

English Speaks On Game Control

Need for good wildlife management was cited by Dr. Pennoyer F. English, professor of wildlife management, before the Faculty Luncheon Club yesterday.

Dr. English said that numerous laws, predator control (the killing of hawks and other animals considered harmful to game), the establishing of game refuges, as well as game farming, have failed in the attempt to replenish the nation's forests with plentiful wild game.

"Homes" Needed

He recommended the establishing of "homes" for the game.

At present, Dr. English said, game has to be placed in forests a few days before the hunting season opens because if it were placed earlier, it would probably die before the season opened.

There are not enough hedgerows, underbrush and food for the wild game, he declared.

"If we are to provide hunting for everyone, we must go about it differently from the past by doing something about the living habits of the animals," Dr. English said.

Management Provides Homes

"Why bring in animals when there is no place for them to live?" Dr. English asked. "Wildlife management is providing homes for these animals."

To accomplish this end, Dr. English added, sportsmen must become friends of the farmers.

From 1933 to 1935, Dr. English worked with the Michigan Game Commission. He received his doctor's degree from the University of Michigan in 1934.

Jackson to Give Poetry Reading

Faith Jackson, sixth semester arts and letters major, will present a reading of the poetry of James Weldon Johnson at 7:30 tonight in the northeast Atherton lounge.

Miss Jackson has read in several state poetry-reading competitions and was a finalist last year. Included in her readings will be "The Creation," "The Prodigal Son," "Go Down, Death," and "Let My People Go," all from Johnson's "God's Trombone."

The reading is part of the program of the Belles Lettres Club, and is open to the public.

Pollock Council to Meet

Pollock Council will meet at 7 tonight in the council room of Nittany 20.

Robert Dennis, Association of Independent Men President, will address the council. Plans for the coming election will be made.

Clover Club to Hear Purdy

Herman Purdy, instructor of animal husbandry, will speak at a meeting of the Clover Club at 7 tonight in 111 Plant Industry.

AIM, Leonides To Hold Dance During 'Week'

The Association of Independent Men and Leonides will hold an informal spring dance in the Hetzel Union Building ballroom on March 18.

An independent queen will be elected to reign over Independent Week, March 13 to 20, and will preside at the dance.

The queen will be elected by penny voting to be held from March 9 to 16. The money collected in the voting will be donated to charity.

St. Patrick's Day has been chosen for the theme of the dance by dance committee chairmen Loretta Hunter, James McDowell, Ann Moore and Claire Gamin.

Johnny Nicalosi and his orchestra will play for the dance. Tickets will be $2.50 per couple.

The Leonides pamphlet distributed at the beginning of each year is being revised. An attempt is being made to make new freshman women reading the pamphlet next year feel that they are a part of the organization, Joan Packard, Leonides president, said.

Leonides will initiate a new method of voting this semester. Coeds wishing to serve on council will submit petitions which will be screened by the senior executives. After this is completed, a general election to choose representatives will be held.

BA Council to Discuss Convocation Series

A new convocation series on transportation and marketing will be discussed by the Business Administration Council tonight.

Council will also consider the selection of an adviser to replace Dr. Joseph Bradley, associate professor of finance, who has resigned.

Council will meet at 7 p.m. in 108 Willard.

Book Collection Begun by Hillel

Hillel Foundation has initiated a collection of books and periodicals to be sent to the Hebrew Institute of Technology in Haifa, Israel.

The Institute library wants books and periodicals dealing with pure sciences, applied sciences, engineering techniques, and agriculture and economics.

Students and faculty who wish to contribute may take books to the foundation, 224 Locust lane or call the Hillel office, AD 7-2408, for someone to pick them up. Only complete journals will be accepted.

Used Books Asked For County Library

Used books for the Centre County Library and the Bookmobile may be left at the Municipal Building from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday. The book drive is a special project of Zeta Tau Alpha.

Books in reasonably good condition are requested because of the expense necessary if they must be repaired.

Adult books published within the last ten years, magazine issues from 1953 to 1955, and children's books will be accepted.

WRA Dance to Feature Music of Wyand Group

The Sweetheart Ball, an annual dance sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association, will be held from 9 p.m. to midnight Feb. 19 in White Hall.

Tickets are on sale at the Student Union desk in Old Main at $1.75 per couple. The dance, a girl ask-boy affair, will be semi-formal and will feature the music of Al Wyand and his orchestra.

Engineering Council to Meet

The Engineering student council will meet at 7 tonight in 107 Main Engineering.

'Biz-Ad Bulletin' Staff To Meet Tonight

A meeting of the "Biz-Ad Bulletin" staff will be held at 7 tonight in 11 Sparks. Students interested in becoming candidates for the staff may attend.

The newly appointed managers of the newsletter are Nancy Blaha, editor; Jean Krewson, assistant editor; and Herbert Rosenberg, business manager.

SWISS MISS?

Did you know that mountain climbing is coming back? Why of course it is. You must have heard of the rather nervous groups of young men who have been escorted by other groups of not so nervous young men, to some far away mountain road. Once there the latter of the groups challenges the former to find their way back to their respective abodes by any means possible. Sounds like a great game!

Now we think the coeds at P.S.U. should be in step with the men. Although, we do not recommend mountain climbing, we do suggest a substitute. Perhaps, some appropriate footwear for the gals who date these hardy young outdoor men would do the trick.

For example Simon's now has new nylon Swiss Lace shoes by Fiances. Their motto says enough; "Nothing smarter for love or money." Colors: blue and black. Sizes AAAA-B. Only $11.95. You'll be walking in the clouds with your new Swiss Miss's!

MISS MARY DORMAN, Kappa Delta Okay, Joe?

What happened to chivalry? When leaving the studio last night, I saw a poor coed struggling along with two good sized suitcases, apparently having just left the Lewistown bus.

Of the many cars which passed her not a single driver had the goodness to take heed of her plight. And brother, it was really cold last night. O.K., I gave her a lift but that's not the point. It's just a sad commentary to note how many cars passed by this poor kid.

Ever see the S.P.E.'s in formal dress? Can you even imagine them having a sedate party? Well, that's how it was this past Saturday night—if you can visualize it. They even looked like gentlemen. I'll bet that Zafis would have picked that girl up.

Sincerely,
 b.c.
