Senate Casts 67-20 Vote To Censure McCarthy

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—The Senate condemned tonight by a vote of 67-20 the conduct of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy on the first of three censure charges against him and cleared the way for final action on two other counts tomorrow.

71 Register To Make Choir Tour

Sixty-two student Chapel Choir members and nine alumni who were formerly in the choir have registered to make the European tour next summer, Willa C. Taylor, choir director, said yesterday.

Of the 62 students, there are 18 sopranos, 21 altos, 12 tenors, and 11 basses.

The choir will leave from New York City for London around the middle of June and return to the United States around August 1.

Service Arranging Concerts
M. Battsek of the Specialized Travel Service of London is arranging concert appearances in schools, churches, and municipalities in England. The choir will also visit Cambridge and Oxford.

The group will travel on the continent by bus and by train, Battsek said. They will stay in student dormitories, small hotels, and boarding houses.

The tour will include the United Kingdom, Switzerland, Italy, France, and in all probability the Netherlands and Germany, the Rev. Luther H. Harshbarger, University Chaplain, said.

The first plans for the choir tour were made last Spring, Reverend Harshbarger said. At Choir Day, Sept. 18, reports were given and a committee was appointed to investigate the possibility of a trip to Europe. Reverend Harshbarger, who lived in Europe from 1944 until 1949 and who has guided several student tours through England and the continent, acted as adviser to the nine-member committee.

9 Alumni Making Trip

The alumni who are planning to accompany the group on the tour are Isabella Cooper, music teacher in Greenwich, Conn.; Barbara Rollo, elementary teacher in Bethlehem; Georgie Gianopoulos, music teacher in Lindenhurst, N.J.; Lucy Barr, graduate student at the University of Pennsylvania; Romayne Aumiller, music teacher in Brookville; Nancy Wyant, music teacher in State College; Jeanne Riddle, graduate student in the Ford Hospital, Detroit, Mich.; John Nesbitt, civil engineering instructor at the University; and Rex Norton, music teacher in St. Marys.

Snow Expected To End Today

Light snow which began yesterday and continued through last night is expected to end today although there will be a few scattered flurries throughout the day, the University weather station said.

Only about an inch of snow was expected to stay this morning because of the warmth of the ground in the valley, but there may be three or four inches on the surrounding mountains.

The temperature today, which will rise to between 37 and 40, is slightly higher than yesterday's high of 34.

Expectations of any warmer weather, though, will probably fail as the mercury is expected to take a dip tonight to the low 20's.

Taylor to Speak Tonight

Joseph S. Taylor, head of Dairy Extension, will speak on "Extension's Responsibility to Agriculture" to the Dairy Science Club at 7 tonight in 117 Dairy.

obstructed the Senate and acted contrary to its traditions in failing to help a subcommittee which investigated him in 1951 and 1952, and in "abusing" the group's members.

McCarthy did not vote on the censure resolution but denounced it as "a foul job" and said the American people know "I am being censured because I dared to do the 'dishonorable' thing of exposing Communists in government."

The Wisconsin Republican also got a wholly new investigation started by charging that forgery and suppression of evidence have been used against him.

In an outgrowth of this charge, Sen. William F. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, named a special committee to look into the alleged checking of senators' incoming mail by unauthorized persons.

All the Democrats present and 23 Republicans joined in voting to "condemn" McCarthy's behavior toward the Hennings-Hayden-Hendrickson subcommittee which investigated his financial and other affairs in 1951 and 1952.

Knowland and 19 other Republicans backed McCarthy. The vote came after a series of attempts to spare the Wisconsin senator from censure were defeated by similar lopsided margins.

Still to be disposed of are charges that McCarthy:

1. Abused Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker when the general appeared as a witness before McCarthy's Permanent Investigations subcommittee. He's likely to get more than 20 votes on that count.
2. Abused the Watkins committee which recommended he be censured on the two other counts. McCarthy has called the committee an "unwitting handmaiden of the Communist party."

Cancellation Design Die Will Be Cast

The cancellation design honoring the University's 100th birthday has been sent to Pitney-Bowes Inc. in Stamford, Conn., to be cast into a die, Louis H. Bell, director of public information, has announced.

The cancellation is still subject to approval by the U.S. Post Office Department, Bell said. Final approval of the design will be obtained when the State College Post Office receives the die, he said.

The cancellation will be put into use Jan. 1.

Poll Results Incomplete To Date

No official results were available yesterday on the poll taken by the Daily Collegian on student suggestions for the name of the post office sub-station which may be established on campus.

A Student Union employee reported, however, that response was fairly heavy during the morning hours yesterday.

The deadline for submitting ballots was 5 p.m. yesterday. After the deadline, the ballots were kept under lock and key in the President's office, where they will probably be tabulated this morning.

The Collegian ballots, along with those which were published last week by the Centre Daily Times, and the 4300 questionnaires which were sent to faculty, alumni, and All-University Cabinet, will be considered by the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees when it meets at the University tomorrow to discuss the question of establishing the campus post office.

Six to Attend NIFC Conclave

Six men will represent the Interfraternity Council at the undergraduate session of the National Interfraternity Council Convention in Philadelphia Friday and Saturday.

The men are John Carpenter, IFC president; Frank J. Simes, dean of men; O. Edward Pollock, assistant to the dean of men in charge of fraternity affairs; Robert Kitchell, IFC vice president, and two other fraternity men.

Carpenter has been appointed chairman of the rushing and resolutions committees of the convention.

The undergraduate session will discuss scholarship, public relations, IFC operations, administrative responsibilities and relationship between the school and chapter, and rushing, Carpenter said.

Fraternities Must Obtain Christmas Trees Today

All fraternities which have ordered Christmas trees for this weekend must pick their order up between 1 and 3 p.m. today behind the Forestry Building, Robert Kitchell, Interfraternity Council vice president announced last night.

This will be the only time that fraternities which ordered trees for this weekend may pick them up. Kitchell asked that each house pay for their order when it is received.

Campus Chest Receives $270 In First Day

Approximately $270 was collected yesterday by more than 400 Campus Chest solicitors during the first day of the annual three-day fund raising drive.

This represents slightly over 3½ per cent of the $7250 goal the chest workers hope to reach by Friday evening, John Brunner, tabulations chairman, said.

At the end of the first day of campaigning last year approximately $250 was collected.

Last year the goal was to get 100 per cent participation, rather than a specific monetary figure. Students contributed approximately $6000 to the 1953-54 campaign. Brunner said this year's goal was based on last year's contributions, taking into consideration the increased enrollment at the University.

Separate Faculty Drive

The chest drive last year also included the faculty, Ellsworth Smith, general chairman, said. This year, their donations will be handled separately. They will be solicited by members of the University Christian Association at a later date. Faculty contributions last year amounted to over $2000.

Students' names have been divided into four groups, independent men, independent women, fraternity men and sorority women. The group contributing the largest amount of money in relation to the total number in that group will be announced in the Daily Collegian on Saturday. Trophies or awards will not be given to the winning group as they were last year.

15 Groups to Benefit

Of the 15 welfare organizations to receive money from the chest, eight local ones will be given 57 per cent, and the other seven will be given 37 per cent. The remaining five per cent will be retained by the chest itself for operational expenses.

Three religious groups, the UCA, Newman Club, and Hillel will be given 35 per cent of the chest proceeds.

Other local groups to receive chest monies are:

Centre County Heart Association, 3 per cent; Penn State Student Scholarship Fund, 8 per cent; Women's Student Government Association, 2 per cent; National Scholastic Society for Negro Students, 7 per cent; and State College Welfare Fund, 2 per cent.

National organizations to receive money are United Cerebral Palsy, 3 per cent; Damon Runyon Cancer Fund, 3 per cent; American Cancer Society, 3 per cent; American Heart Society, 3 per cent; American Red Cross, 3 per cent; Salvation Army, 3 per cent; and World University Service, 20 per cent.

Breakdown of Foods Dollar Explained by Proffitt, Erfft

By DOTTIE STONE
Students pay $1.82 a day for food service. But, where does this money go?

In an attempt to get an answer to this question, the Daily Collegian talked with Kenneth Erfft, associate comptroller, and Robert C. Proffitt, manager of food stores and food buyer.

Food service operates under the following major divisions: raw food, food preparations, service, and maintenance.

Out of every dollar paid by a student, over fifty cents is spent on raw food for cooking, Erfft said.

He pointed out that this is an extremely high amount to be spent on raw food, as better restaurants generally spent about thirty cents of every food dollar.

University food service buys only the best food, according to Proffitt. Pure butter is used at table, cheese is aged for over a year before use, and eggs are grade A large. Meat served to students is a grade higher than can be purchased in local markets.

The remaining fifty cents is divided for food preparation, service and maintenance. It takes almost 500 people to produce three meals a day for students. There are over 240 full-time employees and almost the same number of student workers. To make student help economical as possible, most students work for their meals, although some receive pay. Students must live in town in order to work in the dining halls.

Among the full-time personnel are dieticians, bakers, butchers, supervisors for each dining hall and the snack bar. Food service also keeps a staff of eight clerical workers who keep records, and two dieticians who work the experimental kitchen testing new recipes and developing quantity formulas.

Some of this fifty cents must go into the cost of each dining hall for operating steam tables, dish washers, and equipment.

A small portion of the food bill goes into maintenance of staff of the food stores building. In this building foods like rolls, breads, and desserts are made centrally and sent to individual dining halls. All food is stored there and meats are cut and sent out to be prepared in dining halls.

The building, built in 1949, must be paid for by food service. The cost of operation of (Continued on page two)

Sigma Pi Will Go on Social Pro

Sigma Pi fraternity was placed on four-week social probation by the Senate Committee on Student Affairs yesterday for violating the Interfraternity Council rushing code.

The probation will go into effect Jan. 3 and will continue until the end of the semester, ending on Jan. 28, at 5:30 p.m.

The probation was recommended Nov. 22 by the IFC Board of Control. Ellsworth Smith, chairman of the board, presented the recommendation to the committee.

The charge against Sigma Pi was inviting a man lacking the proper average to live in the house. IFC rules state that pledges must have a 1.0 All-University average or a 1.0 average in the semester preceding their entrance into the house. A fraternity is not permitted to invite men lacking such an average to live in their house as a guest.

Sigma Pi has also been fined $50 for their violation. Fines levied by IFC do not require action by the Senate committee.

Smith said the fraternity presidents agreed that this rule should be strictly enforced at their IFC workshop meeting.

The presidents believed, Smith said, that pledging a man without a 1.0 average was in direct violation of the IFC code and was detrimental to the fraternity system.

Two other fraternities were fined along with Sigma Pi. Theta Xi and Phi Kappa were both fined $25 for violations of the pledging code. Both were fined for pledging men who did not comply with rushing regulations.

Decoration Contest Set for WD Area

West Dorm Council will sponsor a Christmas window painting and decorating contest for housing units in the West Dormitory area, including Thompson Hall.

The paintings and decorations will be judged Dec. 12, with a cash prize of $15 going to the first place winner. The second place award will be $10, and five awards of $5 each will go to runners-up.

Originality and neatness will be considered in the judging.

Chapel Choir to Rehearse

Chapel Choir will rehearse from 7 to 9:50 tonight in Schwab Auditorium.

Extend Deadline For 'Week' Forms

The deadline for applying for membership on Spring Week committees has been extended to 5 p.m. Monday.

Committees to be filed are: parade, he-man contest, publicity, mad-hatters parade, and arrangements.

Applicants will be screened by Cabinet Personnel Interviewing Committee. Applicants may sign up for interviews at the Student Union desk in Old Main.
