FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1954

There Goes Boredom . . .

JOHN ANISTON, left, and Carl Held greet Harriet Steinman, the sole woman in the cast of "Mr. Roberts," as she comes aboard ship. Thomas Heggen's drama of wartime boredom on a supply ship will be presented in Schwab Auditorium at 8 tonight and to-morrow night. It opened last night. Review on page one.

Campus Elms

Two Trees Found Affected by Fungus

Two campus elms, one at the entrance of the MacAllister Mall and the other near the Textile Chemistry building, have been found to be definitely affected by Dutch elm disease, according to Walter W. Trainer, supervisor of grounds and maintenance.

Trainer said the trees soon will be removed and burned.

Two other trees in back of the nurses' home near the Jordan Fertility plots, were also suspected of having the disease, but labor-atory cultures showed the results the bey around the Nittany Lion Inn, the Mineral Science building ad-dition, and Buckhout Laboratory. Seven hundred and ninety feet of blockton welks are being land to be negative. Two trees known to have the disease already have been re-moved. One was the 26-inch elm which stood off the west corner of Old Main. The other was a six-inch elm in the Windcrest area. Results Negative Another to Another to

LaVie Board Picks Senior 'Personalities'

Seniors chosen are: Jesse Arnelle, Aurelia Arre, Alexander Ayers, Donald Bal-thaser, Joseph Barnett, Donald Bell, John Carpenter, David Car-vey, Ross Clark, Joseph Cutler, Robert Dennis, Patricia Ellis, Baylee Friedman, Faith Galla-gher. James Garrity, Richard Gordan, Base Conservent Grier. James Garrity, Richard Gordan, James Carrity, Richard Gordan, James Carrity,

James Garrity, Richard Gordan, John Greiner, Roosevelt Grier, Robert Homan, Thomas Kidd, Mary Lee Lauffer, Watson Leese, Joyce Shusman, Benjamin Sin-clair, Gail Smith, Robert Smoot, John Speer, Marie Wagner, Nancy Ward, Ronald Weidenhammer, and Alexander Zerban.

LaVie Awarded First Class Rating By College Press

The Associated Collegiate Press awarded the 1954 LaVie a First Class Honor Rating in the annual judging of college and university yearbooks. The judges rated LaVie as ex-cellent in nearly every category and as superior for typography and for the section on athletics. Fred L. Kildow, director of the University of Minnesota, informed the University of Minnesota, informed the University of Minnesota, informed to as superior for typography and for the section on athletics. Fred L. Kildow, director of the University of Minnesota, informed the University that the 1954 book received 3345 points out of a total American Honor Rating. During the past 20 years, LaVie has received nine First Class Hon-or Ratings, six All-American Hon-or Ratings. The latest All-American Honor Rating was in 1951. Herman Golomb of Pittsburgh was editor of the 1954 book

Two trees known to have the moved. One was the 26-inch elm of blacktop walks are being layed from the north corner of Buckhout Lab to For-serve Building. Another, 220 feet long, goes from Buckhout Lab to For-setry Building. Another, 220 feet long, may be the walk 450 feet long, goes from Buckhout Lab to For-setry Building. Another, 220 feet long, may be the track and checked grad-negative. Dutch elm disease is a fungus spread chiefly by the elm bark fee bark causing the leaves to die and drop off sooner than nor-mal.

NOW

Arlene

Dahl

Bands to Present Pre-Game Parade

A pre-game parade of 60 high school bands will begin in Thirty-nine seniors have been selected by the senior board of front of Recreation Hall at 11 p.m. tomorrow. Bands will LaVie as "personalities" for the parade around the campus at intervals of one minute, Humon the basis of personality, popularity, nead of the Department of Music and origina-larity, and activities. tor and coordinator of Band Day, has announced.

Hall-Potter, Mifflintown.
Alexandria - Petersburg, Belle-ville, Lewisburg, Montgomery,
Spring Mills, Shippensburg, Mon-toursville, Saxton-Liberty, Cone-maugh, Elizabethville, Martins-burg, Orbisonia, South Williams-port, Robertsdale, Elderton, Clays-burg, Williamsburg, Ridgway, Schellsburg, Reynoldsville - Wins-low, Lilly-Washington.
Lewistown, Mount Union, Brat-ton-McVeytown, L u thersburg.
Ball game. What the crowd lacked in number, they more than made up for in spirit, singing and cheer-ing with great enthusiasm. James O'Hora, assistant foot-ball coach, told the gathering in front of Recreation Hall that, "If God be willing, you can expect to see the air filled with passes on Saturday."
O'Hora emphasized that Holy Cross is not as bad as their rec-ord would indicate. He said that ton-McVeytown, Luthersburg, ton-McVeytown, Luthersburg, Millerstown, Tyrone, Johnsonburg, Roaring Spring, Osceola Mills, Brookville, DuBois, Everett, Gale-ton, Belwood-Antis, Emporium, Coalport, New Cumberland, Barnesboro, Carlisle, Houtzdale-Woodward - Brisbin, Huntingdon, Bedford, Reedsville, Philipsburg, Waynesboro, Mechanicsburg, Hol-

day. The leadership committee will

James Garrity, Richard Gordan, Joobball game tomorrow alternoon. John Greiner, Roosevelt Grier, Robert Homan, Thomas Kidd, Mary Lee Lauffer, Watson Leese, mation are: State College, Port Benjamin Lowenstein, Mildred Matilda, Mercersburg, St. Marys-McGowan, Diehl McKalip, Joan Packard, Katharine Reynolds, John J. Robinson. Ronald Safier, Nancy Scofield, Joyce Shusman Benjamin Sin-ville Lewisburg Montgomerv

O'Hora emphasized that Holy Cross is not as bad as their rec-ord would indicate. He said that Holy Cross has lost some tough ones to pretty good teams.

Kaye Buterbaugh, third semester business administration ma-jor, introduced O'Hora and also

