Mildred McCowan, WRA president, announced that the Ski Club will meet at 4 p.m. daily except Wednesday on Holmes Field. Patricia Farrell sixth semester special recreation education major, will be the instructor.

The WRA Badminton Tournament ended in a tie between Miss Farrell and Mary Hudcovich due to an injury to one of the tourney entries.

The grooves into which the lead of leadpencils is fitted to the wooden case must be made within .0005 of an inch accuracy.

Social Gazette

Center Stage: "Children of Darkness," 8 tonight, Temporary Union Building.
Chapel: 11 a.m. Sunday, Schwab Auditorium.

'Hearts' Theme Set for Ball

Valentines will be used for the theme of the Sweetheart Ball, to be held by the Women's Recreation Association from 9 p.m. to midnight tomorrow in White Hall.

The theme will be carried out with hearts, cupids, and silhouettes. Refreshments of punch and cookies will be served.

The dance has been an annual affair since the building of White Hall in 1938. Proceeds from the dance go to the support of a Polish war orphan, Maria Aftanis. The foster child is 15 years old and has been receiving support from WRA for three years.

Prior to adoption of Maria, the dance funds supported a Dutch girl and a French girl. Each war orphan receives support until she has reached maturity.

Al Wvand's orchestra will provide the music for the semi-formal, girl-ask-boy dance.

Tickets for the dance are on sale at the Student Union desk in Old Main for $1.75 a couple.

Medical College Tests

The next Medical College Admissions Tests will be held on campus May 7. Information bulletins and application blanks are available in 117 Buckhout.

Applications are due at Educational Testing Service, P.O. Box 592, Princeton, N.J., no later than April 23.

THE MAIL BAG

If the spirit should ever move you to write me a letter—and it's always a pleasure to hear from you—take pen and paper and address me c/o Philip Morris, 100 Park Ave., New York 17, N. Y. Or if you don't have any paper, snap open your Snap-Open pack of Philip Morris, remove the fine vintage cigarettes, turn the neat brown wrapper inside out and use it for stationery. The regular size Philip Morris pack is perfect for short notes. For longer letters use the king size pack. For chain letters and petitions, glue several packs together.

This week's column is devoted to a few of the many interesting letters that have been coming in:

SIR:

Maybe you can help me. I came up to college eight years ago. On my very first day I got into a bridge game at the Students Union. I am still in the same bridge game. I have never gone to a class, cracked a book, or paid any tuition. All I do is play bridge.

To explain my long absence and keep the money coming from home, I told a harmless little lie. I said I was in medical school. This made Dad (my father) very proud. It also enabled me to keep playing bridge. We were both terribly happy.

But all good things must come to an end. Mine ended last week when I was home for spring vacation. I arrived to find that Sister (my sister) was in the hospital with an ingrown spleen. Dr. Norbert Sigafos, the eminent ingrown spleen surgeon, was scheduled to operate, but unfortunately he was run over by a hot-food cart on the way to the scrubbing room.

"Oh, never mind," chuckled Dad (my father). "Harlow (me) will fix Sister (my sister)."

Well sir, what could I do? If I told the truth I would make a laughingstock out of Dad (my father) who had been bragging about me all over town. Also I would get yanked out of school which would be a dirty shame just when I am getting to understand the weak club bid.

There was nothing for it but to brazen it out. I got Sister (my sister) apart all right, but I must confess myself completely at a loss as to how to put her back together again. Can you suggest anything? They're getting pretty surly around here.

Harlow Protein

Dear Harlow,

Indeed I do have a solution for you—the solution that has never failed me whenever things close in: Light up a Philip Morris! Knots untie as you puff that rich vintage tobacco. Shade becomes light as you taste that mild fragrant flavor . . . And as you watch the pure white smoke drift lazily upward, you will know that nothing is as bad as it seems, that it is always darkest before the dawn, and that the man worthwhile is the man who can smile!

SIR:

Do you think a girl should kiss a fellow on their first date?
Blanche Carbohydrate

Dear Blanche,

Not unless he is her escort.

SIR:

Here is a rather amusing coincidence that may amuse your readers.

Just off the campus where I go to school there is a lake called Lake Widgiwagan where students from time immemorial have gone fishing. Thirty years ago when my father was an undergraduate here he went fishing one day at Widgiwagan and dropped his Deke pin into the water. Though he dived for it for many weeks, he never recovered it.

Just yesterday—thirty years later, mind you—I went fishing at Widgiwagan. I caught a four pound bass. When I got the fish home and opened it up, what do you think I found inside of it? You guessed it! Two tickets to the Dempsey-Firpo fight.

Fleance Fat

Dear Fleance,

It certainly is a small world.

CENTRE Co. FILM LAB

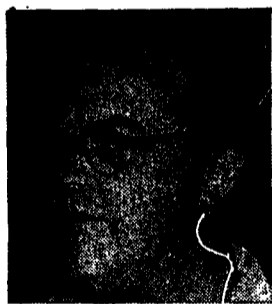

W. Beaver Ave.

State College

Hi Folks,

All you dear common people last time I devoted my time to the advanced amateur, now I'm going to give you box camera devotee's a lesson in color work. First I want you all to know that the fact that you own an inexpensive camera does not make it impossible for you to have a whale of a time in the color field and incidentally also get some really gorgeous color shots every day.

Brownie owners are picking up really lovely color work at The Film Lab, but we realize they are few in comparison to the number of people that pick up their Black and White pictures every day at the Film Lab. Why is it, so many people have not tried or thrilled to their first color pictures yet. There are chiefly two reasons. 1. They feel their inexpensive camera is not good enough. 2. They have been convinced by the impressive talks of the advanced amateur that color would be far too difficult for them. Both are as wrong as rain at a Sunday school picnic. I will list a few simple rules to follow and with them any one can take good color pictures and when you've seen color and Your Color brother and sister you are livin' photographically. If you own a camera of the sight and snap variety there is at this point only one color film you can use. KODACOLOR—DO NOT BUY ANY OTHER NO MATTER WHAT ANY CLERK TELLS YOU. Use Kodacolor only on BRIGHT sunny days for best results and be sure the sunlight is on the subject and coming over your shoulder as you snap the picture. Very bright shade will work, but it must be bright. OUTDOOR Kodacolor can be used indoors with BLUE flash bulbs INDOOR or TUNGESTON Kodacolor can be used with your camera with SM bulbs or AMBER No. 5 or No. 25 bulbs and be sure you are no further than 10 feet from your subject. These cameras use Pen Light Batteries—they do not last long, so please feel free to stop in every 3 months if possible at the film lab to have them checked free. You need all the power you can get for COLOR pictures. The batteries cost just a few cents but the color pictures and flash bulbs you waste, if they are weak, cost dollars. Your friends who own the Kodak Duaflex Anso reflex or Argus 75 can use Ektachrome or Anso color TUNGESTON type with No. 5 or No. 25 AMBER bulbs. Your film is cheaper this way and you can have prints made starting at 29c or 2 for 49c. A roll of Anso Color or Ektachrome will cost just $1.16 for 12 usable Color Transparencies while Kodacolor costs $1.98. Naturally we are limited in a column as to the amount of information we can give. Why not come down to The Film Lab at 122 West Beaver and get the full story. No charge. Be seeing you.
