Feinsilber Will Edit Collegian

Myron Feinsilber, sixth semester journalism major, has been named next year's editor of the Daily Collegian, replacing retiring editor Diehl McKalip.

This year's senior board has also named Norman Miller, sixth semester journalism major, as the new managing editor, replacing Mary Lee Lauffer. Donald Shoemaker, sixth semester journalism major, will replace Feinsilber as city editor. Dorothy Stone, sixth semester home economics major, will replace Nancy Ward as copy editor.

Roy Williams, sixth semester journalism major, will replace Richard McDowell as sports editor. Virginia Hudgins, sixth semester journalism major, will replace Margaret McClain as editorial director.

The board has also named Inez Althouse, sixth semester journalism major, to replace Martha McDonald as society editor. Roger Beidler, sixth semester journalism major, will be the new assistant sports editor, replacing Herm Weiskopf.

Joseph Beau-Seigneur, sixth semester journalism major, will replace Edmund Reiss as feature editor; and Ronald Walker, sixth semester business administration major, will replace Ronald Hoopes as photography editor.

George Mastroianni, fifth semester arts and letters major, has been named news director of campus radio station WDFM by station manager, Ted Bair. Mastroianni replaces Philip Austin, who served both as radio news editor of the Daily Collegian and news director for WDFM. The Daily Collegian will continue to furnish WDFM with local news as it has since the station went on the air, Dec. 6, 1953.

The duties of the new senior board will commence May 3.

Spring Week Entries

Organizations which plan to enter the Spring Week carnival must contact Ross Clark at Sigma Nu by noon today, Clark has announced. Groups which have not done this by noon will be unable to enter the carnival, he said.

Carnival booth applications must be turned in at the Hetzel Union desk by noon, April 16.

Spring Week Parade Blanks

Spring Week parade applications are due at the Hetzel Union desk by noon tomorrow.

Prexy Detained In Washington With Influenza

President Milton S. Eisenhower has been detained in Washington, D.C., by an influenza attack, Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs, announced yesterday.

Kenworthy said the President became ill while in Washington to address a meeting of alumni class agents for the Centennial Alumni Fund drive.

Eisenhower was to have returned to the University Friday with James C. Hagerty, President Dwight D. Eisenhower's press secretary, who spoke at the Pennsylvania Society of Newspaper Editors' press seminar at the Nittany Lion Inn Friday.

Eisenhower will be unable to continue with the tour of alumni class agent meetings, Kenworthy said. Meetings will be held in Pittsburgh today, in Erie tomorrow, and in Buffalo on Thursday.

The President expects to return to the University in a few days, Kenworthy said.

Room Drawing Dates Are Set For Women

Fourth and fifth semester woman students will draw rooms tonight at the dean of women's office, 105 Old Main.

Fifth semester women will draw at 6:30 p.m., and fourth semester women from 7 to 8 p.m.

Fourth semester women with numbers from 1 through 125 will draw at 7 p.m., from 126 through 250 at 7:30 p.m., and from 251 through 350 at 8 p.m.

Fourth semester women with numbers from 351 through 639 will draw at 6:30 p.m. April 14.

All third semester women will draw at 7:15 p.m. April 14.

Second semester women will draw April 19. Women with numbers 1 through 150 will draw at 6:30 p.m., from 151 through 300 at 7 p.m., from 301 through 450 at 7:30 p.m., 451 through 600 at 8 p.m., and from 601 through 755 at 8:30 p.m.

Students who fail to conform to the schedule will have to select rooms after April 19, according to drawing plans. It may be necessary for some to be put on a waiting list.

Hibbs Still 'Critical'

Mrs. Cordelia L. Hibbs, assistant to the dean of women, remains in critical condition in Mercy Hospital, Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Hibbs was taken to the hospital by ambulance on March 22.

Weather May Alter Graduation Plans

Centennial commencement exercises will not be held in the event of "extreme weather conditions," Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs, announced yesterday.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower is scheduled to speak at the outdoor graduation at 10:30 a.m. on June 11 at Beaver Field.

Kenworthy said that the commencement committee, in conjunction with Donald Balthaser, senior class president, decided not to devise alternate indoor commencement exercise if inclement weather prevails.

In the past, if the weather was poor, commencement was held in two sections in Recreation Hall with half the graduates receiving their degrees in the morning and half in the

Rock Slows Infirmary Excavation

Excavation on the southwest unit of the two new wings which are being added to the University Hospital has been temporarily slowed down because of rock encountered while digging the foundation.

Workmen are using jack-hammers and other power tools on the layer of rock which is approximately 20 feet below the surface of the ground. At the same time, a power shovel is continuing to enlarge the foundation.

Foundation Extends

The foundation extends from the corner of the Infirmary nearest the Hetzel Union Building, west along Pollock road and then turns on a 90 degree angle and extends toward the Temporary Union Building. Plans show that the unit will be 50 feet wide and 130 feet long.

The only other construction which has been done is the leveling of the land in back of the hospital and in the northeast corner. Another wing, which will be 38 feet wide and 123 feet long, will be constructed at the northeast corner of the hospital. Excavation has not yet been started on this unit.

Both wings will be three floors high and will be built of red bricks to match the style of the present structure. Both will have flat roofs.

Facilities Incorporated

The unit now under construction will incorporate the facilities now offered at the dispensary in the basement of Old Main. It will be used primarily as an outpatient department. The main floor will include seven treatment rooms, consultation rooms, a pharmacy, inoculation room, records office and desk, waiting room and foyer, and the office of the University afternoon. This necessitated the speaker presenting his address twice.

If poor weather prevails, Kenworthy said, the basic graduation program will be heard by radio broadcast from a closed location.

Kenworthy emphasized that a light shower or threatening weather would probably not necessitate canceling the ceremonies.

He said the commencement committee and probably the secret service attaches to the President would decide whether the ceremonies would be conducted if the weather is poor.

Baccalaureate Service will be held at 2:30 p.m. June 10 in

Weather conditions for June 11 look none too promising, according to the Farmers' Almanac. The famous weather prognosticators of the Almanac have penned this ditty concerning the weather period in which June 11 falls:

*Warms a bit
Until more showers hit
These good days its true
Will cause no hullabaloo
Wise fellers will carry umbrellas.*

Schwab Auditorium with Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower as the speaker. Class Day ceremonies will be at 7:30 p.m. June 10 in Schwab.

Baccalaureate and Class Day exercise will be open to the public. Admission to the commencement will be by ticket only.

The following seating plan has been set up for commencements:

- 1) Candidates for degrees will occupy 2000 reserved seats.
- 2) Each candidate for a degree may secure a maximum of six unreserved tickets to the east or west stands. These tickets will be available when caps and gowns are picked up.
- 3) Those faculty members in the academic procession will sit in a reserved section on the field and

AA Election Outcome Still Pending

No action has been taken on the results of last week's Athletic Association election, Ronald Weidenhammer, AA president, said yesterday.

Weidenhammer said he has scheduled a conference with Harold R. Gilbert, assistant director of athletics, for today.

The results of the election were not released because women reportedly voted in the election. Under the AA constitution, only men are eligible to vote.

Weidenhammer said Thursday night it may be necessary to hold another election. He said he would confer with Gilbert before a final decision is reached.

However, Gilbert attended the National Collegiate Boxing Championships at Idaho State College last week and just returned to campus yesterday.

The reason some women voted in the election was because the equipment necessary to jam the voting machines to restrict voting was not available, according to Ernest Famous, All-University Elections Committee chairman. Weidenhammer said last night that no figures were available on how many women had voted in the election.

He did say, however, that most of the illegal voting took place the first day of elections.

Candidates for AA president are Robert Hoffman, Douglas Moorhead, and William Straub. Ian Springer is the only candidate for AA secretary.

Churchill's Career May End Tonight

LONDON, April 4 (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill played host to Queen Elizabeth tonight at what was generally believed to be his farewell party as Britain's prime minister.

Other guests among the 50 invited to 10 Downing St. included members of Churchill's family, his closest personal friends, the top members of his government, officials of Parliament and leaders of the opposition Labor party.

The guest list gave added weight to the belief the 80-year-old statesman was winding up his last full day as head of the British government.

Britons expect that late tomorrow afternoon Churchill will make another call on his queen at Buckingham Palace to hand in his resignation. As he rides away from the palace and down the Mall along St. James' Park, his car will most likely pass that of his successor, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, en route to the palace to be formally designated prime minister.

Crowds sensing the drama of the passing of the great Churchill epoch stood in Downing St. on a warm spring day to watch the comings and goings. Some American servicemen were among the throngs.

It is the biggest story of the year for Britain but there are no London newspapers to tell it. The papers have been strike-bound for 11 days.

Early reports were that Churchill would vary this routine tomorrow and go to the palace directly after the Cabinet meeting. It was learned tonight, however, that the Queen is scheduled to be away on an official visit to the Isle of Grain in the Thames Estuary. There also is a possibility Churchill will delay his visit until Wednesday.

There will be no official news of Churchill's intentions until after he tells the Queen.

Eden will select the election date. He could wait until the official end of the government's term—October 1956—but the lobbies of Parliament buzzed with reports that May 26 will be the polling day.

Vacation Data Released

The big question on campus now is: "Since the weather was so nice for the big weekend just past, will Penn State students be fortunate enough to have nice weather for traveling today and tomorrow?"

According to the University weather station, the answer is no. It is supposed to begin raining at about 6 tonight and continue for 2 or 3 days, weather station officials said.

So, amid rain and fog spring recess will officially begin at the dot of 11:50 tomorrow with the end of classes and will end at 1:10 p.m. Wednesday April 13.

Dorm Food

The last chance to taste dorm food for a week will be during supper tomorrow night. The next meal will be served at noon April 13.

Student radio station WDFM will broadcast for the last time before vacation at 10:30 tonight. There will be no issue of The Daily Collegian tomorrow. The next issue will be on Thursday, April 14.

Main Library

The main library will remain open during the vacation, but the hours will not be the regular ones. It will be open from 7:50 to 5 p.m. tomorrow, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursday and Friday, and from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday. It will be closed on Sunday, will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, and from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. April 13.

The Hetzel Union Building will remain open during the day during recess; however, University officials did not disclose the exact hours. The Lion's Den will be closed after lunch tomorrow except for breakfast which will be served from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m. daily. On Easter Sunday it will be served from 9 to 10:30 a.m.

Terrace Room

The Terrace Room will be open for lunch from 11:45 to 1 p.m. and for dinner from 5 to 6:30 p.m. It will resume its regular schedule on April 13.

After vacation is over and students have been back for two days there will be a musical review presented by the Penn State Club. It will be at 8 p.m. April 15 in Schwab Auditorium and the performers will be those who appeared in the All-University talent show this year.

No Bus Strike Effects

The threatened strike of the AFL bus drivers union against the Atlantic Greyhound Corporation will not affect the operation of Greyhound buses leaving from the borough depot, D. W. Maxey, manager of the Greyhound Post House, said yesterday.

Maxey explained that Greyhound buses servicing State College are under the direction of the Pennsylvania Greyhound Cor-
