

DU, Phi Kappa Sig Fight for IM Title

Moving into the opening round of semi-final action last night, the intramural boxing championship has boiled down to a death struggle between last year's champion Phi Kappa Sigma and current second-running Delta Upsilon. Things are so tight, Sigma Alpha Epsilon is also conceded an outside chance for the mitt title.

The outcome will remain in doubt until the conclusion of Thursday night's final action. However, since 15 points are awarded to a champion, and if both Phi Kappa Sigma and Delta Upsilon meet with disaster, Sigma Alpha Epsilon could slip into the coveted position providing both their entrants hung up titles Thursday evening.

Lang Wins

In last night's action of eight bouts, Pete Lang of Beta Theta Pi walked off with a split decision over his unlimited opponent, Walt Mazur, Phi Kappa Tau. For the lanky Beta, it was the old story of science over strength. Fighting through the first two rounds with a left jab and an occasional right cross, Lang effectively tied up the bull-like Mazur. Then in the final round he took the offensive with both hands landing to the head of the tired Mazur. It was this third round spurge that wrapped up the fight for Lang. Lang will meet Russ Mandeville, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, for the unlimited title.

The 155-pound bout of the evening was stopped in the final round when Irv Abramson, Alpha Epsilon Pi, scored with a two-fisted attack to the head of Jack Sadler of Alpha Tau Omega. Referee Eddie Sulkowski stopped the fight after Sadler had absorbed terrific punishment from the continual two-handed barrage of Abramson, who never stopped throwing from the opening bell.

Tirabassi Beats Hickey

In the unlimited division, Russ Mandeville, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, gained the three round decision over Jim Burkhart, Kappa Sigma. Mandeville utilized a straight left jab and built up a lead throughout the first two rounds, which offset the third frame spurge by Burkhart.

Martin Reaches Finals

In a 155-pound attraction, Dick Martin entered the finals of the independent division when he gained the nod over Tom Long. Martin scored with a right hand

9 Independent IM Teams Win In Basketball

An all-independent card dominated Monday night's nine-game intramural basketball slate.

The Ag Hill Diners won a 21-20 decision from the Cougars, but had to fight until the final second in order to gain the victory. The Diners, leading 14-9 at half-time, saw their opponent's Ed Hauck get hot in the game's late stages and almost lead his team to an upset win.

Louis Trautman's 10 points led the way for the Jordan Jokers' 20-18 victory over the Koons.

In the night's highest scoring spree, the Mustangs defeated the Birds, 35-23. Simmons of the winners and the Birds' Jim Lockerman netted 15 points each, tying for the night's individual scoring honors.

Excellent teamwork and Chester Buckenmaier's accurate eye accounted for the McKee Monster's runaway win over the Renegades, 31-10. Buckenmaier tallied 12 points.

IT'S A FACT! College smokers prefer Luckies to all other brands—and by a wide margin—according to the latest, greatest coast-to-coast college survey. The No. 1 reason: Luckies taste better. They taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. Now for the Doodle above, titled: Inept smoke ring blown by ept smoker. He's ept, of course, because he smokes Luckies. Be ept yourself and enjoy the better-tasting cigarette . . . Lucky Strike.
