

IFC Defers Vote On Hell Week Code

Interfraternity Council last night tabled a report from the hell week practices committee which would establish a permanent pre-initiation code for fraternities.

The report was tabled so that representatives could discuss the report in their chapters before voting on it. A vote will be taken at the next meeting, to be held March 23.

The report contained five recommendations:

1. That the IFC establish a standing committee to investigate all complaints arising from pre-initiation practices.

2. That all pre-initiation practices be restricted solely within each fraternity, including "Help Week" projects.

3. That the term "Work Week" be substituted in place of the term "Hell Week" in all written documents.

The term "Work Week" was amended to "Help Week" by IFC.

4. That a minimum of five hours for sleeping and three hours for studying be allotted each day during periods of intensive pre-initiation practices.

5. That resolutions two through four be incorporated into a permanent pre-initiations code to act as a standard for individual fraternities and the standing committee established by the first resolution.

Board to Enforce Code

John Carpenter, IFC president, said this code will be enforced by the IFC Board of Control. He added the board will be given this power in forthcoming amendments to the IFC constitution. At the same time, he appointed Marshall Dawsey, Delta Upsilon, chairman of a committee to present constitutional revisions at the next IFC meeting.

The report of the Hell Week practices committee was drawn up following a survey of present practices in fraternities. Of 52 fraternities questioned 30 replied.

Survey Results

The most common practices based on these 30 replies show that 100 per cent require pledges to do more general housecleaning than usual, that 96 per cent feel Hell Week is necessary and should be continued, that the average length of Hell Week is 5 1/2 days, and that the average number of hours allowed for sleep each day was four hours while the average time allowed for study was three hours.

In other action, Phi Sigma Delta was reinstated to membership in IFC. The fraternity had been dropped after it was not represented at five meetings during the current academic year.

The IFC constitution provides that a house shall be automatically dropped from membership if it is not represented at two consecutive meetings or if it misses five meetings during the course of a year.

A $10 fine is also imposed. Upon payment of this fine, a house may be reinstated by a majority vote of the council.

'Who's in News' Copies Available at SU Desk

Copies of 'Who's in the News at Penn State' are now being distributed at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

Persons whose names are included in the publication may pick up two copies. Each fraternity and sorority may pick up one copy.

Posters Sought for Greek Week

Entries for the Greek Week poster contest are now being accepted, Earl Reinsel and Hedy Grossman, co-chairmen of the poster committee, have announced.

The posters are due at the Student Union desk in Old Main no later than March 16.

The posters are to be built around the Greek Week theme, "Greeks Through the Centennial." They will be displayed in downtown stores to publicize Greek Week which will run from March 28 through April 2.

Trophies will be awarded to the fraternity and sorority which submit the best posters. Entries will be judged by members of the fine arts faculty.

Entries will be judged on the basis of neatness, originality and relation to theme, and simplicity of design.

The name of the contributing group may or may not be included directly in the design, but it must be included somewhere on the poster. The design should also include the Greek Week theme and the dates of the week.

The committee has also asked that posters be limited to two dimensions, and be 12 by 16 inches in size.

Groups submitting posters should specify whether the posters should be returned. Those who wish their posters returned may pick them up at the Student Union desk from April 4 to 6.

Red or Blue-- Which Are You?

What type of blood do you have? Red, blue--note one!

You haven't checked lately? Well, here's your chance.

The Rod and Coccus Club will conduct a blood typing service in 205 Patterson from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Any student may have his blood typed and RH factor determined for 25 cents.

The typing will be conducted by upperclass students of the bacteriology and medical technology department, under the supervision of Dr. Carroll Heist, associate professor of bacteriology.

Norton to Give Reading in Pattee Library

Dr. Paul F. Norton, associate professor of fine arts, will present the Wednesday Reading at 4:15 p.m. tomorrow in 105 Pattee Library.

The reading, which is the fifth in a series, will be open to the public.

Reading from Renaissance literature, Dr. Norton will present selections from the work of Benvenuto Cellini.

Club to Hear Althouse

Dr. Paul Althouse, professor of agricultural and biological chemistry, will speak on "A Student Leaves Flat Land" at a meeting of the Agricultural Economics Club at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Theta Delta Chi.

First President

Judge Frederick Watts of Cumberland County was the first president of the Board of Trustees at the University.

PRINTING
Letterpress - Offset
Commercial
352 E. College Ave.

WHY
haven't you been to
THE
CHUCK
WAGON
?
?
It's not too late!
Low Price
High Quality
Prompt Service
AWAITS YOU

Frank J. Sheed
Centennial Series Speaker

Publisher To Speak At Hillel

Frank J. Sheed, author, lecturer, and New York City publisher, will speak on "The Catholic Intellectual Revival," at 8 tonight at the Hillel Foundation.

Sheed was born in Sydney, Australia in 1897. He earned degrees in arts and law from Sydney University and took first class honors in Latin, French, and English.

He then went to England and met his future wife, Maisie Ward, in the Catholic Evidence Guild in which they were both active. The guilds train speakers for outdoor talks in parks and on street-corners to explain the teachings of the Catholic church. Sheed has delivered more than 3000 street corner and outdoor talks in England and America.

The Sheeds were married in 1926 and founded Sheed and Ward Publishing Company. Their goal has been a book business which might become a medium of expression for the Catholic world. They concentrate on philosophic and religious books.

They publish the works of Cardinal Newman, Alfred Noyes, Belloc, Christopher Dawson, Lucile Hasley, Paul Claudel, Etienne Gilson, Jacques Maritain, and others.

Sheed's own works include Communism and Man, A Map of Life, Nullity of Marriage, Theology and Sanity, Society and Sanity, and Sidelights of the Catholic Revival.

Sheed received the 1944 Christian culture award and the 1948 Catholic literary award for "Theology and Sanity." He and his wife have received the Pope Leo XIII medal for outstanding work in the field of Catholic social education which was awarded in 1951 by the Sheil School of Social Studies. In 1953 they received the Cardinal Newman award.

The lecture is the first of a series of Centennial lectures on religion sponsored by the Committee of 13.

Hurry! Only While Limited Supply Lasts!

GRIGGS PHARMACY
E. College Ave.
Opposite Old Main

University Debators Place In Two Weekend Tournaments

The Women's Debate Team won second place in the Pennsylvania State Tournament at Allegheny, defeating the Men's Debate Team of the University.

The Men's Debate Team tied for first place with Notre Dame at the annual North-South Tournament at West Virginia last weekend.

Twenty-seven colleges and universities were represented in the state tournament. The topic was Resolved: That the United States should extend recognition to the Communist government of China.

Lucinda Manaren and Mary Maum debated the affirmative for the Women's Team. Lee Edwards and Vanessa Johnson took the negative.

In the preliminary round, the affirmative defeated Duquesne University, Juniata College, The University of Pittsburgh women, Temple University, and the University of Pennsylvania. The negative team defeated Allegheny College, Gannon College, Saint Vincent College, and the Men's Debate Team of the University.

Both the negative and affirmative teams defeated Westminster College in the semi-final round. They lost to the University of Pittsburgh in the final round.

The members of the team received silver keys for their victory. Edward Gilkey, instructor in speech, accompanied the team. Miss Manaren took second place in the women's oratory contest.

Sidney Goldblatt and Benjamin Sinclair took the affirmative for the Men's Debate Team in the tournament. They defeated Allegheny College, Duquesne University, and Bucknell University and lost to Gannon College and the Women's Debate Team of the University.

David Meckler and Jonathan Plaut took the negative for the University. They defeated Mount Mercy and Saint Vincent College. They lost to Seton Hill College, the University of Scranton, and Wilkes.

Goldblatt won second place in the oratory contest. Meckler won in the finale.

Dr. Harold J. O'Brien, coach of the Men's Debate Team, accompanied the group. O'Brien is president of the Debating Association of Pennsylvania Colleges, which sponsored the tournament.

In the North-West Tournament, Irwin Weiner and Ernest Famous debated the affirmative for the University. The national topic on the recognition of Communist China was debated. The affirmative team defeated Georgetown, Morris Harvey College, Allegheny College, and the University of North Carolina.

Mark Wiener and Edward Klevens took the negative. They defeated Fairmount College, Concord College, Marietta College, Morris Harvey College, and Marshall.

Famous received a certificate of merit in recognition of outstanding forensic skill.

Dr. Harold Zelko, professor of speech, accompanied the team

Plant Science Club

Dr. Howard A. Cutler, head of the economics department, will speak to the Plant Science Club on "The American Folk Hero—A Symbol of Work," at 7:30 tonight in 111 Plant Industries.

Come to us for your next haircut

DAVIDSON'S
TV BARBER SHOP
THE POST OFFICE FACES US

You Can't Hardly Get This Kind No More!!

Guess George Goebel must have something when he says that. Can't hardly get buffalos no more (nor the nickles that they're in back of . . .) Can't hardly find covered bridges or bearded ladies either.

Some of the good things are still around though. Perhaps Woman's Building and the Armory will do for examples. One more thing that's still around is the good food and fine service you get every time you stop at the Penn State Diner. That's our speciality . . . good food and fast efficient service. Prices might even keep your buffalo nickles from becoming extinct.

PENN STATE DINER
"Stop at the Sign of the Lion"
WEST COLLEGE AVENUE
—Never Closed—