

McCarthy 'Condemned' By 67-22 Senate Vote

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Senate voted official condemnation of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's conduct on two counts today by a 67-22 vote, but refused to censure him for a "denunciation" of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker.

In a tense, hushed finale to weeks and months of blazing controversy, the Senate completed its sole major item of business at a four-week extraordinary session by declaring:

1. The Wisconsin Republican's failure to help a 1951-52 investigating subcommittee, and his "abuse" of the group's members, are "condemned" on the ground they obstructed "the constitutional processes of the Senate."

2. McCarthy's "Communist handmaiden" and other charges against the Watkins committee, which recommended censure for him, likewise are "hereby condemned."

But another count-abuse of Zwicker when the general appeared before McCarthy's investigation subcommittee last February—never even came to a vote. By a 64-23 margin, the Senate voted to rebuke McCarthy for his blasts at the Watkins committee instead.

Finally, after rebuking one of its own members for the fourth time in American history, the Senate adjourned at 7:10 p.m. EST. That means, in this case, until Jan. 5.

McCarthy, his injured arm in a sling, came into the chamber when the final vote was in process.

He paused at the center rear door, then walked slowly behind the last row of seats on the Republican side just as the man who started the censure move, 74-year-old Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.), sang out a firm "Aye!"

Grinning, McCarthy laid a hand on Flanders' shoulder with a sort of let-by-gones-be-by-gones air. Flanders looked up, shook a forefinger at McCarthy and, his expression unsmiling, said some inaudible from the galleries.

McCarthy took his seat then, voted "present" rather than "aye" or "no" when his name was called, and was deep in a conversation with Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.), who had voted against him, when the final tally was announced. McCarthy didn't even look up.

2 Die, 5 Survive Plane Crash in New England

BERLIN, N.H., Dec. 2 (AP)—A brave young stewardess and four men were hoisted by helicopter from a frozen, desolate mountainside today—45 hours after an airliner crashed killing two of the plane's personnel.

The Northeast Airlines DC3 was discovered this morning by searchers as it nestled in a glistening forest of ice-coated evergreen trees. The search had gone on during all the daylight hours since the plane was reported overdue Tuesday noon on a flight from Boston to Berlin.

The fatalities were the first involving employees in any scheduled operation of the airline which never has suffered a passenger fatality.

Dead were the co-pilot, George McCormick, 37, of Westbury, N.Y., and John McNulty, 39, of Boston, a flight superintendent. They were crushed against the windshield as the big ship nosed into the side of Mt. Success, seven miles due east of Berlin and one mile from the Maine border.

The crash occurred at an altitude

State Senators Split Opinions On McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa.) sided with the majority and Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.) with the minority yesterday as the Senate voted 67-20 to censure Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) for contemptuous conduct toward a Senate subcommittee probing his financial affairs in 1951 and 1952.

As the Senate voted 74-15 against a censure substitute motion by Sen. Karl Mundt (R-S.D.), both Martin and Duff were against the motion, which would have put the Senate on record merely as disapproving and disavowing "intemperate statements" by McCarthy.

Pennsylvania's two senators split on two other earlier motions. Duff voted against a substitute motion by Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill.). Martin was in favor of the motion, defeated 66-21.

On an amendment by Sen. Stiles Bridges (R-N.H.), that McCarthy had violated no Senate rules or precedents, Sen. Martin was for the amendment and Sen. Duff was against it. The amendment was defeated 68-20.

Fisher Is Winner Of TV Band Show

Donald Fisher, fifth semester business administration major, won the Sammy Kaye television show "So You Want to Lead a Band" last night.

Fisher is in New York in connection with the United Nations trip taken by a group of University students which left yesterday morning.

While interviewing Fisher, Sammy Kaye highly praised Penn State.

Petition Shows 1,698,222 Oppose McCarthy Censure

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—The recently formed organization named "Ten Million Americans Mobilizing for Justice" said today it has now gathered 1,698,222 signatures on petitions opposing Senate censure of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

The first 1,000,816 names tallied were delivered to the Senate in Washington yesterday by truck.

The count is being conducted by a private auditing firm. A spokesman for the committee said that many petitions are still coming in, but that tabulating was made difficult by arrival of odd-sized forms that were cut out of about 40 newspapers.

U.S. Will Ask UN Intervention

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Dec. 2 (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. announced today the United States will request the UN to move for the release of 11 American aviators sentenced to jail as spies in Red China. Lodge said he is confident the United States will get support.

The chief American delegate to the UN rushed from conferences at the State Department to a meeting of the 16 UN members who fought the Reds in Korea and then told newsmen:

"Great concern was expressed by all present at the fate of the 11 aviators and no doubt action will be taken by the United Nations."

"The United States is going to request action and we are confident we will be supported both for the sake of our prisoners and others."

"We are going to act to do everything we can to keep faith with these men. They are UN men as well as United States men."

"This organization can't go on if it does not stand by people who go to bat for it when it gets into trouble."

Eastern 'NATO' Planned By Russia and Satellites

MOSCOW, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Soviet Union and seven Eastern European Communist states tonight signed a pledge to pool their armed forces and put them under a joint command if the Western Powers ratify the Paris agreements to rearm West Germany.

Premier Georgi Malenkov and top members of the Soviet government attended the ceremony in the great Kremlin Palace. The signing wound up a four-day security conference called by the Russians to counter the West's defensive alliance, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, with an Eastern version of NATO.

Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov signed for the Soviet Union. The other nations committed by the signatures of their chief delegates are East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Albania.

Red China was represented by its ambassador in Moscow who declared his government threw its full support behind the eight-nation declaration.

Western leaders have set March 1 as the target for ratification. When this is done 500,000 West German troops will be brought under the North Atlantic banner.

The Western nations snubbed invitations to attend the Moscow security conference. The United States, Britain, France and others said ratification must precede meetings with Communist leaders on European problems.

Informed diplomatic officials say the Soviet Union and its European partners could muster 400 divisions within 30 days after the jumptop of any attack. The total of men under arms in the eight nations is placed at more than six million, of whom about four and one-half million are in the ground forces.

The Soviet Union's 20,000-plane fleet of fighters, light bombers and heavy bombers is being converted into a deadly and completely modern jet force.

Arrayed against this Communist strength are about 100 divisions available to the Supreme Command of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, with about 2000 planes of the West's vast air fleets in condition to fight immediately.

Rep. Errett Scrivner (R-Kan), touching upon the air issue in a U.S. House debate last April 28, said the United States had 31,000 planes assigned to the Air Force, Navy and Marines and that Russia has no long-range bombers capable of attacking the United States and returning to a Soviet base.

Ike Urges Patience on Red Threats

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—President Dwight D. Eisenhower counseled patience for Americans today, saying the United States must stand steady in the face of Communist provocations "and refuse to be goaded" into impulsive acts which could lead to war.

Calling that "the hard way" to face such tactics as the imprisonment of 13 Americans by the Chinese Communists, Eisenhower said the easy course would be "to adopt a truculent, publicly bold, almost insulting attitude."

Specifically, the President told his news conference he believes a blockade of Red China, such as has been urged by Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, would be an act of war.

The Chinese accused the 13 of spying, a charge the State and Defense Departments have already vigorously denied.

The President was reticent in the case of the two civilians whom the Red Chinese charged were espionage agents for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency. Asked about the status of these two, Eisenhower said it was cloudy, he thought, and he couldn't discuss it in detail.
