

AIM Board Asks Probation for Five

A recommendation that five students be placed on disciplinary probation for drinking in the dormitories was submitted to the Dean of Men's office last night by the Association of Independent Men Judicial Board of Review.

Four other students were given office probation for having the beer in their room.

Officers To Hold Daily Hours

All-University officers will have daily office hours, and 24 students will be appointed to Cabinet committees Thursday night, Earl Seely, All-University president announced last night.

At least two of the three All-University officers will have office hours from 1 to 2 p.m. daily in the All-University Cabinet office in 204 Hetzel Union Building. Students may make appointments or just drop in and talk over campus problems with the officers, Seely said.

Appointments Possible

Seely also said that students who have classes at that time may make special appointments to see the officers.

"I feel the class officers will set up their own office hours in the very near future," Seely said.

Twenty-four students will be appointed by Seely at the close of Cabinet meeting Thursday night.

To be appointed to student-encampment committee are Richard Seng, Sanford Lichtenstein, Hugh Cline, and Ann Lederman. Peter Kiefer was appointed chairman in March.

Five Students Named

Five students will be appointed to the newly formed Joint Committee on Town Affairs. They are Robert Sturdevant from Student Government Association; Ray Rubner, from Association of Independent Men; Dan Weider, from Town Independent Men; Jane Gutteron, from Women's Student Government Association; and John Russell, from Interfraternity Council.

Robert McMillan will be appointed chairman of the Registration Committee. The committee will look into seniors' problems under the present registration system. Also to be appointed to the committee are Robert Bahrenburg, Samuel Wolcott, and Arthur Schraivesande.

Roger Beidler will be appointed chairman of the Elections Committee.

Eugene Wethers will be appointed senior member of Traffic Court. Junior and sophomore independent and fraternity appointments to the court are also expected to be made.

Elizabeth Krabel will be named chairman of the Dean of Men's Coffee Hour Committee.

Town Men to Vote On Delegate to NISA

Town Independent Men will vote on whether or not to send a delegate to National Independent Students Association at their meeting at 7:30 tonight in 103 Willard.

Plans for the annual TIM picnic at Greenwood Furnace will be discussed.

All Parties Will Have New Heads

State party elected Donald Buckee, sixth semester electrical engineering major, clique chairman Sunday night and the other two parties laid plans for election of new clique officers.

Both Jack McMeekin, Campus party chairman, and Robert Spadaro, Lion party chairman, announced plans to retire from active roles in campus politics before the month is over.

McMeekin said yesterday he will resign at a clique meeting at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Earlier, Robert Spadaro told the Lion party steering committee that he is not in the running for the chairmanship for next year.

The party's clique officers will be elected Sunday at an open meeting at 7 p.m. in 10 Sparks.

Spadaro said last night the meeting would be open to all students, not just members of the party.

Thirty-five students attended the State party meeting.

Other clique officers elected were Robert Nurock, second semester arts and letters major, vice-clique chairman; and Geri Naugle, second semester arts and letters major, secretary.

Barbara L. Woodward, sixth semester home economics major, was elected secretariat, and Roger Vogelsinger, sixth semester business administration major, was elected clique secretary.

'Ugly' Contest Entry Deadline Is Extended

Deadline for Ugly Man contest entries has been extended until 5 p.m. today, John Brunner, contest chairman, has announced.

Entries should be submitted at the Hetzel Union desk with $1 entry fee. Pictures will be taken from 7 to 11:30 tonight in 203 Hetzel Union. Candidates unable to have their pictures taken at this time may contact Brunner.

The contest, sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will be held May 4 to 6. The following points will be given toward Spring Week: 20 for the entry, 25 for a finalist, and 100 for the winner.

The contest again will be limited to graduating seniors. Voting will be conducted with a penny-a-vote system at a booth on the Mall.

The Ugly Man parade will take place May 3 and will start at 6:15 p.m. Each entrant may have a maximum of four cars representing him.

The first case concerned two second, one fourth, and one first semester students accused of drinking beer in the dormitories and causing excessive noise and breaking a window.

The students were drinking beer at Whipples Dam, a State park which forbids alcoholic beverages to be taken on its grounds, at 9 p.m. on April 16. They returned to the dormitories and continued drinking until the early morning hours.

The window was broken by one of the students as he tapped on it in order to awaken one of his friends in the next room. Besides the broken window, the students broke a bottle of beer in the room and caused that section of the hall to be in poor condition.

The other disciplinary case recommended was for a second semester student accused of attempting to take a pizza pie from a truck in front of the dormitory.

The student was out drinking and became inebriated. On returning to his room he noticed the truck parked outside and opened the door of it and picked up the pizza pie. But as he was closing the truck doors he was caught by the driver, who asked for his matriculation card. After giving the driver the card the student apparently became frightened and ran away.

He was called into the Dean of Men's office for a consultation. He admitted drinking too much and said that he just wanted to show off. Besides the probation the board also recommended that a letter be sent home to his parents.

In the final drinking case, one student brought two quarts of beer from his home and invited his friends over to his room for a party.

The dormitory counselor caught them drinking and turned them over to the dean of men. The board recommended office probation, which carries with it consultations with the dean at regular intervals.

Disciplinary probation restricts a student from taking part in any extra-curricular activities.

Low on Funds? Jobs Available

The Student Employment Service has more jobs than job-seekers.

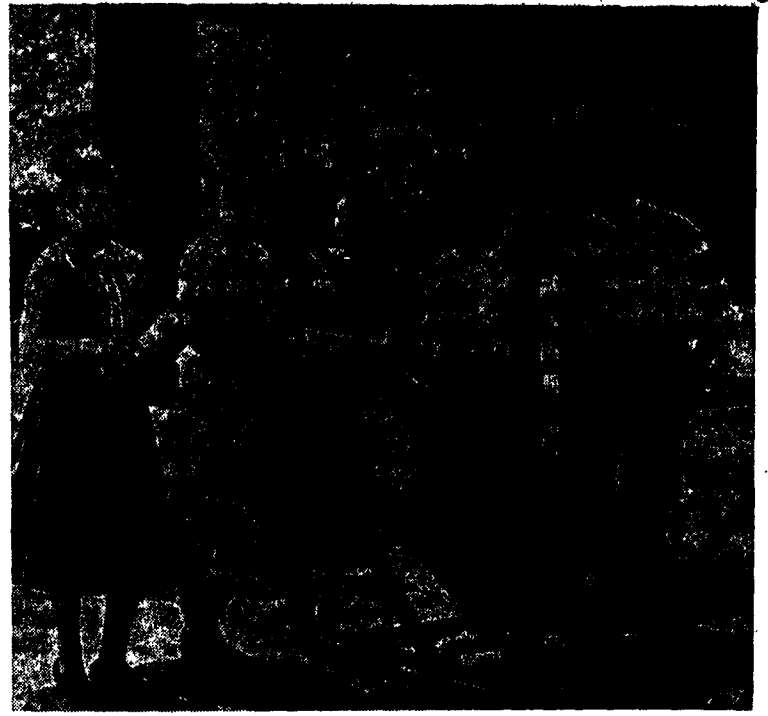

Requests for students to do mostly outdoor odd jobs have swamped the service, John J. Huber, director, has reported.

Requests are mainly for men students willing to garden, cut grass, dig, cut hedges, and rake leaves. Applicants may apply in person at the service, 112 Old Main.

Applicants should have a free morning or afternoon available or may work on Saturday afternoons, Huber said.

Jobs at 200 camps in 18 states for students who want summer employment are still available, Huber said. Information may be secured at the placement office.

12 Colleges to Participate In Seventh Reading Festival

Twelve of the 80 colleges which received invitations will send delegates to the seventh annual Reading Festival to be held at the University Thursday and Friday.

The festival is under the direction of Harriet Nesbitt and William Hamilton, assistant professors of speech, who originated the reading festival idea seven years ago.

The readings will not be judged. Participants may read from one of three categories. The categories are poetry, prose, and drama. A time limit of 10 to 12 minutes is set for each reading with the entire reading section running approximately two hours. The festival will be held in the Mineral Science Auditorium.

Three students from each college may participate in the two-day event. The University will be represented by Elizabeth Jones, sixth semester arts and letters major, in the poetry division; Helene Slaboski, sixth semester arts and letters major, in the short story division; and Ferne Stone, fourth semester arts and letters major, in the drama division.

Registration for delegates will take place in the Hetzel Union Building. A banquet will be held Thursday night at the Nittany Lion Inn. James Demcheck, ninth semester arts and letters major, will be toastmaster for the banquet and Dr. Robert T. Oliver, head of the speech department, will address the group. Phillip Wein, sixth semester arts and letters major, will provide special entertainment.

Colleges to be represented are Geneva College, Indiana State Teachers College, Westminster College, St. Francis College, Slippery Rock State Teachers College, Juniata College, University of Pittsburgh, Temple University, Ogotz Center, Dickinson College, Seton Hill College, and the University.
