

8 Wrestlers to Enter NCAA's

2-Day Tilt To Be Held At Cornell

By ROY WILLIAMS

Penn State's twice-beaten wrestling team will enter an eight-man squad in the National Collegiate Wrestling Association tournament set to open at Cornell University next weekend. The Lions will leave Thursday for the two-day contest that opens Friday afternoon.

Wrestling coach Charles Speidel said yesterday he will enter the same team that finished second in the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association tourney last weekend when Pitt won its second straight title by edging the Lions, 51-50.

Highlighting the Lions' entry will be the Lions' only EIWA champ, Larry Fornicola, 137-pound Bellefonte senior who has gone undefeated in nine bouts.

Homan at 130

Eastern runners-up Bob Homan and Joe Krufka will be two more men expected to bolster the Lions' attack. Captain Homan, 130 pounder with a 1-1 record in tournaments last year, has notched a 9-2 season card to pull his present totals for his collegiate career to 35-9.

Burly Joe Krufka will work his usual berth of 177 pounds in the Nationals. Krufka held a 4-1 card last year in dual meets, but scored an outstanding 7-2 record in tournaments. This year he has an 8-3 log.

Other entries for the Lions will be Sid Nodland, 123-pound New York state sophomore, with a 9-1-2 card who lost his only bout in the semi-final action of the EIWA tourney to Bill Hulings, Pitt's 1955 champ, and sophomore Dave Adams, 147-pounder from Bellefonte. Adams scored an 8-3 record in his first year as a varsity Lion matman.

Oberly is 8-2-1

In the heavyweight division the Lions will be represented by junior Bill Oberly of Asbury, New Jersey, who won nine of 12 bouts while losing only two and tying one. Oberly copped a third-place rating in the Easterns.

Joe Humphreys will enter the 157-pound class and Ed Pasko has been assigned the 167-pound chores. Both men have had losing seasons. Humphreys, of State College, posted a 1-4-1 record; Pasko, a junior from Philipsburg, was winless in four tries.

Cronstedt to Compete Against Norway Team

Jean Cronstedt, top performer on Penn State's NCAA champion gym team last year, will be a member of the Swedish national team when it meets Norway's team April 2. The star gymnast will also participate in the European championships April 11 at Frankfurt, Germany.

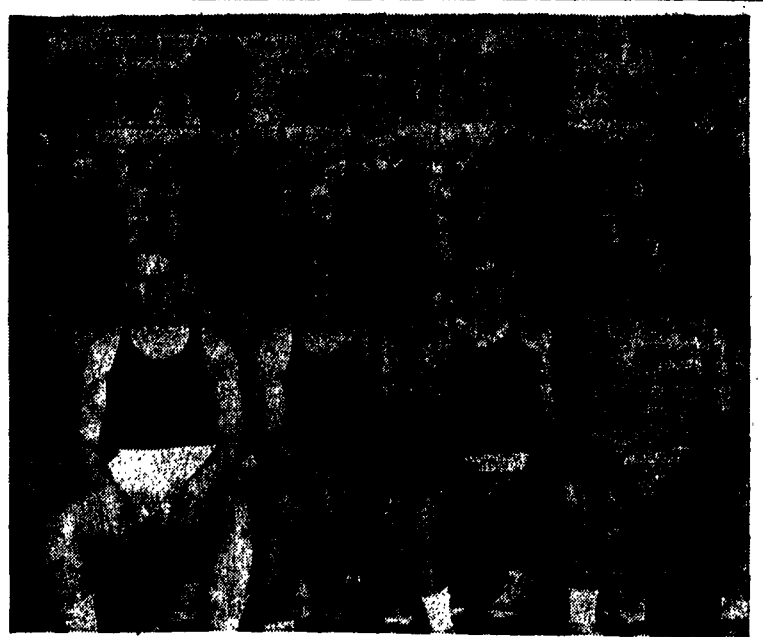

Cronstedt left Penn State, as a junior last year to begin medical studies in Stockholm.

Post War Record Tops

Only three major football teams—Penn State, Kentucky, and Oklahoma—have been without at least one losing campaign in the nine postwar years since 1946. Oklahoma boasts the top record of 77 wins, 10 defeats, 3 ties, followed by Kentucky with 64-25-and-5 and Penn State with 57-21-and-3.

Montreal Cools Following Riot

MONTREAL, March 18 (AP)—Riot-torn Montreal cooled off today as merchants counted damage running into thousands of dollars and National Hockey League officials hoped calm would prevail when the New York Rangers come to town for a game with the Canadiens tomorrow night.

After seven hours of turmoil described as the worst in Montreal since the anti-conscription riots of World War II, some semblance of order was restored early this morning by police.

But the main issue still steamed as hot as ever—the suspension of Maurice (The Rocket) Richard, the idol of the fans and one of Montreal's greatest hockey stars.

Fans, as well as many persons unable to gain admittance to the Forum for last night's game between Montreal and the Detroit Red Wings, were fired to fury at Richard's suspension.

A check of Penn State wrestling records shows that, in 47 years of dual competition, the Lions own four wins for every loss.

NIT Finals Tonight But Stokes Steals Show

NEW YORK, March 18 (AP)—Duquesne's basketball team, which hasn't had to display its best abilities so far, and Dayton, which has been pushed to the limit in both its games, meet tomorrow night in the final of the 18th National Invitation Tournament.

But most of the fans who are expected to fill Madison Square Garden almost to capacity likely will come early to see one of the also-rans.

Duquesne and Dayton, seeded first and second in the tournament, and ranked sixth and ninth, respectively, in The Associated Press national poll. They've met three times this season with Dayton holding a 2-1 edge. Off the records, it should be the best possible final in the 12-team tournament.

Yet all the rave notices so far have gone to Maurice Stokes of little St. Francis College, an unseeded team that came down from the Pennsylvania mountains to battle its way into the semifinals and to carry Dayton into an overtime period before losing, 79-73. St. Francis and Cincinnati, 65-51 loser to Duquesne in the other semi-final, clash in the third place game before tomorrow's final.

Stokes' performance Thursday, when he scored 43 points, grabbed 19 rebounds, played 45 minutes against two much taller men, directed the Frankies' attack, and made a half dozen passes that might have won the game if his teammates had been able to sink the shots, was hailed today as the finest one-man show ever seen in a Garden tournament.

"He was better as an all-around player than George Mikan was when he scored 53 points—an NIT record against Rhode Island State," said Coach Joe Lapchick of the pro Knickerbockers.

Sunbury Seeks Organized Ball

SUNBURY, Pa., March 18 (AP)—The question of bringing organized baseball back to Sunbury after a four-year absence today was put squarely to the people.

"We have the approval of the Piedmont League to buy the franchise of the Colonial Heights-Petersburg club but from here on in it's entirely up to the people of the community," said Allen M. Wolfe, president of the Sunbury Baseball Assn.

Referring to the people's responsibility, Wolfe explained that he wants 2000 advance season tickets at $20 each before he will close the deal.

Directors of the Class B Piedmont League yesterday approved Sunbury for the league franchise.

Hi, Neighbors

Just a brief note this week. We have been rather pressed for time, thanks to a real busy week of running those films you took last Saturday and Sunday. It sure is a pleasure to see all of those Brownies and 35mm cameras out again.

We had a proud father in this week, asking how to take pictures of his new baby through the hospital window and it reminded me that many of you have problems with reflections with your flash photography, so here are a few hints to overcome those glaring windows, mirrors, and glasses on your subjects.

First, try and remember that light has an angle of reflection just like a bouncing ball and if you throw the light straight into the mirror or window pane, it is going to bounce right back into your lens, giving you those nice big white blobs for eyes, or big reflections from any polished surface. Check your subject carefully and if it is a friend or relative wearing glasses have them turn their heads just a bit away from the flash or lower their heads just a bit to keep the light from bouncing back into your lens. Check closely when photographing with flash that your subjects are not standing in front of mirrors or windows. If they are, and there is no alternative but to pose them there, then take the picture at about a 45 degree angle, so the light will bounce away from the lens. I guess that about covers it, but if you want more instructions just drop in. We will be glad to help you. Before I say goodbye for today I would like you all to know that the shipment of Ansco Color we have all been waiting for came in today, so hurry on down. Be seein' you next week. Thanks for listenin'.
