

Big Soccer Test -- Owls Are Titlists

Penn State's undefeated soccer team will leave its home field for the first time in four weeks this weekend when it travels to Philadelphia to meet Temple University. The game will be the seventh of an eight-game card slated for the Lions this fall.

Last season the Owls of Temple recorded their first perfect season in history to regain the rule of the roost of intercollegiate soccer. The National Champions returned to the top after a two-year absence that found San Francisco and Franklin and Marshall on the championship throne.

Displaying remarkable balance, the Owls breezed through nine foes with equally effective offensive and defensive skills to score a total of 60 goals. Comparing with Temple's average of five goals plus a game, was the next highest scoring team in the East, Dartmouth, which scored 37.

Have Had Good Year

This fall Coach Pete Leanness and his booters have been squaring off at their opponents with equal devastation in an attempt to retain their champion crown. As far as winning soccer games goes, Leanness is the winningest coach in Temple's athletic history. He has piloted his soccer teams to 123 wins while losing only 45 and tying in 19 during 25 years as the Owls' head soccer coach.

Temple has steam-rolled its opposition to extend its victory streak to 17 games over a three-year span. Only a 2-2 tie with Haverford this fall has marred Temple's otherwise spotless chart.

Have Won Five

The Owls own a 5-0-1 card this season with wins over Bucknell, 4-2; Philadelphia Textile Institute, 5-2; Rutgers, 2-1; Drexel, 4-0; and its alumni, 5-2.

In allowing Haverford to tie them, the Owls spotted the Fords an early 2-0 lead only to rebound with two goals to tie the count and save their victory streak.

In direct contrast to Penn State's veteran strength, Temple lost seven of the 11 men which formed the nucleus of the Owls' undefeated, untied squad last fall. Coach Ken Hosterman has been fortified this fall with ten lettermen, each of which have won a first-string berth.

Leanness, although he has lost more than one-half of his starting eleven of the championship team, has several bright spots in his lineup to console his thoughts for another perfect season.

Leanness' lineup is sprinkled with well-known names in the soccer field such as Len Oliver, Jack Dunn, and Al Didriksen—each a potential bomb that can explode in any game to shatter the opponent's bid for victory.

Oliver was All-America half-back last year with the Owls. Jack Dunn was All-America inside right and the most prolific scorer for Leanness with 20 goals. Al Didriksen was third in team scoring in 1953 with ten goals.

Early to Bed and Early to Rise Makes a Rooster Healthy . . .

The old saying seems to apply only to roosters — not men. We Staters ruin our health by staying up late to get wise—and are always broke too. Something's wrong here! If you're wise, though, you'll keep healthy with good food from the Penn State Diner. You don't have to be wealthy either . . . the Lion Sign is noted for good food—not fancy prices. So, early or late to bed, stop at the Penn State Diner—it's always open.
