

Gridders Steamroll Over Rutgers, 37-14

By DICK McDOWELL

Lightning Lenny Moore, a streamlined torrent with a phenomenal touchdown punch, moved to within a breath of two more records Saturday as he and his Penn State teammates marched to the brink of their finest season in five years when they overran plucky Rutgers, 37-14 at Beaver Field.

Moore dashed for two touchdowns and gained 171 yards in 12 carries for his best running performance of the year. His touchdown mark of 13 is now equal to the Penn State record owned jointly by three other men, and he stands just 17 yards short of E. E. (Shorty) Miller's offensive record of 1031 yards set in 1912.

Runs 54 For TD

The Ghost ripped off runs of 54 and 40 yards in his best single performances. His 40 yard excursion set up his first score in the second period that gave the Lions the lead and then in the third period he galloped 54 yards for his second touchdown.

He also moved to within 11 yards of the nation's rushing leader, Art Luppino of Arizona. Luppino carried 20 times for 108 yards when the Wildcats bowed to Texas Western 42-21 Saturday. Moore, who played only 33 minutes against Rutgers, has only one game remaining while Luppino still has two to go.

The Lions jumped off to an early lead in the first period, lost it, and then rebounded with two scores in the second quarter, one in the third, and another pair in the fourth.

Bailey Pass For 2 Scores

Versatile Don Bailey, the Lion quarterback who has had some great moments this season, passed for two touchdowns—to Ron Younker and Billy Kane. Reserve fullback Jim Lockerman sprinted 64 yards for another Lion score, and Buddy Rowell hit from three yards out for still another tally.

The Lions' 306 rushing yards Saturday marked the third week in succession that they have topped the 300 mark, and the six touchdowns brings the three game total to 17.

But for the first quarter Saturday, some 15,200 fans—smallest crowd of the year at Beaver Field—watched Rutgers play its traditional role. The Scarlet marched 68 yards midway in the first period to take a 7-6 lead after the Lions had scored in the opening minutes.

2 Students Are Placed On Probation

Two students found guilty of drunken driving and released last week after 10 days in Centre County jail have been placed on disciplinary probation.

The action was taken yesterday by the disciplinary subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Student Affairs which accepted the rulings of Tribunal. Tribunal had heard the men's case and recommended probation.

May Petition

The subcommittee's ruling carries the stipulation that the men, one a first semester engineering student and the other a third semester student in the Division of Intermediate Registration, may petition for removal from probation after fall semester, 1955.

Notation of the probation will remain on the students' record until their eighth semester when they can petition for its removal.

The students were arrested by borough police Oct. 22 on charges of driving while under the influence of alcoholic beverages and for leaving the scene of an accident without having provided proper identification.

Fined $28.50

For the latter offense, the driver of the car was fined $28.50.

The driver was fined and additional $100 and spent 10 days in Centre County Jail for drunken driving.

The other student who was the owner of the car was also fined $100 and served 10 days in jail for permitting a person under the influence of alcoholic beverages to drive his car.

The students had pleaded guilty to the charge when they appeared before Tribunal and made no attempt to appeal Tribunal's decision.

U.S. Reserves Atom Material For Peace Use

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 15 (AP)—The United States dramatically informed the UN today it has set 220 pounds of fissionable materials to activate atomic reactors for peaceful purposes throughout the world.

It was the first time in the atomic age that this country has offered to ship so much atomic material, estimated to be enough for one atomic bomb, outside its borders on a mission of peace.

An informed source said it was understood the 220 pounds is enough to supply 30 to 40 reactors.

Closing his second big speech to the UN political committee on President Dwight D. Eisenhower's plan for using atoms for peace, Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said to the suddenly-alert delegates:

"There is one final matter which I would like to lay before you, and I hope it will once and for all remove from the minds of all any confusion as to how specific the United States 'atoms for peace' proposition is, whether or not the scope of our proposal has been narrowed.

Presidential Authorization

"I am authorized by the President of the United States to say that the Atomic Energy Commission has allocated 100 kilograms—220 pounds—of fissionable material to serve as fuel in the experimental reactors to which the secretary of state and I have previously referred. This amount of fissionable material is enough to activate a considerable number of these reactors throughout the world."

This was the answer of the chief American delegate to complaints by Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky that Lodge had narrowed down the program put before the UN Assembly last year by President Eisenhower and that the U.S. is delaying the matter.

Answer to Romulo

This was also Lodge's answer to a proposal by Carlos P. Romulo, Philippine delegate and former president of the UN Assembly, that the United States and other atomic powers chip in 220 pounds of atomic materials—enough, Romulo said, to make one bomb—to an atomic reactor to be set up under the UN.

Romulo was referring to the published report on the amount of material used in the early atomic bombs. In the committee, Finn Moe, Norway, said he had been told the quantity mentioned by Lodge was enough for 10 atomic bombs but he did not estimate their size.

In his speech today Lodge made it clear to the Soviet Union that the West will not accept any veto on operations of a proposed international atomic agency supervising the atoms-for-peace program.

He also told Vishinsky—his chief critic so far—and the committee that small countries will have a voice in the governing board of the agency, that the program is open to any country, and that the United States and its atomic allies do not intend to confront any country with an accomplished fact.

University Employee Escapes Death from Gas

Mrs. James Weaver, 309 W. Prospect avenue, a housing department employee, narrowly escaped death Saturday morning when coal gas fumes filled her home.

Overcome by the fumes, Mrs. Weaver managed to reach a telephone and call a doctor. The Alpha Fire Co. emergency crew was summoned and its inhalator was used for about 15 minutes before Mrs. Weaver's breathing returned to normal.

3 Youths Pay Fines For Assault

Three Centre County youths arrested for assaulting a student on campus were found guilty at a hearing before Guy G. Mills, justice of the peace, in State College Friday night.

According to testimony, Francis Duffy, third semester physics major, was on his way home from Pattee Library when he was attacked on the pathway between Beaver Field and Hort Woods.

Upon seeing a passing car Duffy called for help and the youths returned to their car. Duffy then proceeded through the parking area, only to find the three waiting for him at the corner of Park avenue.

Two of the boys got out of the car, grabbed Duffy and knocked him to the ground. Then they left in the car.

The three who were fined on disorderly conduct charges were Jerry Harpster, 16, and Glenn Gibboney, 16, both of Pine Grove Mills, who were ordered to pay fines and costs amounting to $38.50, and Paul Sunday, 19, also of Pine Grove Mills, who was fined $50 plus costs of $15.25.

The arraignment began Tuesday night.

Reprimanding the trio, Mills issued a general warning that "This kind of thing has got to stop—there have been other cases like this recently and all of them are unnecessary and extremely foolish."

He promised full punishment for anybody apprehended on similar charges in the future.

Letter Is Sent To Publisher Of Who's Who

A registered letter has been mailed to the publisher of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," concerning the lack of adequate information regarding the publisher and the publication itself, All-University Secretary-Treasurer Robert Homan has announced.

Homan said he informed the publisher that unless an answer is received the University will drop publication membership, and notify other colleges and universities of the reasons behind the University's action.

The question of the annual directory of outstanding students was brought before All-University Cabinet twice this semester. It was tabled twice because of lack of information. Homan previously wrote the publisher, H. P. Randall of Tuscaloosa, Ala. No answer has been received.

Prexy Attends Meeting

IFC Votes Scholarship For Swede

Interfraternity Council voted last night to extend its foreign student scholarship to Steffan Carlsson, national junior gymnastic champion of Sweden.

Carlsson was recommended by Jan Cronstedt, winner of 14 major gymnastic titles while at the University and recipient of the IFC scholarship for the past three years.

Cronstedt did not return to the University this year and is presently attending medical school in Sweden.

Carlsson was described by Cronstedt in a letter to John Carpenter, IFC president, as the best tumbler in Sweden.

Expresses Interest

Carpenter read a letter from Carlsson to IFC in which the Swedish gymnast expressed interest in attending the University.

Carlsson was a member of the Swedish National Gymnastic team which defeated the University's squad 49½ to 46½ last January.

In his letter to Carpenter Carlsson said he is going to try out for the Swedish team which will tour the United States this winter. The Swedes will visit the University Jan. 15.

Carlsson is not sure if he will be able to matriculate in February or if he will have to wait until September.

Must Pass Requirements

Carlsson must pass University entrance requirements before the scholarship is official.

In other business IFC voted to send two representatives from each fraternity to a seminar on fire prevention to be held shortly after Thanksgiving.

At this seminar the representatives will be instructed on various phases of fire prevention, according to Walter Lowman, IFC Safety Director.

Will Inspect Houses

After the seminar the men will inspect fraternities other than their own for fire hazards and make recommendations to the fraternities concerning means to eliminate possible fire hazards.

John Russell, rushing chairman, announced that fraternity preference cards will be mailed to fraternities today. He urged freshmen to turn in their preference cards at the dean of men's office if they have not already done so.

At the same time Arnette appointed Hugh Cline, fifth semester arts and letters major, as NSA campus travel director.
