

Probation Recommended For Dorm Line-Jumper

A second semester business administration major accused of line jumping in the West Dorm dining hall was recommended for judicial probation by the Judicial Board of Review of the Association of Independent Men Wednesday night.

The accused student broke "into" the waiting line with friends a considerable distance ahead of the end of the line," a dean of men's office report said.

When the student was approached by a floor counselor of the West Dorm area he was accused of being defensive and of refusing to move to the end of the line.

The residence hall counselor took the meal ticket number of the student and reported the incident to the dean's office.

In an interview with James W. Dean, assistant to the Dean of Men in charge of independent affairs, the student admitted his actions but stated that others were guilty of the same practice.

The student admitted to the board that he was wrong and said that he didn't realize that anyone could turn in a student for line jumping and that many students were not aware of the consequences of line jumping.

The recommendation of judicial probation to the dean included the stipulation that the student could be called before the board at any time and that a record of the offense would be kept by the board but would not be entered in the dean of men's office.

This recommendation to the dean of men's office may be appealed by the student within five days.

The board said any student can report another student for line jumping.

Self-Nominations Open For FMA Board Posts

Students may nominate themselves for student vacancies on the board of trustees of the Fraternity Marketing Association until March 4.

Ice Skating Rink Will Close Sunday

The University ice-skating rink will close at the end of Sunday night's skating session, Ernest B. McCoy, dean of the College of Physical Education and Athletics, has announced. Only a pronounced cold spell would change the decision.

The prospect of increasingly milder temperatures today, and the drop in patronage because of the wet, warm weather prompted this decision.

The problem of keeping the ice suitable for skating under these conditions has become increasingly great.

Cabinet Rejects--

Bell said that during the Centennial Open House Program, all colleges will hold their open houses on the same day instead of individual days as it previously has been done.

Bell said the funds were needed to send out newsletters and letters of invitation to the open house to all the high schools in the state. He said funds of the college councils cannot fully handle the finances of the program.
