzzing with thoughts of formal gowns and corsages this weekend, the members of Phi Mu will don dungarees and wash cars to aid a sister chapter whose house was recently destroyed by fire.

Phi Mu will hold a "car wash" from 12:45 to 4:45 p.m. Friday and from 8 to 11 a.m. Saturday at Horlacher's Garage, S. Atherton street.

Burned to Ground

The Zeta Alpha chapter house at Baker University, Baldwin, Kan., was burned to the ground one night shortly after classes started this fall. Fortunately the 25 members and the housemother escaped without injury, but the building and everything inside was a total loss.

Since the fire, the women have been living in some of Baker's already overcrowded dormitories and in private homes in town. They have been able to locate a house to rent until a new one can be built but do not have furniture for it.

The first move to help the chapter get back on its feet took place at a Baker football game the night after the fire. There $220 was collected to help buy new textbooks for the women.

Several fraternities at Baker held money-raising projects on campus, while another asked each of its alumni to contribute $1.

The national headquarters of Phi Mu contacted each chapter seeking their help. The national itself is presenting Zeta Alpha chapter with new initiation silver to replace that which was lost in the fire.

Goal Set At $100

The University chapter of Phi Mu is trying to raise $100 to send to Baker.

Both actives and pledges will be washing cars this weekend, although many of them confess to no previous experience. The charge will be $1 for each car washed.

FOR BEST RESULTS USE COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS

Voting By Pennies

Voting for the three finalists will be with pennies, each counting as one vote. Containers for the money will be located on tables at the Mardi Gras. The money will be periodically counted and a running tally of the race will be posted on a blackboard.

The king will be chosen at the Mardi Ball, sponsored by Cwens, sophomore women's hat society. The Ball will be from 9 p.m. to midnight Nov. 13 in the Temporary Union Building. The audience applause will determine the winner from the three finalists. The applause will be judged by dance chaperones and a faculty couple.

Joyce Shusman, president of Mortar Board and Patricia Dickinson, president of Chimes, will crown the king at intermission.

Will Receive $15 Gift

The king will receive a $15 gift certificate from Jack Harper's men's shop. A $5 gift certificate from Harper's will be awarded to the other two finalists.

The final event of the Mardi Gras weekend will be the all-University Sing at 2 p.m. Nov. 14 in Schwab Auditorium. The sing will be jointly sponsored by Chimes, junior women's hat society, and Scrolls, senior women's hat society.

This will be the first year that a Mardi Gras weekend has been sponsored jointly by the four women's hat societies.
