Penn State's 'Ugliest Men' Provide Laughs in Gala Parade

By MARGIE BLANK

The ugliest of the ugly were out in full force last night as the Ugly Men made their annual parade through the streets of State College. Every dog has its day, and yesterday belonged to the ugly men.

Thousands of people turned out to see the gala event, characterized by blaring horns, shouting students, and ugly, ugly men.

Blackmail Attempts By Fake Officer Have Subsided

No further blackmail attempts by a fake Campus Patrol officer have been reported to Campus Patrol, Capt. Phillip A. Mark of Campus Patrol said yesterday.

Recently, Mark had received phone calls from women students complaining about a man who posed as a patrolman, took the names and addresses of couples parked on University grounds at night, and then called the women and threatened blackmail.

"Evidently, he knows we're wise to him," Mark said, "or maybe he just works on weekends."

Mark issued a warning in Tuesday's Daily Collegian, urging couples to ignore any one posing as a patrolman who is not in uniform. If an officer is not in uniform, he has no official authority, Mark said.

Forecast for Today

Partly cloudy and continued warm with scattered light showers is the forecast for today, according to the University department of meteorology.

The low temperature is expected to be 50-55 degrees, and the high near 75.

Work on Memorial Chapel Will Start After May 12

Construction on the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Memorial Chapel will start as soon after May 12 as possible, Walter H. Wiegand, director of the physical plant, said yesterday. Wiegand said the construction bids will be opened May 12, and work on the chapel will begin as soon after that as arrangements can be made.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower will lay the cornerstone for the all-faith chapel on Commencement Day, June 11, the same day he is to address the graduating Class of 1955.

Folk Festival To Be Held At Rec Hall

A folk festival will be held in connection with the eighth annual Recreation Conference at 8 tonight in Recreation Hall.

The program of square dancing, polkas, waltzes, and folk dances is open to students and faculty. Admission will be free.

Instructions will be given in the basic forms of folk dancing, Harold White Jr., general chairman, said today. There will be several demonstrations, including the New Bavarian Schuhplattler dance team.

Area callers will take turns calling the sets of square and folk dances.

Discussion will be held on plans for State parks during the three day conference which begins today and runs through Sunday. Maurice K. Goddard, State secretary of forests and waters, will be the principal speaker at this session.

Discussions on swimming pools, youth centers, creative games and activities for children, and other subjects, as well as exhibits are included on the program.

The exhibits are representing commercial, civil, and private recreation. This exhibit will be open this afternoon through Friday.

Frosh Applications Available for Delphi

Second and third semester freshman men may submit letters of application for Delphi, newly organized sophomore men's hat society, at the Hetzel Union desk by noon Friday.

Letters should include the name, All-University average (1.0 is required), semester, and student activities. Letters should be addressed to Robert Segal, president of Delphi.

The Georgian-style chapel will be built in Hort Woods near Curtin Road. A large chapel will be constructed to one side of a reflecting pool, with a smaller meditation chapel on the other side of the pool. A two-story structure will connect the two.

Meditation Chapel First
The first unit to be constructed is the meditation chapel, which will seat 120 persons. It will provide facilities for private devotion, weddings, and other smaller religious services.

The main chapel will provide facilities for approximately 2000 persons, with a choir loft which will accommodate 100 persons. The meditation chapel also will have a smaller choir loft.

The connecting two-story unit will serve other purposes. The ground floor will house the chaplain's office, space for clerical help, and a social room. The second floor will contain smaller rooms for religious counseling.

Chapel Dedicated
The chapel was dedicated to the memory of the late Helen Eakin Eisenhower, wife of Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the University, at groundbreaking ceremonies on February 22.

Dr. Eisenhower has said that he hopes the chapel will serve as an aid to education through religion.

"Education," he has said, "is the maturing of each human being, socially, spiritually, and physically."

Financed by Gifts
Construction is to be financed by gifts and contributions. To date, more than $250,000 has been donated.

The 1954 Alumni Fund, conducted by the Penn State Foundation, has been pledged $134,000 by alumni of the University. The Interfraternity Council has pledged two pews to the chapel in memory of Mrs. Eisenhower.

Plans for the chapel have been under consideration for more than a year. Several styles of architecture, including modern, were considered before the Georgian style was approved.

Schwenzfeier Named Head Of Tribunal

Karl Schwenzfeier, seventh semester physical education major, was named chairman of Tribunal, men's judicial court, by a committee of four members Monday night.

Dean Belt, sixth semester animal husbandry major, was named secretary, and Louis Adler, sixth semester arts and letters major, and George Mauler, sixth semester pre-medical major, were named senior members. Juniors named were: James Musser, fourth semester mechanical engineering major; Daniel Land, fourth semester industrial engineering major; and Jay Tolson and Robert Segal, fourth semester business administration majors. William Joyce, fourth semester chemical engineering major, was named first junior alternate.

Composing the committee were Ross Clark, Tribunal chairman; Otto Hetzel, Tribunal secretary; Dean of Men Frank J. Simes, and All-University President Earl Seely.

The appointments must be approved by All-University Cabinet before they are final, Clark said.

Outstanding Ed Senior To Be Selected in May

An outstanding senior in the College of Education will be selected at the Student Council banquet May 17, Chuck Witmer, council president, said last night.

Students and faculty may nominate seniors. The nomination blanks may be picked up at the Hetzel Union desk and should be returned no later than May 17.

AIM Board to Meet Tonight

The Association of Independent Men's Board of Review will meet at 7:30 tonight in 212 Hetzel Union.

12 He-Man Finalists Selected In Preliminary Skill Contests

Twelve finalists were chosen in the He-Man Contest preliminaries Sunday afternoon from approximately 30 entrants.

The contestants did push-ups, basketball foul shots, and ran a race to prove their athletic ability. They were awarded points on their ability in the skill tests, and the 12 with the highest number of points were chosen as finalists, Harry McBurney, Spring Week publicity chairman, announced.

U.S. Plans Aid To Asian Allies

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—The administration was disclosed today to be planning to give nearly a billion dollars worth of new military aid to Korea, Indochina and the Chinese on Formosa.

Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Senate majority leader, revealed the figures following a White House conference which he described as "helpful and hopeful."

President Dwight D. Eisenhower and other administration leaders talked for an hour and 40 minutes with 29 key Congress members, in a prelude to congressional consideration of the President's 3½ billion foreign aid program.

The bill carries $1,717,000,000 for military aid funds, $712,500,000 for economic aid and another billion for defense support payments to free countries around the world.

It had been previously disclosed about two-thirds of the total would be set aside for Asiatic countries. However, there has been no breakdown, prior to the partial one Senator Johnson reported today.

Johnson said the administration plans to give $452 million in military aid to Korea. The next largest slices of military aid would be $417½ million for Indochina including South Viet Nam and $99 million for the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa.

All the money in the bill would be for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which will take up the bill Thursday, told reporters: "There is no question but that it will get through—in what form, I don't know."

Johnson said there was no question but that "some changes will be made."
