

Uppman Will Sing At Final Concert

Theodor Uppman, baritone, will present a program of both popular and classical music in the final concert of the Community Concert Series at 8:30 tonight in Schwab Auditorium.

Uppman will be assisted by Edwin McDonnell at the piano. Uppman will open the program with "I Pray for Thee" (Christoph Strattner), "By a Limpid Stream" from Handel's "Water Music," arranged by S. R. Gaines; and "Aria-Ladies, That's the Way You Flirt" from Mozart's "Cosi fan tutte."

"A Chloris (To Chloris)" by Hahn; "Phidyle" by Duparc, and "Chanson epique" and "Chanson a boire" from "Don Quichotte a Dulcinea" by Ravel compose the second part of the program.

Prior to the intermission, Uppman will sing the arias, "Eri tu (Is it You)" from "Masked Ball" by Verdi.

Piano Selections

Piano selections by McDonnell will include a "Rhapsody in G Minor" by Brahms; "The Sunken Cathedral" by Debussy; and "The Miller's Dance" by de Falla.

Uppman will then sing "Colorado Trail," arranged by Celius Dougherty; "Buffalo Gals," arranged by Ernst Bacon; "Lonesome Songs of the Plains," by David W. Gunion; and "Charlie Rutledge" by Charles Ives.

The program will be concluded with "Silent Noon" by Ralph Vaughn Williams; "Nancy Hanks" by Katherine K. Davis; "The Courtship of Old Joe Clark" arranged by George Kleinsinger; "Did You Ever Cross Over to Snedon's" by Alec Wilder; and "It Ain't Necessarily So" from "Porgy and Bess" by George Gershwin.

Native Californian

Uppman, who was born in California, won a scholarship to study at Curtis Institute in Philadelphia. He also studied music and drama at Stanford University where he starred in several musical productions.

When in the army during World War II, he was accepted as a member of the first all-GI entertainment units in France, and sang throughout France and Germany.

After the war, Uppman was selected for the role of Pelleas in a concert version of Debussy's "Pelleas and Melisande," with the San Francisco Orchestra. A year later he appeared in a complete performance of the opera at the New York City Opera.

Won Auditions

In 1947 he won the Atwater Kent Auditions and the Gainsborough Foundation Award.

Uppman has appeared in recitals throughout the country as soloist with symphony orchestras, and in operetta and musical comedy. In musical shows on the west coast he was starred in "Ballet Ballads," "Suzanna and the Elders," and "The Eccentricities of Davy Crockett." In New York he appeared in the musical comedy "Courtin' Time." He made his Town Hall recital debut in New York in 1951.

24 Midshipmen Visit Academy During Vacation

Twenty-four midshipmen of the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps unit at the University visited the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., for three days during the Easter recess.

Accompanied by Lt. (jg) Charles H. Langton and Lt. Eugene J. Feldhausen, assistant professor of naval science, the group arrived at the academy Wednesday night and completed its visit Saturday morning.

Each of the midshipmen was assigned to a Naval Academy midshipman host to live with during the visit. The Middies attended classes with the host, and visited historical and traditional displays and buildings on the Naval Academy grounds. In addition, one day was spent at sea on training craft provided by the academy.

The purpose of the trip was to provide an opportunity for midshipmen from the Naval Academy and the NROTC, to become better acquainted and to learn something about the type of training that is provided for midshipmen.

The visit was sponsored by the Quarterdeck Society, midshipman honorary society.

Department Plans Language Project

As an exploratory project, the department of romance languages will offer instruction in elementary French and Spanish to a limited number of elementary school students this spring.

This project, beginning today and continuing for the rest of the semester, is limited to boys and girls nine and 10 years old. If successful, the project will be continued, according to Dr. Franklin B. Krauss, head of the department of romance languages.

"This is not a new idea," Dr. Krauss explained, "but one that has been used at many other schools."

Hibbs Reported Better

Mrs. Cordelia L. Hibbs, assistant to the dean of women, has been reported to be in somewhat improved condition at Mercy Hospital, Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Hibbs was taken to the hospital on March 22 and was reported in critical condition until last week.

Alpha Phi Omega to Hold Dance

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will sponsor a square dance from 8 to 11 p.m. tomorrow at the Forestry Cabin. The dance will be open to brothers, pledges, and their guests. Refreshments will be served.

U.S. Presidents who have died in office are Garfield, McKinley, Lincoln, Harrison, Taylor, Harding and Roosevelt.

Navy Students To Participate In Cruises

Fifty-five University freshmen and juniors in the Navy Reserve Officers Training Corps program will begin an eight-week summer cruise July 10 aboard United States Navy ships.

Capt. Rowland H. Groff, professor of naval science, said that Cruise Baker, as the Navy identifies it, will enable more than 1700 NROTC midshipmen from 29 colleges and universities to gain practical experience in seamanship, navigation, gunnery, communications, and other subjects covered in naval science classes.

The first period of the cruise, which will include, among other ships, the battleship Wisconsin, and destroyer escorts Huse, Peterson, Brough, and Sturtevant, will visit ports in Scotland and Norway. The second phase, beginning Aug. 4, will visit Denmark and Sweden.

A second six-weeks Caribbean cruise, designated Charlie, will stop at Colon, Canal Zone, and Havana Club. Aboard ships in this cruise will be 26 University NROTC juniors.

In addition to the afloat cruises, 45 University NROTC sophomores will engage in six weeks summer training at Corpus Christi, Texas, and Little Creek, Va.

Debate Team To Compete

The Men's Debate Team will attend the Dickinson Tournament at Carlisle tomorrow. Eighteen teams will take part in the debate.

The national topic "Resolved: That the United States should recognize the Communist government of China," will be debated. Taking the affirmative for the University are Robert Adams, second semester labor-management major; and Thomas Hollander, second semester arts and letters major.

John Palutis, fourth semester business administration major, and David Scott, fourth semester agricultural economics major, will debate the negative.

Edward Gilkey, assistant professor of speech, will accompany the team.

Musical Review Tickets Available

Tickets are on sale for the Penn State Club's Musical Review, which will be presented at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

Participating in the show will be seven of the performers who appeared in the All-University talent show. Most of these students have appeared on television or radio and all have had a background of stage experience.

The show includes: Marvin Trimas, saxophonist; Joan MacKenzie, vocalist; Frank Fillipp, baritone; Carolyn O'Donnell, vocalist; Zigmund Bogucki, accordionist; James Brown, pantomimist; and Howard Rowlands, bass-baritone.

This is the second event which the Penn State Club has sponsored this semester.

Tickets are 50 cents and are on sale at the corner of the Mall and Pollock road.

Spotlighting Kappa Delta

By JUDY HARKISON

Kappa Delta was the first national sorority to adopt a philanthropy of aiding underprivileged children, by supporting the Crippled Children's Hospital in Richmond, Va. The sorority also presents a $1000 award yearly for research in orthopedics to the doctor who has done outstanding work in the field, and $6000 annually to the orthopedics hospital.

Kappa Delta was established at the University in 1942 as the Beta Theta chapter. Nationally, it was founded at Longwood College, Farmville, Va., on October 23, 1897. There are 86 chapters on American college campuses.

Work at Games

True to the motto, the sisters are "striving for that which is honorable, beautiful, and highest." During football season, they serve refreshments at the games to veterans from Altoona Hospital.

This year the pledges conducted a free baby sitting service for families living in the vicinity of the campus. During the Christmas season the sorority sells seals to each member to raise money for the hospital fund.

Claiming another sorority "first," Kappa Delta was the first to be admitted to National Panhellenic by petition.

On the local campus, the chapter's local quartette copped second place in the Junior Talent show. Barbara Woodward, past president, was recording secretary of Panhellenic Council this year.

Model Pledge Award

A model pledge is selected and the pledge with the highest average is honored at the annual White Rose Dance. The scholastic average of the 46 members is 1.97.

Officers of Kappa Delta are Judith Corfield, president; Sally Rhodes, vice president; Donna Springer, secretary; Lois Baer treasurer; and Pat Baer, editor. Miss Dorothy Alski is adviser.

Women's Chorus to Rehearse
Women's Chorus will rehearse at 7 tonight in 200 Carnegie.

Co-Edits

Kappa Sigma has recently pledged Charles Berkley and Edward Elmo. The new committee chairmen of the fraternity are Robert Clancy, rushing; Howard Whiteside, alumni; Stephen Wynan, Spring Week; Robert Spadaro and Kenneth Outwater, historians.

The newly elected officers of Alpha Omicron Pi are Patricia McLaughlin, president; Ann Greene, vice president; Diane Edelman, standards chairman; Merion Lafferty, corresponding secretary; Joan Flebotte, recording secretary; Patricia Jones, treasurer; Margie Hopp, rushing chairman; and Dolores Hepler, social chairman.

Engagements

Sturdevant-Gillespie

Mr. and Mrs. David Gillespie of Tollesboro, Ky., announce the engagement of their daughter Alethea, to Mr. Robert Sturdevant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sturdevant of Ulster.

Miss Gillespie received her B.S. degree in home economics from the University of Kentucky and a M.S. degree in nutrition from the University of Iowa. She is a member of the University Food Service staff.

Mr. Sturdevant is a sixth semester agricultural education major. He is All-University vice president and chairman of the All-University Foods Committee.

An August wedding is planned.
