

Carnegie Tech Upsets Cagers

Late Rally Gives Tech 66-56 Win

Underdog Carnegie Tech, a Penn State victim at Rec Hall early this season, came from behind after trailing for the first half and part of the second last night, to upend favored Penn State, 66-56 at Skibo Gym in Pittsburgh.

The Lions, who lost their fourth of the year and third on foreign soil, led 27-23 at halftime and still retained a slim margin after five minutes had passed in the second half. But the scrappy Tartans caught the Lions with ten minutes left, and pulled ahead to stay. The win was the sixth for Tech against seven defeats.

The Lions' fourth loss was their worst offensive showing of the campaign. They got only 43 shots from the field, connecting on 18, while the Tartans hit on 25 of 54 field goal attempts.

Center Jesse Arnelle and forward Earl Fields were the only two Nittanians who were able to find any scoring success against the hopped-up Tech quintet, which last week upset West Virginia, 70-69. Arnelle tossed in 20 points and Fields added 17 to lead the Penn State offense.

The Lions jumped off to an early lead, and, led by Arnelle and Fields, kept the Lions alive throughout the first half. However, the sluggish Nittanians couldn't shake coach Mel Cratsley's determined club.

The two teams battled on equal grounds for the opening minutes of the second half, but Tech soon began to narrow the already slim Penn State lead. With guards Ed Fieler and Ed Boyd pacing the attack, Tech crashed the Penn State man-for-man defense and stormed into the lead to stay. Fieler, hitting from all angles, led the scoring with 22 points and Boyd tallied 17.

The Lions were never back in the contest from there on in, although in several instances coach John Egli's team looked as though it might move back into contention.

The Lions move down the street to Memorial field house tonight for the first of two scheduled games with the unpredictable Pitt Panthers, showing a 5-8 record.

The game marks the 82nd cage meeting between the two schools. Penn State holds the series edge, 43-38.

Four Intramural Squads Stretch Winning Streaks

By IRV BRODSKY

Four unbeaten IM basketball teams stretched their winning strings at Rec Hall Thursday night.

Delta Upsilon and Sigma Nu were the two fraternity teams that kept on the right path. Delta Upsilon and Kappa Sigma locked horns in a 28-26 duel; Jim Garrity leading DU's victory march with 10 points.

Sigma Nu had an even tougher battle before the final buzzer sounded. Phi Mu Delta had Sigma Nu on the ropes, 17-10, at the half. Led by Steve Haky and Ed Ritter, a consistent double-figure shooter, Sigma Nu broke loose in the second half to net 30 points. Haky tallied 11 and Ritter hooped 10 in the 40-27 victory.

Turks Win

The Turks, a leading independent threat with five consecutive wins, had little trouble pounding Dorm 24 into submission, 47-27. The Turks piled up the largest team score of the night with squad members Bernie Kalanowski and Al'n Bortle displaying some splendid individual talent. They scored 14 and 12 points respectively.

The second unbeaten independent five, the Toppers, got off to a slow start in their contest with Dorm 22. Because of poor shooting on their opponents' part, the Toppers still managed to hold an 8-2 halftime advantage. However, Roy Angst got red-hot in the second half, sinking 14 of his 16 points. That sewed the game up for the Toppers, 29-13. Stan Cheslock hooped eight points for the losers.

Wilchacky Scores 16

The Nittany Rippers displayed some fiery teamwork in bowing to the 36 Vets, 35-30. The Vets' Russell Wilchacky was the main reason the Nittany Rippers could never cut down the winner's 14-10 halftime edge. Wilchacky tied Angst for individual scoring honors with 16 points.

Chi Phi's late rally stopped Phi Sigma Kappa from winning their first game in five starts. Phi Sigma Kappa held on to their 9-7 halftime lead only until there was seven minutes left to play. Then Chi Phi, paced by Bob Allen and Ralph Wagner, moved ahead to stay, 24-18.

Alpha Zeta handed Triangle its fourth straight setback by a score of 25-14. The losers could never overcome Alpha Zeta's commanding 16-6 early game lead. Don Miller and Walter Edelen led the winners with 11 and six points.

Phi Gamma Delta defeated Kappa Alpha Psi, 34-21, in a game that had three ball players hitting double figures. Charles Christensen and John Lessig hooped 13 and 12 for the winners, and C. Thomas tallied 13 for Kappa Alpha Psi.

In the last game, Dorm 42 won its fourth game in five outings by pasting the Balok Bombers, 21-11.

Boston Red Sox home attendance for 1954 fell below the million mark for the first time since the end of World War II.

Swedish Tour Was a Gamble

Tonight's gym exhibition by the Swedish National teams was a doubtful idea when it began.

But Penn State gymnastic coach, Gene Wettstone, went to work and here they are.

The Lion mentor, who prompted the 1954 visit of the Swedish men's team, was himself sold on the idea and believed audiences in America would be even more thrilled over the combined show presented by the men's and women's teams than they were over the all-male presentation last year.

And early reports are bearing him out. The Swedes have presented a crowd-pleasing demonstration of gymnastics at each of the six stops in their current tour.

The New York Times had nothing but praise for the Scandinavians after their Madison Square Garden performance, and the Cadets of the Military Academy at West Point were overwhelmed by their exhibition.

Tonight's Rec Hall performance, which will get underway at 7 p.m., is without a doubt the highlight of their American tour.

Music for the event will begin at 6:30 p.m. The ten events of the two-hour exhibition will follow the entrance march, introductory remarks by Ernest B. McCoy, Directors of Athletics, presentation of the Penn State gift to the Swedes by John Speer and Patricia Ellis, representing the student body, and the Swedish and American national anthems.

The program of events follows:

1. Free standing exercises by the Swedish women's team.
 2. Tumbling by the entire Swedish team.
 3. Balance beam and uneven parallel bar routines.
 4. Synchronized calisthenics by the Swedish men's team.
 5. Jumping and tumbling by the Swedish women's team.
 - Intermission
 6. Apparatus gymnastics by members of the Penn State varsity gym team and the visiting men's team.
 7. Novelty number with several Swedish men and women.
 8. Individual free standing exercises by select members of both Swedish teams.
 9. Synchronized ball routine by the Swedish women's team.
 10. High table vaulting by the Swedish men's team.
- Closing ceremonies with the playing of the Alma Mater.

Sports Briefs

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—The National Boxing Assn. which stripped France's Robert Cohen of his world bantamweight title a month ago, said today it would recognize the winner of a Raton Macias-Mario D'Agata bout as the 118-pound champion.

Macias, of Mexico, is the World Boxing Committee's No. 1 contender and North American titleholder. He and Cohen are ranked as logical contenders for the vacant crown by the NBA. D'Agata, of Italy, is not ranked by the world group but is ranked as the No. 4 bantam by the NBA.

The NBA's executive committee, at a special meeting, decreed that Macias and D'Agata should fight within 60 days.

WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 14 (AP)—The University of Wichita said today that Jack Mitchell has resigned as head football coach and signed with the University of Arkansas.

At Fayetteville, Mitchell—All-American at the University of Oklahoma and Wichita U. head coach for two years—will succeed Bowden Wyatt.

Wyatt resigned recently at Arkansas to take the football helm at Tennessee.

Wichita U. officials said Mitchell's resignation came as a surprise.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Chuck Dressen began shaking up the personnel of the Washington Senators today by weeding out a pair of weak hitting veterans, second baseman Wayne Terwilliger and catcher Joe Tipton.
