

Sigma Nu, Phi Kap Sig To Battle for Crown

By JOHN LAWRENCE

After more than two weeks of competition, 24 fighters will stake their bids to 1954 individual intramural boxing titles tonight in Recreation Hall. The first bout is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Now that the smoke has cleared, only Phi Kappa Sigma, last year's champions, and Sigma Nu remain in the running for the fraternity crown. However, Phi Kappa Sig will have the advantage, with a total of three men competing in final action to Sigma Nu's two.

Both of last year's returning champions, Nick McChesney of Phi Kappa Sigma and Steve Haky, Sigma Nu, boosted their fraternity's stock with victories in last night's semi-final action.

McChesney, gunning for his third fraternity title, defeated clever Bill Trowbridge of Acacia. McChesney made full use of his right hand during the final two rounds which saw the lithe 145 pounder assume the initiative and land the right hands to the head. Trowbridge never had full opportunity to display his artillery as McChesney effectively tied him up in close quarters.

Lasts 55 Seconds

Haky's 175 pound bout lasted only 55 seconds of the first round, when the former 165 pound champ stopped Ron Farris of Theta Kappa Phi. Haky caught Farris moving in with his head down and nailed him with a hard right hand which dropped Farris to the canvas. Referee John McHugh immediately stopped the fight.

Phi Kappa Sigma received a serious setback when its 135 pound contestant, Bill Marshall, was stopped in 35 seconds of the first round by Bob Brubaker of Delta Upsilon. Brubaker dropped Marshall early in the round, with a two-handed barrage to the head and followed this with a left jab-right cross combination that put Marshall down for the second time to end the fight.

Gilleland Stops Bergesen

Sigma Nu also found itself short one contestant, when Andy Bergesen was defeated by John Gilleland of Phi Sigma Kappa. Gilleland staggered Bergesen in the third round when he connected with a hard left cross to the head. He had managed to stay in control through the earlier rounds of the 135 pound bout.

In the 175 pound bout, Joel Gamble earned the right to meet Haky in the finals when he defeated Herb Hollowell of Delta Tau Delta. Gamble threw a continual two-handed storm to the head of Hollowell who displayed an effective left hook while fighting from a crouch.

Alex Bagoly, Lambda Chi Alpha, carried the fight to his 128

Two Runaway Victories Highlight IM Cage Action

Two runaway wins highlighted 16 fraternity and one independent game played on Tuesday night's intramural program.

Phi Sigma Delta showed some of last year's form, walloping Alpha Phi Delta, 56-29. Milt Linial netted 20 points for the defending champs—the highest individual total for the night.

The lone independent game produced an even bigger runaway. The Spartans, led by Don Fitz and John Newlin, each scoring 16 points, romped over the State Club, 56-17.

Beta Theta Pi, paced by Pete Lang's 13 points, came from behind and defeated Pi Kappa Phi, 25-23.

Delta Theta Sigma, playing a spirited brand of ball in the second half, didn't have enough time left to overcome Tau Phi Delta's 16-8 halftime bulge. Tau Phi Delta won, 25-22.

Phi Kappa's 5-10 center, John Kunda, outscored Sigma Alpha Mu's 6-5 Stan Lassofo in a scoring duel that resulted in a 28-16 Phi Kappa victory.

In other contests, Sigma Alpha Epsilon defeated Pi Kappa Alpha in a tense 26-24 decision; Sigma Phi Epsilon broke loose in the second half and smashed Zeta Beta Tau, 29-12; Theta Chi's defense told the story of its 19-13 victory over Delta Tau Delta; and Acacia's teamwork enabled it to walk away with a 27-13 win over Phi Kappa Sigma.

Gasoline Companies Raise Prices in Penna.

Gasoline suppliers report they have removed subsidies in so-called "price war" areas in the state of Pennsylvania, and prices were back to their local normals by the past weekend.

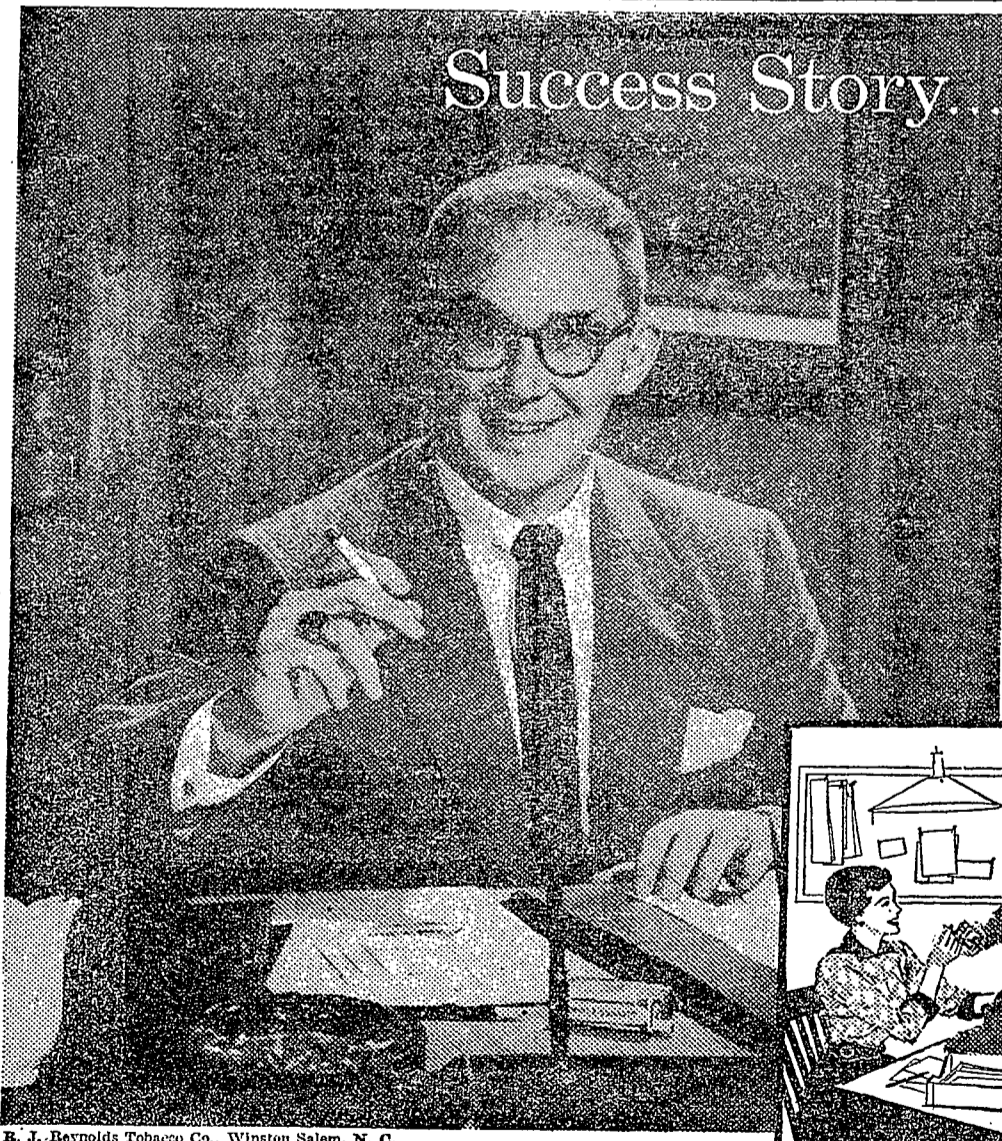

Price increases ranging up to 5c per gallon were reported for the Tyrone-Altoona area and up to 4c per gallon in the Harrisburg direction.

The State College area, which has had a normal wholesale price all along, received no increase in wholesale price.

It is generally known that when "warring" dealers cut their prices below the cost of operation, the gas companies subsidize their dealers in order to keep them in business. Sometimes this condition lasts so long that the consumer looks at the price as a normal one. Then when the gas goes back to the regular market price, it appears as though gasoline has taken a sharp increase.

The last reported average price of gasoline over the United States was 30-31c per gallon.
