

Six Grants Of $63,500 Given to MI

Six grants totaling $63,500 have been given to the College of Mineral Industries.

The Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. has donated $19,500 for research on diffusion, aggregation, and nucleation phenomena in glass. The project is under the direction of Dr. Guy Rindone, assistant professor of ceramics.

The Lithium Corp. of America has contributed $4500 for research on phase equilibrium and physical property measurements in systems involving lithium oxide. The project is being directed by Floyd A. Hummel, associate professor of ceramics.

The National Science Foundation has donated $10,000 for research on the aggregation of ice crystals to form snow. The project is under the direction of Dr. Charles L. Hosler Jr., associate professor of meteorology.

The Bird Well Survey Co. has contributed $4000 for investigations of the electrical characteristics of the Weir Sand and related problems. The project is under the direction of Dr. Benjamin F. Howell Jr., professor of geophysics and head of the department of geophysics and geochemistry, and Dr. E. James Moore, assistant professor of geophysics.

Two grants totaling $25,500 have been renewed.

Hot-Top Producers Association has contributed $15,000 for research on hot-tops. Hot-tops are refractories used at top of molds in steel mills. The project is under the direction of Dr. Amos J. Shaler, professor and head of the department of metallurgy, and Dr. Malcolm C. McQuarrie, assistant professor of ceramics.

The Glen-Gery Shale Brick Corp. has contributed $10,500 for research on materials, processes, and products of interest in the manufacture of clay products. The project is directed by Floyd A. Hummel, associate professor of ceramics.

Radio Station Will Assist In Expedition

University amateur radio station A3YA-W3YA will handle communications with the Antarctic Expedition aboard the ship, USS Atka, as the official Army station.

The USS Atka is now making a preliminary survey for a larger operation later this year or early next year.

This expedition is a continuation of the one by Admiral Richard E. Byrd several years ago and is being fitted out as part of the International Geophysical Year Expedition with the Department of Navy, designated the United States Coordinator. The University station also participated with the Byrd expedition.

As soon as arrangements have been completed, communications will begin between the University and Little America, and other points to be designated.

Finding a convenient position for the Little America radio station and setting up for operation will be necessary before regular schedules can be started.

Regular operators of the station will carry out the assignment.

Ceiga to Present Recital Sunday

George E. Ceiga, Chapel organist, will present an organ recital at 4 p.m. Sunday in Schwab Auditorium.

The recital is one of a series sponsored by the department of music.

Included in the program will be: "Fugue in C Major," (Buxtehude); "The Old Year Has Passed Away," "Rejoice Now, Good Christmas," "Fantasia," and "Fugue in G Minor," (J. S. Bach); and "Fantasia" and "Fugue on the Chorale," (Fritz Liszt).

The recital is open to the public.

Student Drivers Can't Beat Rap

Traffic tickets for violations received by student drivers last semester are still valid.

Some students believe that last semester's unpaid traffic tickets are written off the books with the beginning of another semester, Capt. Philip A. Mark of the Campus Patrol said.

This isn't true he said. Last semester's unpaid traffic tickets will be added to any received this semester. Students holding these tickets will be fined for them while paying for any violations received this semester, Mark said.

Stamp Sale --

stamp is only the third ever issued to honor a college or a university.

First day covers, which are engraved envelopes with special commemorative seals, will be made available Saturday in East Lansing. These covers with the stamp affixed can be mailed to collectors from East Lansing with the first day cancellation, reading "first day issue," on each. The covers will be sold at Kellogg Center on the Michigan State campus, and in East Lansing.

Collectors desiring the first day cancellation of the new issue may send addressed covers to the East Lansing postmaster with a money order remittance covering the cost of the stamps to be affixed.

Age Forger Is Given Probation

A second semester civil engineering major has been put on office probation for attempting to change the date on his matriculation card.

The Dean of Men's office has accepted the penalty recommended by Tribunal Tuesday night, Harold W. Perkins, assistant to the dean of men, said yesterday.

The student was caught when he went to a borough photographer to have his picture taken to replace the one on his original matric card. He had lost his original card.

Before going to the photographer, he had a friend make a new date card, changing the date to show that he was 21 years old. An employee at the studio noticed that the card was not authentic and notified University authorities.

The probation will continue for an indefinite time, but no record of it will be made on the student's official transcript, Perkins said. He said office probation is a warning and an expression of confidence in a student's future good conduct.

Postal authorities have requested that collectors limit themselves to 10 or 15 covers.
