

Photo Club To Receive Dark Room

By BARBARA BUDNICK

A photographic dark room located in the Hetzel Union Building will be reserved for the use of the newly reorganized Camera Club, Robert S. Beese, assistant in photography and co-adviser to the group, announced at the club's first meeting Tuesday night.

The dark room will be equipped with a new 4" x 5" Omega enlarger and a 35mm Omega enlarger. Also trays, tanks, a print washer, and print drying facilities are being purchased by the University. The dark room will be ready for use next month and will be large enough to accommodate six to eight members at one time.

The Camera Club has been inactive during the past year because the dark room equipment housed in the Pollock Union Building was stolen.

The two advisers, Beese and Roy M. Conger, associate professor of physical education, led a discussion on photographic subjects and color slides were shown by Beese who has won honors in color slide competition.

Plans were made for the next meeting on Tuesday in 241 Rec Hall.

The club is open to anyone interested. However, persons interested in taking pictures, doing dark room technique, or teaching photography to persons new to the hobby are needed, Beese said.
