

Parries Nominate--

Lillian Melko, sixth semester education major, was nominated for senior class secretary-treasurer, and William Snyder, fourth semester business administration major, and Thomas Dye, fourth semester labor management major, were nominated for junior class president.

Craig Kaufman, second semester aeronautical engineer, was elected freshman class vice-clique chairman for men, and Doreen Hayward, second semester psychology major, was elected freshman class vice-clique chairman for women.

In sophomore class clique positions, Jeannette Kohl, fourth semester education major, was elected class clique secretary and Michael Enyedy, fourth semester civil engineer, was elected class vice-clique chairman for men.

Robert Spadaro, Lion party clique chairman, appointed Jay Tolson chairman of the membership committee and Robert Tisot, sixth semester electrical engineer, chairman of the finance committee.

The Lion party meeting next Sunday will be at 7 p.m. in Schwab Auditorium, Spadaro announced. The doors will be open from 6:45 until 7:30 p.m., Spadaro said. No students will be admitted after 7:30, he said. Matriculation cards will be checked for the correct stamp or perforation.

Campus Party

Campus party nominated eight students as candidates for All-University, senior, and junior class offices. No nominations were made for senior class secretary-treasurer. Final nominations and election of candidates for the party slate will be held Sunday.

Jack Miller, sixth semester pre-medical major was nominated for senior class president. Miller said yesterday he would decline the nomination at Sunday's meeting. James Culbertson, sixth semester business administration major, was nominated for senior class vice president.

Junior class nominations were Daniel Land, president; Robert Bahrenburg, vice president; and Suzanne Loux, secretary-treasurer.

John McMeekin, clique chairman, appointed five students to committees, completing the allowed number of appointed positions. Robert Schleicher and Robert Stern were appointed to projects committee; Grace DeMartino and Samuel Kahn, platform; and Donald McWilliams, distribution, replacing Joseph Peden.

McMeekin announced the doors to the clique meeting would open at 6:45 p.m. and close promptly at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. Only students who have had their matriculation cards stamped at one of the previous meetings will be allowed to attend the meeting and vote for the party slate.

Henry Sims, a member of Elections Committee, read part of the elections code to the clique. He explained that the cliques would decide among themselves if they wanted the Senior class president to be a fraternity man or an independent.

Previously, the committee decided the office should be held by an independent as the All-University president is to be a fraternity man.

Sims also announced the $25 bond would have to be deposited with the Associated Student Activities a week before elections begin. Sims explained when the party would be fined and when candidates would be docked votes, according to Elections Code stipulation.

The $25 bond is an amendment to the Elections Code and must be approved by All-University Cabinet before effected.
