

'Corn Is Green' Begins Tomorrow

Emlyn William's drama of life in a Welsh mining town, "The Corn Is Green," will open at 8 tomorrow night at Center Stage in the Temporary Union Building for a run of five weekends on Friday nights.

Warren Smith, associate professor of dramatics, is directing the show, which will be acted arena-style with seats arranged around the "stage."

Eight crews have been announced by Ray Vanderbilt, stage manager of the production.

Co-managers of the properties crew are Ann Keeseey and Greta Jordan. Crew members are Agnes Funk, Margaret Toth, Jane Davis, Anita Lynch and Joanna Binkley.

Peggy Lloyd is manager, and Roberta Knapp is assistant manager of the costume crew. Crew members are Lucille Dorsey, Gertrude Kittelberger, Elsie Ball, Janet Murdock, Alice Morrow, Nancy Lesko, Carol Keplinger, Thelma Rhode, Lee Ackerly, Gayle Landhart and Joan Bianchi.

Merston Heads Make-Up
Manager and assistant manager of make-up crew are Millis Merston and Vanessa Johnson. Crew members are Barbara Stifeler, Harriet Stiemann, Tina Kaufman, Louise Juele, and Clifton Crosby. Sherman Francisco is manager and Caryl Newitt is assistant manager of lighting crew. Crew members are James Simpson, James Noll, William Delaney, Beverly Fish, Freda Schenkel and Jacquelyn Loikrec.

Sound Crew Lists Four
Robert Smith is manager of the sound crew, with crew members Lloyd Peterson, Martin Devlin and John Henderson.

Ernest Swiggett is house manager, and Robert Kokat and Gerald Denisof are co-assistants. Crew members are Judy Walter, Mary Phillips, Florence Gemmill, Jacqueline Mulcey, Leonard Tarnowski, Deane Lambing, William Ghrist, Alice Peterson and Nancy May.

Jean Graham is manager of the technical crew. Crew members are William Texter, Shari Marcus and Carol Schaub.

Lloyd to Direct Advertising
Mary Lou Lloyd is manager and Senora Fetterman is assistant manager of the advertising crew. Crew members are Barbara Daulson, Jacqueline Mulcey, Diane Thatcher, Margaret MacDonald, Joyce Faust, Nancy Dahl, Carl Held, Donald Altemus, Eric Proudfoot, Ann Hadesty, Olwea Florig, Loretta Hunter, Patricia McLaughlin, Nancy Glace, Janet Huber, Carol Schaub, Francis Richards, Barbara Hoyt and Patricia Iobst.

John Jenkins is music director for the production.

Chimes to Sponsor Silver Discussion

Two representatives of the Reed and Barton Sterling Silver Co. will be on campus today to discuss silver pattern selection with coeds and to hear coeds' opinions as future housewives on silver patterns.

The men will meet with coeds from 9:30 a.m. until noon today in Simmons lounge. The visit is being sponsored by Chimes, junior women's hat society.

WSGA House to Meet

The Women's Student Government Association House of Representatives will meet at 6:30 tonight in the second floor west lounge of Atherton.

Cwens Meet Tonight

Cwens will meet at 6:30 tonight in the Women's Student Government Association room at White Hall.

Players Present . . .

The Corn is Green

Friday nights, Dec. 3, 10, 17 - Jan. 7, 14

Center Stage at the TUB

Tickets at Student Union

Seventeen Leave on UN Tour

Seventeen students left the campus at 6 a.m. today to participate in the United Nations seminar, sponsored by the University Christian Association, in cooperation with the departments of political science and education.

The group left State College by bus and will arrive at the Hotel Diplomat in New York City about 2 p.m. They will be taken on a tour of the UN headquarters at 3 p.m. After supper the group will be free to go sightseeing.

Tomorrow the seminar will include lectures and briefings on the UN, and attendance at a session of the General Assembly. Tomorrow evening will again be free for sightseeing.

Saturday morning the group will visit several foreign missions, followed by lunch and a general tour at the International House.

Students attending the seminar are:

Alice Boorman, Judith Hance, Mildred McCowan, Charlotte Klipple, Patricia Beahan, Carolyn Allen, Rosalie Maiorana, Rosemarie Yanni, Jeanette Nitrauer, Inez Althouse, George Wilbur, Ralph Cox, Donald Fisher, Benton Bristol, Richard Weaver, Jack Erway, and Richard Niess.

Faculty members also attending are Serge Scher, graduate instructor in French; Arthur M. Wellington, professor of education, and Mrs. Wellington; Ray V. Watkins, assistant professor of English composition, and Mrs. Watkins, and Dr. Elton Atwater, associate professor of political science.

Frosh Council Sets Tea for March

The Freshman Student Council Tuesday night set March as the month for the Freshman Tea for upperclasswomen.

The tea is given annually by the the Freshman class to show appreciation to upperclasswomen for their help during orientation week and throughout the year.

Approval of the tea must be given by Women's Student Government Association Senate before the final date is set.

Complaints were also received from the representatives concerning the problem of students breaking in or jumping the lunch line.

WSGA Grants Special Hours For Mil Ball

Special hours for Military Ball weekend, Dec. 10 and 11, were granted to women students by the Women's Student Government Association Senate last night.

Upperclass women were granted a two o'clock permission on Friday night of big weekend and a one o'clock Saturday. Hours for upperclass women are not interchangeable.

WSGA Senate granted a twelve o'clock and a one o'clock to freshmen women for big weekend to be used either Friday or Saturday nights at the discretion of the women.

The Freshmen Teas sponsored by the Dean of Women's office will be held from 4 to 5 p.m. on Tuesdays, instead of on Mondays, as formerly scheduled.

The Junior-Senior Faculty Tea will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., Dec. 8, in Simmons lounge. Nancy VanTries, Arlene Borgeson, Pat Dickinson and Carolyn Cunningham will pour.

WRA to Hold Christmas Fete

The annual WRA executive board Christmas party for children will be held from 1 to 3 p.m., Dec. 10 in White Hall.

Entertainment for the children will be a puppet show, games, and stories. Alexander Zerban, seventh semester music education major, will put in an appearance as Santa Claus and distribute presents.

The board has voted to allow Leonides to enter two teams in WRA basketball competition. The two teams will be considered as one entry.

Nancy Peterson, third semester education major, was appointed to the social board of WRA.

Coffee Hour to Be Held By Ed. Student Council

The Education Student Council will hold a coffee hour at 4 p.m. next Thursday in Simmons lounge.

Nancy Scofield was appointed as the council representative to the National Student Association convention Dec. 10 and 11 at council's meeting Tuesday night.

Privacy When You Wish It... Company When You Want It... On Your Honeymoon

Each perfect day of your first week together will be your very own. At this haven in the hills, for 12 honeymoon couples only, you'll have your own secluded cottage. With wonderful meals (breakfast till 11:00) at the old farmhouse. Informal, not "planned," but fun with other congenial young couples when you wish. Graduates of 562 colleges have loved it here. Mention dates, we'll send you "THREE HONEYMOON PLANS."

The Farm on the Hill
Box 150 SWIFTWATER 4, PA.

'Children' Send 'Pop' Through University

Some parents send their children through college. But in the case of Phil Wein, fifth semester arts and letters major, his seven "children" are sending him.

These children are unique in another respect—they're made of wood! Phil is a ventriloquist, and seven wooden dummies comprise his "family."

"A ventriloquist never refers to his dummies as such, though. To him, they assume definite personalities; they're almost human," is the way he explains it.

Started at Nine
Now 20, this Clarion native began learning his trade at the age of 9 from an uncle who is a professional magician and ventriloquist. He has appeared on radio and television programs, in theaters and before local clubs and civic groups.

Some of his favorite audiences, however, are composed of children, flesh and blood variety. And this year, he is taking one of his "sons," Sylvester K. Pine, to entertain orphaned and needy children in 16 states and Canada.

'Operation Toylift'
"Sylvester and I," he says, "are going along on 'Operation Toylift,' which will distribute everything from rattles to cowboy suits to the kids. Sylvester will be dressed as a talking elf, and we'll put on shows for the children before they receive their gifts."

This project is sponsored by Santa's Workshop, North Pole, New York. Phil worked there last summer, entertaining visiting children and their parents.

He has received special permission from the University's speech department to be absent from classes during the toy lift, Dec. 1 to 10.

Sylvester Is Special
Phil has six boys in his family and one girl. But Sylvester is extra-special.

"He was made for me about three years ago," Phil says. "Aside from the regular head and mouth movements most figures make, Sylvester smiles, raises his eyebrows and smokes. He even has a son of his own named Lester to sit on his lap."

Wein is a member of the International Brotherhood of Ventriloquists and the American Guild of Variety Artists. Last year, the North American Association of Ventriloquists chose him the foremost rising young man in the profession.

SAME to Hear Treiber

The Society of American Military Engineers will hear a talk by Kenneth Treiber, of the engineering research and development laboratories, Fort Belvoir, Va., at 7 tonight in 26 Mineral Sciences.

Thru the Looking Glass with Gabbi

Pull in your ears gang, wrap that 6 foot muffler once around again—Old Man Winter's here with his sidekick, Brrr! Besides red noses, he's bringing that wonderful old spirit of Christmas and St. Nick. Bright lights, tinsel and party punch—we're with it! And don't think ETHELS is out of it—we're all set for a cool Yule with all sorts of gimmicks to tickle your fancy.

The stage is set . . . at ETHELS with a gala wonderland of sparkling multi-colored ornaments cascading from the ceiling like bubbles from a pixie's pipe. Green, red, silver and gold decorations for pines and packages—bright and shiny as new pennies, dazzle you at every turn. Pink and crystal spheres and angels dance on tables and walls in a chorus line of cotton, felt, and aluminum foil. More fun than finals, are watching the latticed lanterns bounce and wink at the lights shining on them.

Dress for the occasion . . . Wear a glow at Christmas time and you'll be in style, especially for your Christmas entertaining. Drink mixers topped with feathers of gayly colored aluminum; fiery red organdy party aprons with green popcorn balls and sequins; and felt holders for glasses (to avoid frozen fingers) in gay colored felt with tinkling bells so your hostess knows where you are to refill your glass!

And for color and decoration, huge felt stockings topped with fur and emblazoned with felt appliques, sequins, and glitter (smaller versions for Christmas morn just big enough for folded checks—little things DO mean a lot!)

Such color and excitement in ETHELS is enough to make the rainbow take a back seat—we've just given you a peek on what's doing—come on in today for a taste (or a big helping) of holiday cheer!

Edna Morrow
112 E. COLLEGE AVE.
STATE COLLEGE, PA.

THETA BAZAAR
9:30-4:30
Sat. December 4
Hand made articles
Baked goods
at the
TAVERN

Hide Your Gifts Till Christmas at Schow's!

Matched Luggage

- by Samsonite
- by Belber

The perfect gift for that "hard-to-buy-for" friend or relative. See the wonderfully light airplane luggage in shades to take your breath away!! And Schlow's will keep your gift selections for you until the right moment.

Meet Your Friends at
SCHLOW'S
Open Mondays till 9 p.m. — other days including Wed., till 5:30 p.m.