5 Church Groups Will Go Caroling

Five of the church foundations will hold Christmas caroling parties tomorrow night.

Canterbury Club of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church will meet at the parish house at 5:30 p.m. tomorrow for a supper, followed by caroling.

Westminster Foundation of the Presbyterian Church will hold a candlelight service at 6:20 p.m. tomorrow, followed by a caroling party.

A Christmas caroling party, followed by refreshments at Phi Kappa, will also be held by the Newman Club at 8 p.m. tomorrow. The club will also hold a Christmas dance at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Temporary Union Building.

The Student Fellowship of St. John's Evangelical United Brethren Church will go caroling after a supper at 5 p.m. tomorrow at the church.

Paul Rahmeier, student work associate of the national department of student work of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, will be the guest at the Christmas dinner of the United Student Fellowship of the Faith Evangelical and Reformed Church at 5:30 p.m. tomorrow. After the supper the group will go Christmas caroling.

The Lutheran Student Association will hold their annual candlelight service at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow in Grace Lutheran Church. The speaker will be the Rev. Robert W. Koons of Zion Lutheran Church, Sunbury.

The Young Friends will hold a supper and informal discussion meeting at 6 p.m. tomorrow at the State College Friends Meeting House.

The Inter Church Student Fellowship will hold its annual Christmas party from 7:30 to 10 tonight at Wesley Foundation. The party is open to all students.

Wesley Foundation of the Methodist Church will hold a Christmas buffet supper at 5 p.m. tomorrow, followed by a showing of slides on foreign missions. At the 7:30 p.m. church service tomorrow members of the Foundation will present a play, "One Midnight Clear," written by Daniel Watanabe, an assistant at the Foundation.

George Rapp, graduate in geophysics and geochemistry, will discuss "The Separation of Church and State" at a supper meeting of the Emerson Society at 5:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Odd Fellows Hall above the Dutch Pantry on East College avenue.

Hillel Foundation will hold a lox and bagel brunch from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. tomorrow. Hostesses will be from third floor Simmons Hall. A latkah party will be held at the Foundation from 3 to 5 p.m. tomorrow.

duct the service and deliver the Christmas meditation on the subject titled "Two Worlds Meet."

Organ music, played by George E. Ceiga, Chapel organist, will include "Sleep Well, Child of Heaven," Guilmant; "What Child Is This?," Purvis and "Vom Himmel Hoch, Fifth Canonic Variation" by Bach.

The idea of a candlelight Christmas service was originated by John Schoening, Red Bank, N.J., a member of the 1942-49 choir. Doors will be opened at 10:25 tonight.

The program will be repeated at the regular Chapel hour, 10:55 a.m. tomorrow in the auditorium, held Dec. 11, 1948.

Research Group To Hear Andrews

Dr. F. Anderson Andrews, director of publications for Russell Sage Foundation and an authority on American foundations, will address the Constituent Body of the Social Science Research Center at 4 p.m. Tuesday in 316 Sparks.

Andrews will speak on "American Foundations, Their Interests, and Methods of Operation."

A graduate of Franklin and Marshall College, Andrews joined The MacMillan Company as manager of advertising printing and later director of the mail service department. He has held his present position with Russell Sage foundation since 1928. Since 1941, he has been a consultant for the 20th Century Fund.

Medieval Painting To Be on Display

Medieval Manuscript Painting will be on display at the Pattee Library through December.

The pictures were taken by Dr. Winston Weisman, assistant professor of fine arts.

Dr. Weisman explained that such paintings were made throughout Europe and in the areas bordering the Mediterranean until the advent of the printing press in the early 17th century.
