By ROY WILLIAMS

Penn State's 18-man entry in the 61st annual running of the Penn Relays which will open to-day for a two-day stand at Phila-delphia's Franklin Field received a' severe blow yesterday when ace sprinters Art Pollard and Jack Morin were placed on the injured list for the weekend's ac-

The absence of Pollard and Morin will definitely pinch the Lions' previously bright outlook for front-running results in the quarter, half, mile, and sprint medley relay events. Pollard and Morin were to have worked the quarter, half, mile, and and Morin were to have worked the quarter, half, mile, and sprint medley races with Pollard also running the 100. No Penn State entry will be made in the relay's century race.

The shuttle hurdle relay team of Gary Seybert, Bob Young, Bill Youkers, and Rod Perry—each running a 120-yard leg in that order—is expected to be one of the Lions' top prospects.

The Pollard-Morin loss caused considerable juggling in the line-up for five Penn State entries in relay events. In the quarter-mile relay Bruce Austin, Dave Leathem, Harry Mitchell, and Skip Slocum will get the call. In the quarter-mile relay Slocum, Austin, Leathem and Mitchell will represent the Lions. The preliminaries in each race will be run Friday with the finals on Saturday.

Erwin—'55 Sparkplug

Erwin, the outstanding sparkplug of the team this year, was well on his way to a new lacrosse scoring record of 25 goals. Al Fulton, all-American last year, set the record with 24 goals. Erwin had scored his 13 goals against the roughest opponents the Lion faces this year. He would have had six more games to set the record against average teams.

Hamel, runnerup to Fulton last year with 23 goals, did not repeat his past performances but was still a dangerous scoring threat.
