

'Corn Is Green' Opens At Center Stage Tonight

By JOE BEAU-SEIGNEUR

University students will probably get their first view of Welsh life in a mining town when Players present Emlyn Williams' "The Corn Is Green" at 8 tonight. The show is the second "arena-type" production of the semester to be presented at Center Stage in the Temporary Union Building.

Tickets are available at the Student Union desk in Old Main or at the door for $1. Four other performances will be presented on next Friday, Dec. 17, Jan. 7 and 14.

Elizabeth Ives, third semester arts and letters major, has the leading role of Miss Moffat, which Ethel Barrymore played on the stage, and Bette Davis enacted in the movie

Debate Team To Participate In Tournaments

Eight members of the men's debate team will leave Saturday to participate in the intercollegiate debate tournament at Allegheny College and the Temple Novice Tournament.

From 15 to 20 teams from Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania will be represented at the Allegheny tournament. The debaters, accompanied by Joseph F. O'Brien, debate coach, will be Sidney Goldblatt, seventh semester pre-medical major, and Benjamin Sinclair, seventh semester arts and letters major, debating the affirmative of this year's national debate topic "Resolved: That the United States should recognize Communist China." David Meckler, seventh semester pre-medical major, and Edward Klevans, third semester electrical engineering major, will debate the negative.

At the Temple Novice Tournament, Jerry Donovan, seventh semester labor management major, and Ernest Famous, seventh semester arts and letters major, will take the affirmative of the same topic. John Yeatman, seventh semester arts and letters major, and Nathan Supnick, seventh semester arts and letters major, will debate the negative. They will be accompanied by Harold J. O'Brien, assistant debate coach.
