

Cabinet to Air Proposal To Deny Cars to Frosh

A proposal to deny freshmen the right to have cars on campus and the final approval of the new All-University constitution will be brought before All-University Cabinet meeting tonight.

Cabinet will also hear proposals to set up a Joint Student Committee on Town Affairs and a Student-Faculty Board in each College to hear student grievances. Cabinet will meet at 7 p.m. in 203

Hetzl Union.

Robert Hess, Traffic Committee chairman, will present two recommendations to Cabinet. The first will not allow incoming freshmen to have cars on campus. The only exception will be out-of-state students, commuters, and physically handicapped students.

The second proposal is to make Shortlidge road one way from College avenue to Pollock road between midnight and 1:30 a.m. on Friday and Saturday nights. Students driving in from town would return by Pollock road.

Cabinet will meet at 7 tonight in 203 Hetzel Union. Students may attend any Cabinet meeting either through Nittany and Pollock area or through campus.

Final Action on Constitution

Cabinet will take final action on the new Constitution tonight. It was read, discussed, and amended at the last two Cabinet meetings.

Last week a motion was made by Robert Dennis, Association of Independent Men president, to add a clause for impeachment of All-University officers. The motion was defeated.

An amendment was made which will require the All-University president to have a 1.3 average to be eligible for office.

Any changes that have been made to the constitution, or any proposed changes that had been defeated, may be brought up again at tonight's meeting.

New Town Committee

A proposal for a Joint Student Committee on Town Affairs will be brought before Cabinet by Dennis, for the Town Independent Association. The joint com-

Dropping Salaries Agreed by ICCB

By MIKE MOYLE

Members of Intercollege Council Board last night agreed that college council presidents should not receive compensations.

ICCB is composed of the nine presidents of the councils so, if the idea is accepted, members will be, in effect, stripping themselves of compensation.

Presently each council president receives $15, and the president of ICCB gets $25.

The board also discussed the matter of compensation for other campus groups such as the class officers, Tribunal, and Traffic Court.

It was pointed out that students holding positions to which they are appointed by the All-University president or by a class president probably "deserve" the compensation which they receive, especially in the case of Traffic Court, on whose shoulders rests the enforcement of the traffic regulations of the University.

Idea Won't Faze Cabinet

The board decided against bringing any sort of motion or suggestion in front of All-University Cabinet on the compensation question.

The board also pointed out that if it is attempted to strip certain groups of compensation, controversy will arise about which groups' compensation should be cut and which shouldn't.

On March 14, Liberal Arts Student Council passed a motion dropping the compensation of the LA Council president.

The president of the council used to receive a $35 compensation from council as well as $15 from All-University Cabinet.

In further plans for the All-University Open House, to be held April 23, President Donald Bell announced that Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will set up booths at selected spots on campus to aid the persons attending the various activities in connection with the Open House.

2000 Letters Sent

Also, it was announced that hat society members have been asked to wear their hats on April 23 and to aid in the program. Two thousand letters and 1500 campus maps are now ready to be sent out to high schools throughout the state.

Compensations were first approved by All-University Cabinet May 7, 1953 on the vote of Richard Lemyre, then All-University President, after Cabinet had

X-G-I's Give Funds for HUB Books

Books for the reading room in the Hetzel Union Building, for which the X-G-I Club contributed the funds amounting to $1400, will be ready for use by the end of the week, George L. Donovan, director of associated student activities, said yesterday.

The reading room will contain bound, wooden cases with the name of the books on them. The books may be picked up at the Hetzel Union Desk. Not all the books will be ready at this time, but the book service will be available.

Money for the book collection was given by the X-G-I Club in 1948 when they disbanded. At this time they turned over their funds, amounting to about $1400, to the Hetzel Memorial Book Fund under a trusteeship.

The club stated in their letter to James M. Milholland, acting president of the University, "It is the hope of the Club that the books purchased will reflect Dr. Hetzel's great interest in students and that they will be of a type suitable for use on open shelves in a reading room in the permanent Student Union Building."

Since the plans had not been completed for building, the fund was left under a trusteeship composed of R. E. Galbraith, professor of English composition, Donovan, and Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs. If, by June 1, 1953, the location for the books did not seem possible, then the trustee had the power to assign the money to another purpose, "having to do with the welfare of the students."

The money was to be invested for not more than five years before the location was possible.

West Dorm Drawing Set For Today

Drawing for the West Dorm housing for next year will start at 8:30 a.m. today in the Room Assignment Office in Nittany 20, Francis H. Gordon, room assignment officer, said yesterday.

Frank J. Simes, dean of men, James W. Dean, assistant to the dean of men in charge of independent affairs, Otto E. Mueller, director of housing, and representatives from the Association of Independent Men will be present for the drawing.

Gordon said that numbers will be drawn through the last name, and that all the names will be placed on the waiting list. Students will be given room assignments as openings are made.

Gordon announced that they would get the room assignments out as fast as possible, but it would probably not be until the end of April or the first part of May. He added that it is difficult to hand out room assignments as long as applications are still being received.

Some students thought they should be able to witness the drawing for rooms, according to Gordon. He claimed that this is not practical as the Room Assignment Office will not hold many people, so he feels the students will have to be satisfied with their AIM representatives. The office will do its best to serve all the students fairly, Gordon added.

Another registration period for men who cannot meet the scholastic requirements will be held from March 29 through April 8. All students who have a present semester standing of first through seventh semester, and who were not eligible for registration by academic average may pick up application forms at the Room Assignment Office or at the Waring Hall Post Office.

U.S. Should Profit From Yalta, Says Ike

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—President Dwight D. Eisenhower suggested today that there is room to profit from American "mistakes" at the controversial Yalta conference without trying to "just damage reputations."

Eisenhower refused at a news conference to question the motives of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt at the 1945 Crimean meeting with Premier Stalin of Russia and Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Britain.

"Now, in this matter . . . there is nothing, as I can see it," he said, "to be gained by going back 10 years and showing in the light of after-events, that someone may have been wrong, or someone may have been right."

Eisenhower's remarks didn't halt a Republican hunt for political ammunition in the Yalta documents made public last week by the State Department.

Chairman Style Bridges (R-NH) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee indicated he didn't intend to stop the search. "Of course," he said, "we have got to think of the problems of today and tomorrow. The best guide post for the future can be found in looking at the lessons of the past. Yalta was one of the sad lessons of history."

To a question whether he believes the release of the Yalta papers "might cramp styles in future conferences," the President replied: "Well, I would hope not."

On this subject of future conferences aimed at peace, Eisenhower said he believes there have "got to be new exploratory talks" once the European Allies have ratified the Paris agreement to bring a rearmaged Germany into their anti-communist front.

He said at first these talks should be at a level beneath that of the chiefs of state of the United States, Britain, France and Russia. He said he "could make a lot of concessions" to arrange such a conference. He indicated its results would determine whether the Big Four should go on from there to what he called a "meeting at the summit."

ODK Gets Approval Of Senate

Omicron Kappa, local leadership fraternity, received the University stamp of approval yesterday from the Senate Committee on Student Affairs, Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs, has announced.

At the end of a probationary period of one year, the OK society may petition to the national leadership fraternity, Omicron Delta Kappa, for affiliation, Kenworthy said.

The movement to establish an ODK circle at the University was started in September. Twenty-five junior and senior men and members of the faculty and administration were selected to be charter members last week. More men will be tapped before the end of the semester.

Junior and senior men who are scholastically in the upper 35 per cent of the men in their college and who are outstanding in one field of student life, or a leader in two or more fields, are eligible for membership.

They are screened on the basis of character, campus service and leadership, and their adherence to democratic ideals.

The five major fields of student life, according to ODK, are student government, social and religious affairs, scholarship, publications, forensic and applied arts, and athletics.

Dr. Robert Bishop, national secretary of ODK was at the University in February to answer questions about the national organization and to help the organizational committee write a constitution.

Concert Set For Tomorrow

The Earlham College choir will present a concert at the University Baptist Church at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The 34-voice choir from Richmond, Ind., has sung with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra and last year, while on an Eastern tour, presented concerts at the United Nations and Harvard University. The choir is directed by Manfred Blum of Cologne, Germany.

Its repertoire includes works from classical composers Heinrich Schult, Bach, Handel, Beethoven, Palastina, and Montoverde, as well as compositions of Ravel, William Byrd, and Randall Thompson.

No admission will be charged for the concert which will be open to the public.

Greek Sing Prelims Get Underway Tonight

The first round of preliminaries in the Interfraternity Council-Panhellenic Council Sing will get underway at 7:30 tonight in 110 Electrical Engineering.

The second round of preliminaries will be held tomorrow at 7 p.m., also in 110 Electrical Engineering.

Four fraternities and four sororities will be named to compete in the finals at the conclusion of tomorrow night's tryouts.

AIM Elections Code Accepted by Board

The Association of Independent Men Board of Governors voted unanimously last night to accept the amendments and revisions to the first part of the elections code.

According to the revised code, only the president of West Hall (formerly West Dorm) Council will be elected in the spring. The other members of the executive committee will be elected at the second meeting of the council in the fall semester.

This revision was suggested to the elections committee by the West Hall Council. James Kennedy, president of the council, said that it was only fair that the majority of the members of the executive committee should be elected from the incoming freshmen, since West Halls are almost exclusively for freshmen. If all the officers were elected in the spring there would be no freshman representation in the fall, Kennedy added.

The revision further states that the president elected in the spring may appoint, with the advice and consent of the council members, a temporary vice president, secretary, and treasurer to serve until officers are elected.

The board voted unanimously to accept the following changes in the elections code suggested by the executive committee:

1. That the elections committee be composed of a chairman and four members. The chairman shall be appointed by the president of AIM with the advice and consent of the board. The presidents of the four councils each shall submit one name, chosen with the advice and consent of their respective councils, to the president of AIM to be appointed members of the elections committee.

2. That the entire elections code be incorporated in the by-laws of the AIM constitution.

The four councils, Nittany, Pollock, West Halls, and Town, have ratified the revised constitution. It is officially adopted, Robert Dennis, president, announced, and it will be submitted to the Senate Committee on Student Affairs Wednesday for its approval.

The major change was the incorporation of an executive vote (Continued on page eight)
