

$7535 Is Awarded At Ag Hill Party

A total of $7535 in scholarship awards was given to 60 agriculture students at the Ag Hill Party Saturday night at Recreation Hall.

The attendance was slightly better than expected with a total of about 1550 tickets sold. The party was termed a success by Daryl Heasley, general chairman.

Judging Team Places Second In Contests

The University livestock judging team took second place honors in the intercollegiate contests Saturday at the Eastern National Livestock Show at Timonium, Md. Eleven teams were entered, with Virginia Polytechnic Institute winning first place; Ohio State University, third; and Cornell University, fourth.

The University team ranked first in sheep judging and third in the swine division. John Tait, sixth semester animal husbandry major, was second high individual for the entire contest, and John Coble, seventh semester animal husbandry major, was high individual in judging sheep.

JoAnne Bygate, seventh semester animal husbandry major, was fourth high individual for the competition. Georgene Huber, seventh semester animal husbandry major, was alternate for the team. Herman Purdy is coach of the livestock judging team.

Traffic Court Assesses 13

Traffic Court last night levied fines totaling $44 on 13 student traffic violators according to Traffic Court Vice-Chairman Joseph Cutler.

Fines of $1 apiece were placed on eight first offenders. Four students were found guilty of second offenses and fined the customary $3 apiece.

A student found guilty of a fourth offense was fined $10 and suspended of campus driving privileges for 60 days.

This week's total of $44 sharply contrasts to last week's record breaking total of $124 levied by the court.

3 Senior Committees Are Named

Appointments to senior class committees were made at last week's All-University Cabinet meeting by Jesse Arnelle, All-University president, on the suggestion of Donald Balthaser, senior class president.

Chairman of the Senior Ball Committee is Richard Hurlbrick. Also on the committee are Richard Gordan, Ann Lofquist, Eleanor McKenzie, and Eleanor Gwynn.

Class Night Committee consists of Alexander Zerban, chairman, Donna Aikens, Judith Koenig, and Kaye Vinson.

On the Class Gift Committee are Faith Gallagher, chairman, Celeste McDermott, Norma Reck, and Gail Smith.

Arnelle also appointed Mildred McGowan and Richard Favro as delegates to the United Nations Seminar Dec. 2 to 5.

The final report of the Joint Customs Board was accepted by Cabinet. Hugh Cline, retiring sophomore class president, presented the report.

One resolution in the report stated that the Customs Board be appointed by April 1. It was recommended that Hat Society Council sponsor a contest for a class cheer to be judged and announced at Fun Night and be used permanently as the cheer of that class.

Cline recommended in the report that members of the board work closely with the Book Exchange in selling the dinks, and also that the board ask the Women's Student Government Association to further clarify its regulations on dating.

CPA to Meet Tonight

Yugoslavia Views Given by Bernard

By JO WOHLER

An American's outlook on Yugoslavia in the twentieth century was presented by Dr. Jessie Bernard, professor of sociology, at the Faculty Luncheon Club yesterday.

Dr. Bernard outlined her travels in Europe, emphasizing her observations in Yugoslavia during December, 1953.

She feels the people of Yugoslavia are not hostile to Americans, although they do not trust the United States' way of conducting international relations.

The Yugoslavians have a very warm affection for Americans, she said. They remember CARE packages and the kindness of the American soldiers during the war.

Dr. Bernard said they are definitely on America's side in the cold war. However, in the event of a shooting war, they probably would not fight, she said.

Dr. Bernard compared the happy life in Austria to the depressed atmosphere in Yugoslavia. In Austria, she found gaiety, a holiday spirit in Christmas preparations, decorations in the streets, and luxuries in the little shops.

Christmas in Yugoslavia was quite a different picture. There she found no official recognition of the holiday season. Here and there someone wandered home with a Christmas tree, she said, but there was a general drab and colorless air about the quiet streets.

During her visit, she was accompanied by a young Communist on a sightseeing tour. He tried to convince her that Yugoslavia had achieved a completely classless society. Together they toured a University where he showed her some new dorms, then invited her to attend a lecture on French romantic literature. She was then
