

Toys for Tots

640 Area Kiddies See Santa Early

By DOTTIE STONE

Santa Claus came in from the North Pole a little early this year to 640 children from the State College and Boalsburg area with Christmas toys, goodies, and parties.

The larger of two projects sponsored by fraternity and sorority groups provided a series of parties for children of the community. Invitations were extended to over 640 children to attend one of the 26 parties held at various fraternity houses.

Toys Get Paint Job

In another project, Kappa Sigma and Alpha Chi Omega collected approximately 800 toys and cleaned, repaired, and repainted them. They were turned over to the county welfare worker to be distributed to the less fortunate children of the area.

The project reached its climax two weeks ago as more than 50 students turned out the toys in assembly-line fashion. Working at the Kappa Sigma chapter house, students divided into crews around long tables. One crew washed the toys, another repaired mechanical toys, some of the coeds sewed dresses for the dolls, and others added a fresh coat of paint to everything from trucks to doll faces.

"So Much Fun"—Prexy

Visiting the fraternity when the operation was at its peak, President Milton S. Eisenhower said, "Not only is the project a commendable one, but everyone is having so much fun."

Two station wagons loaded with repaired toys have already been turned over to Ethel Bever, county welfare secretary. She will distribute the toys to county orphans, who have been placed in foster homes throughout the county, on her monthly visits to each child. The remainder of the toys will be collected this week.

Ninety per cent of the toys were

Outing Club Plans Canadian Conclave

Officers and committee chairman of the Penn State Outing Club will hold an encampment meeting from Dec. 26 to Jan. 1 in the Algonquin National Park, Canada. The purpose of the encampment will be to plan in detail the Outing Club activities for the coming semester and to participate in winter sports such as snowshoeing, skiing, and ice fishing.

The group will meet in Buffalo, N.Y. on Dec. 26 and will travel to Toronto, Canada, by car. It will then go by logging train to a cabin located in the park, 200 miles above Toronto. The temperature in the park sometimes reaches to 40 degrees below zero.

The entire Outing Club is planning a skiing trip to New England between semesters.

Swim Club to Meet

The Women's Recreation Association Swim Club will have a dry land meeting at 6:30 tonight in 105 White Hall. Final plans for the swim show in the spring will be made and instruction in writing choreography will be given.

Schleiman to Speak At WSGA Conclave

Helen Schleiman, dean of women at Purdue University, will be the guest speaker for the Women's Student Government Association March 28, Patricia Dickinson, junior senator, announced at the WSGA last night.

Carolyn Cunningham, junior senator, said that since the convocation is to be March 28, the freshman tea will be held March 20, and WSGA elections in the week following the tea.

Nancy Van Tries, town senator, reported that she had discussed the possibility of counselors for town freshmen with Dean of Women Pearl O. Weston and if counselors are used they will probably be selected from sophomore women who live in Atherton Hall. Miss Van Tries said in this way it will be possible for the town women to maintain contact with women in the dormitories.

Marlene Bishoff, substituting for May Day vice-chairman Anne Beebe, submitted Miss Beebe's appointments for May Day committees. All were approved by the Senate. Those appointed as committee chairmen are: elections, Diane Edelman and Miss Beebe; customs, Susan Conway; publicity, Martha Fleming and Elizabeth Kraabel; May Day ceremonies, Beate Maron; invitations and programs, Alletta Manbeck and Elaine Harding; decorations, Margaret Fisher; music and entertainment, JoAnn Magrini and Joan Clark.

Senate also approved three organizations to receive the WSGA money from the campus chest. The organizations are the Mifflin County Child Welfare Service, Women's Hospital Association, and the Centre County Retarded Children's Association.

WSGA president Patricia Ellis announced the appointment of Barbara Mensinger to replace Ann Cunningham on the Community Forum Committee.

Luther Burbank named his Shasta daisy for his favorite snow-capped peak in the Sierras.

Thru the Looking Glass

with Gabbi

Merry Christmas, crew—it's time, not just tree-trimming, tinsel-tossing time, not just back at the ranch, but everywhere! Got my knee sox darned, ready to go, cornered the market on Angostura and did all my holiday shopping at Wana—I mean ETHEL'S, of course!

Noses pressed against the window . . .

These days are passe' for Gabbi during Christmas—am now on the inside looking out (just love my sawdust bed and daily bone) and it's more fun than pillow fights—seeing all that beautiful crystal in dazzling ruby and green; and gleaming brass in any shape—candlesticks to candy dishes. These are the gifts that deserve many kisses on the forehead from the people who appreciate the unusual and the beautiful!

Clever and cute cards . . .

that should be dealt with in the best of humor for any occasion. Even Scrooge would spare a smile at first sight of these zany, abstract, modern mood creations—delightful and daring—you'll buy several saying, "I just must send this to someone, it's too great to pass up!"

Sugar 'n Spice

not only compose little girls (well, we were once) but some tangy dishes and seasonings that will make any meal even more taste-tempting! Prepared salad dressing and wine vinegar that look good enough to drink. And if you've just been drinking tea when you're sick in bed—you'll be getting sick more often once you sample the delicious tea you can buy at ETHEL'S—spiked with spice and color—even better than Chinese egg slop soup! That's it gang, see you in '55—meanwhile have a vociferous vacation and Merry Christmas from ETHEL'S and me, too!

Definitely! Credit Where Credit's Due

Although Brunhilda believes Santa of North Pole fame is a myth and wishes her coming bluebooks were too, she has to face the proverbial facts. She has to take her bluebooks and has to play Santa Clause. There are those obligations that come before us and stare us straight in the cotton pick'en face. Your roommate, or friend, or some female, has slyly announced, in plenty of time for you to act, that she has obtained for you a Christmas present. Don't panic group or wrap your cloak about you and steal off into the night. Merely trundle off to Simon's and purchase a GIFT CERTIFICATE. What could be easier? (Especially for those hard-to-please people.) "Let 'em chose for themselves." P.S. O.K. men now for you—Act! This gift certificate is something any blushing young favorite of yours will love.
