

'Mr. Roberts' Opens In Schwab Tonight

By JOE BEAU-SEIGNEUR

The diversions resulting from wartime boredom will be the theme of Players' first fall production in Schwab Auditorium—Thomas Heggen's "Mr. Roberts"—opening at 9:45 tonight for a Junior Prom weekend run.

Players have scheduled the late show tonight to avoid conflict with a speech by Ralph Bunche, also scheduled for Schwab at 8 p.m. Coeds may attend the late show tonight, but must present their ticket stubs upon returning to their dormitories.

"Mr. Roberts" will also be presented at 8 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday nights. Tickets cost 60 cents for tonight's show, and one dollar for tomorrow and Saturday night's productions. They are available at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

The play is set on a rusting supply ship in the South Pacific in the last years of World War II. It concerns the boredom of the sailors aboard the ship, their eccentric captain, and Mr. Roberts' longing to see service action.

Crew managers and assistants for the production are:

William Thomas, stage manager; Carolyn Baer and Cynthia West, costumes; Caryl Newitt and Leo Tarkett, lighting; Robert Smith, manager, and Ruth Kluger, assistant manager, properties; Margaret MacDonald, advertising; Antoinette Dehisof, manager, and Alice Mears, assistant manager, makeup; and Jo Palmer, manager and Deborah Peek, assistant manager, sound.

Costume crew members are Elsie Ball, Isabelle Schade, Gayle Langhart, Brook Jennings, Frank Curran, Lorraine Ackery, Carol Keplinger and Thelma Rhode. Lighting crew members are Bruce Johnston, Sherman Francisco, Bobbie Dukerman and Beverly Fish.

Sherry Kofman, Ruth Fitz, Edward Klose and Jerry Aquist, Edward properties crew members.

Advertising crew members are Eric Croudford, Donald Altemus, Janet Huber, Diane Thatcher, Jacqueline Mulcey, Barbara Paulson, Ann Hadesty, Loretta Hunter, Cindy Fetterman, Mary Lou Lloyd, Joyce Faust, Greta Jordan and Carole Stehman.

Makeup crew: Ruth Fitz, Louise Jeules, Millis Merchon, Barbara Steitler, Mary Loubris and Ernest Swiggett.

Sound crew members are John Citron, Nani Ku and James Noll.

All-University Senate To Meet at 4 Today

The All-University Senate will meet at 4 p.m. today in 121 Sparks.

On the agenda is a report from the special committee appointed by President Milton S. Eisenhower to study Senate representation from the Colleges and the reports of standing committees on courses of study.

6 Named To All-Star Hockey Team

Six University women were named to the All-Star hockey team Saturday at the Women's Recreation Association Sports Day, sponsored by the Northern Conference of the Pennsylvania Division of the Hockey Association.

Those selected for the first and second teams will compete in the Central Pennsylvania All-College hockey tournament in Harrisburg Saturday and Sunday.

Named to the first team were Grace Needham, fifth semester physical education major, and Carolyn Briggs, first semester physical education major.

Patricia Farrell, fifth semester recreation major; Mildred Mullen, first semester physical education major; and Marie Harvey, first semester home economics major, were selected for the second team. Named to the third team was Lois Stringer, fifth semester horticulture major.

The All-Star teams were picked from teams from Lock Haven State Teachers College, Bucknell University, Shippensburg State Teachers College, and the University. All four teams participated in the sports day.

Miss Harvey and Barbara Drum, first semester physical education major, were installed as WRA freshman representatives Tuesday night.

Coed Mixers To Be Held This Weekend

Leonides will hold mixers in the main lounges of women's residence halls from 9 to 11 p.m. tomorrow. Refreshments will be served.

Other mixers will be held later in the year if those tomorrow night are successful.

Joan Packard, president of Leonides appointed Jacqueline Mulcey social welfare chairman; Camille Balaut, Leonides representative to World University Service; and Betty Buchanan, National Independent Student Association representative to meet with Association of Independent Men representatives to discuss the NISA program at the University.

Martha Harding was named National Student Association representative, and Carole Ruff was appointed to investigate ways of helping Campus Chest.

Leonides and AIM Executive Council will hold a joint meeting Nov. 27.

Independent women interested in working on the Leonides Mardi Gras booth may contact Barbara Blowers, 117 McElwain.

Entries For Mardi King Due at SU Desk Today

Deadline for submitting photographs of entries for Mardi King is 5 p.m. today at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

All sororities and independent women's groups sponsoring booths in Mardi Gras on Nov. 12 may submit one entry for Mardi King.

Photographs should be 5 by 7 inches and include names of the sponsoring group and king candidate.

Five entries have been submitted to date.

Booth Chairmen to Meet

Mardi Gras booth chairmen will meet at 7:30 tonight in McElwain lounge, Kathryn Reynolds, Mardi Gras chairman, has announced.

SAME to Meet Tonight

The Society of American Military Engineers will meet at 7 to-night in 26 Mineral Sciences.

WSGA Seeks Immediate Action On Food Service Grievances

By JOANNE WOHLEBER

Joyce Shusman, chairman of Judicial, presented a protest against the University Food Service at the Women's Student Government Association meeting last night in White Hall.

Miss Shusman said that work through WSGA senators would result in more prompt action than the Senate Food Committee could achieve through working with the Food Service. The senators will go directly to Wilmer A. Kenworthy, director of student affairs, in their quest for immediate action on grievances women students have expressed towards the Food Service.

Some of the complaints are paying $1 for a new meal ticket after one meal without it; insufficient quantity of food for the number of women attending a meal; restricting the removal of any food from the dining hall; disrespectful waiter service; refusing a woman entrance to a dining hall on another student's meal ticket.

Freshman senators Katharine Dickson and Patricia Lehr were installed in their new offices by Patricia Ellis, WSGA president, during a brief ceremony in which each new senator was presented with a rose and a WSGA key. Cider and pretzels were served as refreshments.

Women's permissions for Junior Prom weekend are as follows: freshman women, a one o'clock Friday and a 12 o'clock Saturday; upperclassmen, a two o'clock Friday and a one o'clock Saturday.

The old drinking law is still in effect. It forbids any drinking of intoxicating beverages by women. Action on any new drinking ruling has been temporarily postponed.

Women may obtain special permissions through Pearl O. Weston, Dean of Women, to remain at Senate or All-University Cabinet meetings until they are over. These meetings are open to all women.

Nancy Ward, seventh semester journalism major, was elected temporary chairman of judicial to replace Joyce Shusman until she returns from student teaching.

Through the Looking Glass with Gabbi

Dateline . . . State College, Pa.—and I thought I would have to use all my engraved stationery for doodling and convert to writing on wrapping paper—but my social prestige has been saved! Big weekend coming up—a date, a 2 a.m., and a housemother—like the lyrics?—goes to the tune of Bewitched, Bothered and Bewildered or who put that light on in the chapter room? Give me my boots and saddle (shoes) gang, I'm off with my team to amble thru ETHEL'S—Hush, hush!

Expressly for the dilettante . . . Reproductions by Van Gogh, Titian, Homer, Goya and other old and modern paintings from originals in private collections, encased in their own heavy cardboard portfolio—it's all ready to cover the hole in your wall. We think they're unique—hang 'em up side down and your friends will still Oh and Ah. And they do wonders for a room, particularly when there's no $3.00 each.

A wittle whittling and WOW—you have hand-carved wood furniture in it—all for a mere figurines by Fomerz that are the cutest since little boy dolls. Tiny, musicians with such sad expressions you can almost hear their song. One of the more clever, is the aristocratic bum, lifting up a trash can cover and being greeted with tinkling strains of Blow the Man down (you guessed it, a music box). Then there's a battalion of bottle corks with movable parts that even make a somber man begin to doubt!

Lifetime memories . . . So alright, maybe you're not sentimental (we didn't say semi-mental) but for those who are—why not get yourself a guest book this weekend and have your brothers and dates sign their X's on the dotted line (and no fine print to read). And when they're not with it, slip a blank check in for kicks. Such lovely books are available for $1.50 in green and gold at where?—you know, ETHEL'S, the store with just the gift you need!

Ethel Moore
112 E. COLLEGE AVE.
STATE COLLEGE, PA.

Do you need a
Thank-You Gift?
Be sure you
See the novelty coasters before you decide

The Blair Shop
142 S. Allen St.

Cold Weather's Here . . .
But SCHLOW'S
Keeps You Warm with

cuddly wool scarves and stocking caps for your head and stylish knit stoles in Penn State colors.

For frostbitten hands . . . buckskin gloves, wool mittens and gloves.

And the kneesock fad really becomes practical now. We have 'em in all colors to keep you looking pretty and comfortable, too.

Meet Your Friends
at SCHLOW'S

Don't Put It Off!

Have Your Formals and Tuxs Ready for The Big Weekend

For Quality Work at Our New Dry Cleaning Plant

Penn State Dry Cleaning and Laundry Service
320 W. Beaver Ave. State College, Pa.