

Bus Ad College Receives Several Aids

A series of scholarships, graduate research fellowships, and teaching assistantships has been established in the College of Business Administration by the New York Life Insurance Company, President Milton S. Eisenhower has announced.

The purpose of the awards, Devereux C. Josephs, Chairman of the Board of the New York Life Insurance Company, explained is to stimulate the highest level of professional competence by preparing students of outstanding ability for work in the insurance field.

The program, which will become effective this semester, will offer students the opportunity to further their undergraduate work in insurance with postgraduate study leading to a master's degree, will develop additional opportunities for refresher training to practitioners in the field, and will stimulate interest in and develop competent teachers of insurance subjects.

The program, which provides for contributions of $5,000 per year during the next three years, will be carried out with the following awards which will be known as the New York Life Insurance Company Scholarships:

A series of undergraduate scholarships each amounting to $300 per year and including four four-year scholarships for freshmen, one three year scholarship for a sophomore, one two-year scholarship for a junior, and one one-year scholarship for a senior.

The program also includes three one-year graduate research fellowships of $1,500, one to be effective each year during the next three years; four one-year, including summer session, teaching assistantships with not more than two in any one year; and contributions of $100 per year for the three-year period to the Penn State Insurance Club. A part of the cost of the teaching assistantships would be paid by the University.

650 Students Enter University

Approximately 650 students, about 100 of them women, have enrolled at the University for the Spring semester.

The new students, including some 200 freshman men, met Tuesday to participate in a short orientation program.

The remaining new students include more than 200 transferring from University centers where they have completed one or two years of their college work; approximately 150 transferring from other colleges or universities with advanced standing; and more than 100 former students returning to resume their college work.

The necessary space for the new students was provided by the graduation of a January class and by vacancies caused by the withdrawal of students throughout the semester.

Students and Faculty May See 'Hamlet' Film

Students and faculty members may see Laurence Olivier's film production of "Hamlet" today and tomorrow at a special 50-cent rate at the Park Theatre in Williamsport, according to Dr. Brice Harris, head of the English literature department.

The film will be shown at 2 p.m. and continuously at 6 and 9 p.m. Students will be required to show their matriculation cards to be admitted at the special rate.

18 Students Graduated With Honors

Eighteen of the 424 graduates who received degrees at the commencement exercises on Jan. 31 were graduated with honors.

Dr. Gardner Cowles, president of Cowles Magazines, Inc., and editor of Look magazine, addressed the class. Degrees were conferred by President Milton S. Eisenhower.

Among the graduates were 304 candidates for baccalaureate degrees and 120 candidates for advanced degrees, including 41 doctorates.

The eighteen graduating with honors were:

John Allison, BS, agronomy; Marion Kalbach, BS, education; Ann Cunningham, BS, education; Raymond Hoover, BS, education; Patricia Beahan, BA, journalism; John Else, BS, psychology.

Nancy Shaner, BA, arts and letters; Forrest Remick, BS, mechanical engineering; Jean Baker, BA, education; Robert W. Smith, BA, commerce; Ideal Saldi, BS, industrial engineering; Mary Yandow Weidner, BS, education; Elaine Cohen, BS, education; Gerry Gilispie, BS, chemical engineering; Barbara Menapace, BS, education; Rita Koballa, BS, education; Baylee Friedman, BA, arts and letters; and Karen Gruskin, BA, arts and letters.

CPA Candidates Meet

A meeting will be held for students interested in art and design who wish to work with the Central Promotion Agency at 7 tonight in 5 Carnegie.

VALENTINES Nittany Card & Gift Shop

Opp. Ath. Hall, 348 E. College

Grants—

(Continued from page thirteen) and athletic ability.

A fellowship in mechanical engineering valued at $2100 and a teaching assistantship valued at $3000 have been given the University by the du Pont Company.

The mechanical engineering fellowship provides $1500 for an unmarried student and $2,100 for a married student in addition to $1200 given to the University to cover the tuition and educational fees of the student.

The chemistry teaching assistantship provides $2400 for an unmarried appointee and $3000 for a married student.

"Quiet hours" were observed in the first quarter of the century practically all the time except at meal times, Friday evenings, and Saturday afternoons and evenings.

Everyone is Shouting

... let's give this new semester a fresh start and of course the way to do is to take all your clothes that need cleaning to Balfurd's.

You will be assured of a personalized job everytime.

Balfurd

Cleaners

Tailors

307 W. Beaver

AD 7-7661

THE ATHLETIC STORE

Engineering Materials

Text Books

New & Used

Student Supplies

Sporting Goods

Opposite Main Gate