

Constitution Hearing Set By Cabinet

Holm to Give NSA Report

Editorial on Page Four
Discussion will be resumed on the proposed All-University Constitution, and discussion will be held on the National Student Association report at All-University Cabinet meeting at 8 tonight in the board room, Old Main.

The action taken by Cabinet last week is not final as Cabinet cannot vote on the constitution until next week's meeting.

Last week Cabinet took a preliminary vote to remove the clause which would give Cabinet power to rescind any acts of a member group which are deemed detrimental to the good name of the University and the welfare of the student body. Robert Dennis, president of the Association of Independent Men, said he felt the clause would violate another clause which prohibits Cabinet from passing legislation which lies exclusively in the scope of any member organization.

Simes Favors Constitution

Frank J. Simes, dean of men, said yesterday that he was favorably inclined to provision in the new constitution.

He said he felt the rescinding power is a good provision since constituent organizations are a little jealous of prerogatives and somebody has to have check on them.

Realizes NSA Is Weak

Cabinet will also discuss the NSA report to be given by Janice Holm, chairman of the NSA committee. Miss Holm told Cabinet, at a previous meeting, she realized NSA has been weak on campus, but said Cabinet members should decide if they want to put enough work into NSA to make it worthwhile.

Vernon Sones, who was attending the meeting, asked Cabinet to consider dropping NSA altogether. He said the University is too large to benefit from NSA, which is composed largely of smaller schools.

IFC Hears Proposed Constitution

An amended version of the Interfraternity Council constitution was given a preliminary reading at a special meeting of fraternity presidents held Sunday night.

The larger of two major changes in the new constitution involves the establishment of a fraternity affairs office.

The purpose of this office will be to act as a coordinating agency for IFC activities. The office will also maintain IFC records and act as a research center to aid in the preparation of reports.

The office will be staffed by an executive secretary, a junior secretary, and a sophomore secretary. The executive secretary shall be appointed annually by the president with the approval of the junior and sophomore secretaries who have served for at least one semester. The junior and sophomore secretaries will be appointed by the president on the advice of the executive secretary and with the approval of the executive board of IFC.

Executive Secretary a Senior

According to Marshall Dawsey, chairman of the committee in charge of revising the constitution, the executive secretary probably would be a senior.

The new office will be located in the space allocated to IFC in the Hetzel Union Building.

The procedure for appealing a decision of the board of control has also been changed.

In order to appeal a decision of the board, a house must present a petition signed by 51 per cent of the member houses. When this is done, the board will review the case. A further appeal may be made to the floor of IFC. A decision may be reversed by a two-thirds vote of the council.

Appeal Made to IFC Floor

Under the old constitution, appeal was made directly to the floor of IFC.

The new appeal procedure has already been incorporated as part of the new rushing code adopted by IFC last month. It was incorporated into the constitution so that it could apply in all cases instead of just those involving rushing violations.

The new constitution will be presented to the next IFC meeting, March 21. A two-thirds vote is necessary for passage. If it is approved, it must then be submitted to the Senate Committee on Student Welfare before it becomes effective.

Brubeck Set For Friday In Rec Hall

Tickets for the Dave Brubeck jazz concert, to be presented by the Penn State Jazz Club at 9 p.m. tomorrow in Recreation Hall, are on sale at the Hetzel Union desk.

They will also be sold at meetings of the Jazz Club. Tickets are priced at $1.50 general admission and $1 to club members.

Recent Popularity

Brubeck, who has been described by critics as probably the most exciting new jazz artist at work today, has emerged in only a few years from an unknown to one of the top names in jazzdom. In only five years, Brubeck fans have grown from a small, West Coast clique to a coast-to-coast crowd — particularly on college campuses. Last June Brubeck made his first Columbia record, "Jazz Goes to College," which for four months outsold any single album by Liberace.

Last year Brubeck won Down Beat's popularity and critic's poll and Metronome's All-Star Poll. Jazz expert George Avakian, who brought Brubeck to Columbia records wrote that the Brubeck quartette has "a kind of teamwork that is without parallel in the entire field of music."

Widespread Concerts

Brubeck and his quartette have been enthusiastically received in concerts all over the country. They have appeared in Los Angeles' Sardi's, Boston's Storyville, Manhattan's Basin Street and in September presented a concert in Carnegie Hall. On their tour through the Midwest they drew large crowds in Chicago, Milwaukee, and St. Louis.

Americans are beginning to take jazz very seriously. Brubeck, who introduced his own brand of jazz, has had a large part in bringing a new kind of jazz age to the country.

Silversmith Company To Sponsor Contest

The second and third place prizes will be $250 scholarships.

Students interested in entering may obtain complete details from Dianne Lee or Nancy Brebner, student representatives.
