

Tickets Now on Sale For Hepbron Talk

Single tickets priced at $1 on the fourth community forum, an address by Dr. James M. Hepbron, noted criminologist, are now on sale at the Student Union desk in Old Main and at Griegg's Pharmacy.

Tickets will also be sold at the door.

Dr. Hepbron will speak at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Schwab Auditorium.

Community vs. Crime

His topic will be "Hail Felon Well Met or Organized Community versus Organized Crime." The topic deals with the picture of organized crime in America.

Dr. Hepbron's appearance will be the next to the last in the current forum series. A bonus speaker for next month has yet to be announced.

On Kefauver Staff

Dr. Hepbron was formerly an instructor in criminology at Johns Hopkins University and is at present a lecturer to the Baltimore Police School. He is also special consultant and administrative assistant to the Senate Crime Investigation Committee, commonly known as the Kefauver Committee.

He has headed the Baltimore Criminal Justice Commission for the last 30 years and is a past president of the National Association of Crime Commission Executives.

Crime Consultant

He has served as consultant to the Pennsylvania State Crime Commission, member of the Attorney General's Conference on Crime, the Maryland Commission of Interstate Compacts and the Maryland Prison Conference.

During World War II he served with the War and Navy Departments.

Dr. Hepbron has studied penal and police procedure in the United States and 17 foreign countries.

Dr. Hepbron will be introduced by Justice of the Peace Guy G. Mills.

2 Resignations, 5 Retirements Are Approved

Resignations of two faculty members have been accepted and five retirements have been approved by the Board of Trustees.

Richard B. Fox, associate professor of architectural engineering, resigned effective Jan. 31 to engage in private practice and Louise M. Rohrbach, extension home economist in Northumberland county, resigned effective Jan. 15 to devote her time to homemaking.

The five faculty members retiring are all men with long terms of service. They include:

Dana K. Merrill, professor of American literature, effective June 30 as professor emeritus of American literature.

Dr. Robert E. Dengler, professor of Greek and head of the department of classical languages, effective June 30 as professor emeritus of Greek.

Dr. Harrison H. Arnold, professor of romance languages, effective June 30 with the rank of professor emeritus of romance languages.

Paul R. Daugherty, professor of Spanish, effective Aug. 31 with the rank of professor emeritus of Spanish.

W. Irmin Galt, county agricultural agent in Cumberland county, effective Feb. 1.

AFROTC Rifle Team Sixth in Competition

The Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps Rifle Team placed sixth among the 235 teams competing for the William Randolph Hearst trophy.

Shooting a target score of 935, the University team was five points below the top score of 940 by the University of Mary-

University students who fired in the competition were David Rupert, Dean Presnall, George Erb, Stanley Schaffer, and Charles Miller.

2 Students Involved in Accidents

Two students were involved in auto accidents yesterday morning. Joseph Krufka, fifth semester industrial arts major and a member of the varsity wrestling team, received a cut nose in an auto accident about 9:45 a.m. yesterday shortly before leaving for the Penn State-Syracuse wrestling meet at Syracuse University scheduled for tonight.

Hits Bread Truck

In another accident, a car operated by Arthur Aumiller, graduate student in education, collided with a bread truck driven by George C. Burwell, Pine Grove Mills, at 10:05 a.m. yesterday at the intersection of Nittany avenue and Pugh street. Burwell received injuries to his left knee.

Although Krufka received a few stitches for his cut, a spokesman for the University Dispensary said that he would be able to participate in the wrestling meet.

Also involved in the accident was Joseph Droege, an employee of the agricultural engineering department, who was driving a College of Agriculture car. Krufka was driving west on Curtin road when his car skidded opposite Irvin Hall and hit the side of Droege's car.

Damage Estimated

Damage was estimated at $300 to Krufka's car and $200 to the car Droege was driving.

Borough police officer O. F. Brown said the Aumiller accident occurred as Aumiller, traveling east on Nittany avenue, failed to stop at the Pugh street intersection and crashed into Burwell's bread truck which was traveling south on Pugh Street.

Burwell was treated at the office of Dr. Harriet M. Harry, located on the corner adjacent to the scene of the accident.

Estimated total damage was $575.

Airmen Devise System To Aid Polio Campaign

Airmen in the department of air science and tactics at the University have devised their own system for supporting the March of Dimes.

A bell, used by the cadets to summon one of the staff to the information desk, has been replaced by the March of Dimes poster and test tube. Instead of ringing the bell, students drop their dimes in the tube.

The first summer session at the University had an enrollment of 146 students.

Duck!

SNOW, which had drivers and shovel-toting fraternity pledges grumbling yesterday, apparently met with no displeasure from Eleanore Oscilowski, first semester business administration major. The snowfall has made driving conditions hazardous according to state police. Today's forecast: very cold.

State Police Call Roads 'Very Bad'

Conditions of roads throughout central and western portions of the state were reported "extremely bad" by officials of the Pennsylvania State Police. Sub-Station at Pleasant Gap last night.

Sgt. George W. Finnin, of the sub-station, said that as early as yesterday afternoon traffic was being held up in Centre County.

Sgt. Finnin added that the expected drop in temperature for last night would probably make conditions worse for today by freezing the slush on the highways.

He also said that he would recommend canceling all unnecessary traveling since the roads today will probably be a sheet of ice.

A cold front, which arrived on campus early yesterday morning ended two days of spring-like weather by ushering in snow and freezing temperatures.

Overnight temperatures fell from a pleasant 58 on Thursday to a high of 38 yesterday. Temperatures last night were forecasted to drop to 10 degrees.

Today's temperatures are expected to range between 22 and 28 degrees, according to the University weather station.

No relief from the freezing temperatures is seen for this weekend.

Players to Present Mayer's Tragedy

How the inhabitants of Newgate Prison in London make their home in a room in their jailer's house is the central theme of Edwin Justin Mayer's "Children of Darkness," which Players will present for six weekends beginning this Friday at Center Stage in the Temporary Union Building.

The "comi-tragedy" is an adaptation of the novel "Jonathan Wild" by Henry Fielding, and was enacted on Broadway during 1930. The action takes place in 1725 in a room of the jailer's house where the prisoners are voluntarily paying money to live.

Broad, Wylie to Star

James Broad, seventh semester arts and letters major, and Ann Wylie, seventh semester education major, have leading roles in the production. The cast also includes Richard Land, Steven Babcock, Carl Held, Emil Haas, James Carroll, and William Taylor.

Jo Ann Palmer is stage manager for the arena-type production and Ruth Fitz is assistant stage manager.

Kelly Yeaton, associate professor of dramatics, is directing the play.

Costume Crew

Roberta Knapp is manager of the costume crew, with Joan Bianchi, Gayle Langhart, Emily Frank, Elsie Ball and Doris Scheck.

Millis Mershon is manager of the makeup crew, with Nancy May as assistant manager and Mary Shower and Cliff Crosby.

John Henderson is house manager, and James Simpson and Frieda Schenkel are manager and assistant manager of the lighting crew.

Malcolm Gable is manager and Morton Bender is assistant manager of the sound crew.

Ruth Kluger is manager of the properties crew. Sherry Kofman is assistant manager, with Jane Mort, Ellen Mifflin and Margaret Fisher.

Suzanne Leib is manager of the advertising crew with Donald Altemus.

Schweitzer Gives Talk

Dr. Paul H. Schweitzer, professor of engineering research, spoke on "Combustion Problems in Present Diesel Engines" before the Williamsport group of the Society of Automotive Engineers, Inc., Monday night in Williamsport.

2 Appointed To Faculty By Trustees

Two temporary faculty appointments have been made by the University Board of Trustees. Vacancies were created when leaves of absence were granted two faculty members to serve on Gov. George M. Leader's cabinet.

The board named Glenn R. Kean, assistant professor of animal husbandry, acting head of the department of animal husbandry until June 30.

It also set up a committee with Dr. William C. Bramble, professor of forestry and head of the department of forest management, as chairman, to direct the affairs of the School of Forestry.

Both Kean and the committee will serve until the end of the semester.

Dr. William L. Henning, who served as head of the department of animal husbandry, became State Secretary of Agriculture and Maurice K. Goddard, director of the School of Forestry, was named Secretary of Forests and Waters.

Kean, a native of Franklin, did his under- and post-graduate work at the University.

Dr. Bramble also did his undergraduate work at the University. His post-graduate work was completed at Yale University.

Outing Club Members To Initiate Activities

The Penn State Outing Club will initiate the semester's activities with iceskating at Beaver Dam tomorrow. Members and other students wishing to attend will meet in back of Old Main at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Supper will be served in the evening at the Forestry Cabin, followed by dancing, according to Bruce Lieske, Outing Club president.

FLOWERS for your VALENTINE

Hearts and flowers "go together" . . . especially on Valentine's Day!

We'll wire your floral Valentine anywhere

Bill McMullen, Florist

122 E. COLLEGE AD 7-4994

HERBERT TAREYTON CIGARETTES

Filter Tip MODERN SIZE

FILTER TIP TAREYTON

Gives You The True Tobacco Taste You've Been Looking For!

PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company