

Scarlet Scoring Mark Faces Test

Lions Seek 6th Victory Tomorrow

Spirited Rutgers University will give an 85-game scoring record its toughest test of the year tomorrow when the Scarlet faces steamrolling Penn State at Beaver Field.

Coach Harvey Harman's New Jersey team, the last Lion home opponent of the year, hasn't been shutout in 85 contests and, although Rutgers has already lost four games this season, the record probably will be in its most precarious position of the year tomorrow.

The Lions last two opponents, Penn and Holy Cross, scored only three times between them, and were held to 27 and -32 yards on the ground.

Both defensively and offensively, the Nittanians have been at their peak, and have been rated as much as four touchdown favorites in the home finale.

However, despite its five losses, Rutgers has been a team that thrives on a scrap. The Scarlet rebounded two weeks ago to whip Temple 25-0 and last week topped Lafayette, 7-0. And only one loss came by a large margin. Princeton slipped by, 10-3, Fordham, 13-7, Colgate, 26-14, and William and Mary, 14-7. Only Lehigh can claim any overwhelming success against Harman's club. The Engineers scored a 33-13 win three weeks ago.

The big man offensively for the Scarlet will probably be halfback Steve Johnson and fullback Jack Laverty. The two backs have been doing most of the ball carrying out of Harman's T formation.

And the Scarlet aren't prone to an air game either. Quarterback John Fennell has pitched 79 passes, completing 37, and is expected to do his share of the throwing tomorrow.

On the line Harman boasts one of the standout centers of the east in John O'Hearn. Lion assistant coach Sevor (Tor) Toretti, who scouted the Scarlet, called the 210-pound senior the teams inspirational leader. O'Hearn and tackle Tom Mulleney are the big men on the forward wall that averages just under the 200-pound mark.

Ends Don Felber (180) and Al Mittlehner (190), tackle Ed Evans (205), and guards Jim O'Brian (195) and Ken Bossow (190) round out the line.

E. E. "Shorty" Miller's one season record for ground gained from scrimmage was broken by Lenny Moore this year. Miller's old record of 801 yards was set in 1912.

The transfer of the Athletics from Philadelphia to Kansas City was the third shift in the major league baseball scene in 20 months.

Owl-Booters' Clash Looms as Hot Battle

By ROY WILLIAMS

Something will have to crack when Penn State and Temple clash Saturday in their annual soccer tilt. If records mean anything, the Lion-Owl game should turn up to be one of the Lions' hottest contests this fall.

Penn State travels to Temple Stadium to meet the Owls, the 1954 National Champions, in the first of a two-game road trip card which will mark the windup for the Lions' 1954 card.

Both Temple and Penn State are undefeated this fall. Temple's most recent victory was scored Tuesday over Lafayette, 4-0, to push the Owls' 1954 record to 6-0-1, and extend their two-year win streak to 18. Penn State has a 6-0 record and two additional wins posted in practice games.

Lions Won in '52, 1-0

But the Owls hold a special regard for the soccer men from the Nittany Vale. Penn State was the last team to beat the Owls before they started on their present rampage of knocking off their soccer opponents with the rapidity of a bowler knocking down tenpins. The Lions licked the Owls two years ago at Temple Stadium, 1-0, after slugging through inches of mud during a driving rainstorm.

Temple shows wins over Bucknell, 4-2, Rutgers, 2-1, Philadelphia Textile Institute, 5-2, alumni, 5-2, Drexel, 4-0, and finally Lafayette, 4-0. Temple and Haverford College tied 2-2 after the Fords took a 2-0 lead only to lose it in the second half.

Rutgers Loses

Temple tripped Bucknell for its first victory, but scored on three penalty kicks. The Lions routed Bucknell, 14-1. Temple's victory over Rutgers was finally decided when a Rutgers player kicked in the winning goal for the Owls.

The Owls have scored 22 goals in seven games compared to Penn State's 41 tallies in six contests. The Lions have also been much more solid on defense by permitting five goals compared to the Owls' defense which has allowed nine markers.

If the Lions manage to score their eighth straight victory, they will not only snap Temple's coveted victory string but will also regain the rotating soccer trophy which Temple earned last year by defeating the Lions. The trophy has been the traditional reward each year to the winner of the Penn State-Temple contest.
